RED LAKE FALLS ELEVEN DEFEATS PROWLERS 6 TO 0

Succeed in Ending Locals' Winning Streak in Season Opener

Playing without the services of their plunging back, LaRue Anderson, and with some of their inexperienced players suffering from opening-game jitters, the Prowlers last Friday night lost a close 6 to 0 game to an all-veteran Red Lake Falls eleven. The defeat snapped a nine-game Prowler winning streak, for not since 1938 had the locals been beaten.

The game followed the pattern of all early season contests, with loose blocking, unsteadiness on defense, and lack of timing on offense. But with a team of experienced players, Red Lake Falls was able to sustain their attack better than the Prowlers, and able to take advantage of defensive lapses of the locals.

Red Lake Falls had a scoring chance in the first period, when, after recovering a fumble, they drove down to the Prowler goal line, but a fourth down pass fell incomplete in the end zone. In the second period, led by fullback Don Richards and halfback Dan Linnihan, Red Lake Falls, running many of their plays from a modified punt formation carried the ball deep into Prowler territory, and on a drive through the line, Linnihan went over from the eight yard line for the game's only counter.

While the Prowlers showed to better advantage in the third and fourth quarters, outplaying Red Lake Falls in the final period, they were not able to set up any scoring plays, being held to midfield during much of the time.

Orrin Peterson, playing at tackle, was the outstanding Prowler; while Richards and Linnihan were particularly effective for the Red Lake Falls eleven.

The Prowlers journey to Crookston tomorrow night where they meet the Pirates in a conference game.

Northern Minny League President Thanks Fans for Support Past Season

G. A. Krueger of Plummer, president of the Northern Minnesota baseball league, this week issued the following statement thanking players, managers and fans for their support during the past season:

"Now that the schedule of the Northern Minnesota baseball league has been brought to a close and the flag winner determined, permit me to sincerely thank all the players for their gentlemanly behavior, while giving their all on the field during the season, the several managers for their 100% co-operation and the "fans" of our territory for their excellent support of the several teams of the league, thereby making it possible to place our league on the map of amateur baseball in the state, and bringing to a close the most successful season enjoyed by the league since its inception.

"Remember the league has an entrant in the tournament of the State Association of Amateur Baseball leagues, and the above 100% co-operation of players, managers and fans will be greatly appreciated.

Midsummer Brand of Weather Prevails in Local Area This Week

Midsummer weather, with the mercury ranging up around the 85-degree mark each afternoon, has prevailed this week locally, and, in the absence of killing frosts, flowers are still blooming profusely in local gardens. Rain fell Monday evening, bringing .57 inch of precipitation, according to the power house rain gauge. The rain was accompanied by a small amount of hail and a lightning display, one of the bolts burning out electrical connections in the E. M. Bennes home, no fire resulting, however.

PLUMMER EASILY DEFEATS KELLIHER IN REGIONAL TILT

Scores 11-1 Victory; Goes on to State Event in Shakopee

Playing in the first round of the state amateur baseball tournament at Shakopee late Wednesday morning, the Plummer team scored a thrilling 5 to 4 victory over Moose Lake, the two teams being respectively champions of the third and first regions. Sahl and Benson did the hurling. Further details of the tournament will be published in the Times next week.

From the opening inning when Plummer 'batted around', and on 2 hits, a sacrifice, 1 bases on balls, 2 passed balls, and 3 stolen bases, to score 4 runs, the Red Sox had an easy time in defeating a listless Kelliher team in the third region finale played at Plummer last Sunday.

Plummer gathered in 7 more runs during the remaining innings, to bring their total to 11, while Louie Benson was hurling a strong game to scatter Kelliher's 9 hits, and allow them only 1 run. The final score was 11 to 1.

The victory gave the Plummer team the right to represent this region in the state tournament being held this week in Shakopee.

SPORTS Tid-Bits

By Heck Olson

Only a Rumor

A report emanating from Crookston to the effect that Jimmy Reid, former member of the local hockey club, had died in a Winnipeg hospital following an operation, is without much foundation. Local friends of Jimmy's visited with him in Winnipeg a couple of weeks ago, and at that time he was as quick and nimble as ever.

Not So Much of an Upset

That 6 to 0 defeat Red Lake Falls tagged on the Prowlers last Friday night wasn't so much of an upset. Red Munson brought an all-veteran Red Lake Falls team up here, and in early season games these experienced players give quite an advantage to a team. Of course, the Prowlers played the game without Andy Anderson in their backfield, and in a game as close as last Friday's a player of Andy's caliber could easily have made the difference between a win and a loss. Andy was ineligible for Friday's game because of some irregularities in his school attendance; but he will be ready for the game with the Crookston Pirates tomorrow night.

The Prowlers had a roughhouse scrimmage last Monday night, with the first and second teams going through a full-time game. The first string eked out a 13 to 12 win over the second string, scoring their markers with an aerial attack. The seconds, with Andy Anderson and Bill LaFave in their backfield, hammered through the line and slanted off the ends for consistent gains.

Yes, Coach Lindenmeyer will have quite a job in molding a football team out of this year's material, but he's coming along; and in another couple of weeks the Prowlers will be playing football. They may not win their games, but they will be playing football.

Louie Didn't Go Hungry

I was pretty much wrong in my statement last week that Louie Benson paid his own board and room while he was at Crookston 'trying out' for the Pirates. That was furnished by the Pirates. The Pirates in their baseball outfits may have looked like a drum and bugle corp in a Hobo Day parade, but they were still able to feed and sleep their ball players. So with Louie it was a case of board, room, and no try-out.

Local Boys in College Football

A number of Thief River boys are playing college football, among them being Milt Nesse, captain of the St. Olaf eleven, Gordy Caldis in the backfield at North Dakota; Bob Hanson, back at center for Gustavus Adolphus; Pomeroy Hill running at halfback for the North Dakota Aggies; and Lefty Bredeson and Cliff Lunke, who are on the Bemidji State Teachers squad.

Bowling

The City Bowling Association, with 28 teams in three leagues, is about ready to begin its season's bowling on the Minj alleys. According to present plans the City league will be a straightaway league, no handicaps, just actual p[illegible] [illegible] two leagues, a commercial league and business league, will be on a handicap basis. The Land O'Lakes team has presented a problem to the league officials, because they want an additional handicap. You see they have Walt Larson in their lineup.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

Puppet Theatre

Approximately 150 enthusiastic puppet fans witnessed the show put on last Thursday afternoon in the area theatre. "Sleeping Beauty" was the main performance supported by two shorts, "The Gingerbread Boy" and a musical number. Those assisting Camille Dostal, recreation leader, with the show were Lucille Thomas, Eileen Grinde, Wanda Mae Biersgaard, Jeanette Grinde, Jane Hunt, Kenton Mullen, Robert Granum, Abigail Thomas, Shirley Scott and Jean Effinger.

This week's show, also Thursday afternoon in the area will present Snowwhite, Rose Red and Playmates. Everyone is welcome to see these shows without charge, and all are invited to take an active part in the project.

Craft Shop

An additional leader has been placed in the shop so as to service a larger group of patrons. Both leaders have different abilities, thus enabling participants to choose from a greater variety of wood-construction work. Lawn ornaments, bird houses, bows and arrows, model airplanes, small game boards and many other very interesting articles are now being made in the shop. Other persons are repairing old furniture, some are making new pieces of furniture. Here again, everyone is welcome. There is no charge and there is room for many more participants. Soon a schedule of hours will be published so that classes of different age groups can be handled separately.

Tindolph and East Side Parks

Activity at Tindolph is now at a minimum with the best swimming weather out of the way. All equipment will be moved from the pool today, as will the equipment from the park adjacent to the pool. Life guards also go off duty today. Over at East side activities are the same as during the summer, except for the touchball games.

Funeral Services Held Sunday Afternoon for Late Frank B. Curtice

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon from the Erickson & Lund Funeral Home for Frank B. Curtice, retired railway conductor, who passed away at his home Wednesday afternoon, September 11, at the age of 69. The Elks lodge had charge of the services, which were read by Rev. S. S. Olafsson. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Curtice was born March 26, 1871 in Wyoming, Minn., and was married June 30, 1896 at Wauwaukee, Wisc. He moved from Wyoming to Chicago, Ill., in 1876, and later lived at Steven's Point, Wis., Gladstone, Mich., Des Moines, Ia., Enderlin, N. D., and came here to Thief River Falls in 1928, living here since.

He started working on the railroad at the age of 16, and worked until 1923 on the following roads: Wisconsin Central, Chicago-Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Louis, Soo Line and The Dan Patch. He retired in 1923.

Mr. Curtice was a charter member of the B. P. O. E., local Elks Lodge. He was also a member of the Order of Railway Conductors, and was secretary of this order for the last 12 years.

He leaves to mourn him his wife, Mrs. Mary Curtice, and 1 sister, Mrs. Jennie Lytle of Northfield. His parents and one brother preceded him in death.

CRIPPLED CHILD CLINIC SET FOR CROOKSTON OCT. 5

Children from Pennington, Other Counties Eligible to Attend

With the holding of a clinic for crippled children on October 5 at the high school in Crookston, that city assumes its place among fifteen other centers in Minnesota, where similar clinics are held annually. Heretofore, the clinic for this district was alternated between Thief River Falls and Crookston.

The retaining of both towns as clinic centers was made to accommodate the expanding program of the Bureau for Crippled Children, which conducts the clinics. The change will affect those crippled children in Polk county who will now go only to Crookston for their examinations.

The Thief River Falls clinic will be held in the spring. Children examined there this year should return to Thief River Falls at the clinic next spring unless specifically asked to report to the Crookston clinic. Other counties in this district include Red Lake, Pennington, Roseau, Marshall and Kittson.

Eligibility depends upon the following requirements: the crippled child must be under 21, whose parents or guardians are unable to provide private orthopedic care. New cases should bring with them a letter of referral from their family physician.

The last clinic for crippled children held in Crookston took place May 13, 1939, at which time 138 children were examined. Examining physicians are outstanding orthopedic specialists. Co-operating with the Bureau in the conducting of the clinic is the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation of the State Department of Education, the staff of Gillette State Hospital for Crippled children, and the Minnesota Public Health Association.

Letter to Local Woman Lauds Spirit of British in Face of Nazi Attack

In a letter received this week by Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Sr., from a cousin living in Cornwall, England, the writer praises the spirit shown by her fellow countrymen in the face of the Nazi onslaught on Britain, and says there is no apparent shortage of foodstuffs.

"There is a certain amount of nerve strain", she writes, "but no one is downhearted, and it is really wonderful to watch the really marvelous way in which our whole empire has risen to protect our land. Everyone helps, old and young.

"There is no shortage of foods, we have plenty. We are rationed as to tea, sugar and butter, but the rations allowed are more than most people use."

Employment Office Here Adds to Its Facilities

C. H. Sjolander, local office manager of the division of employment and security, has recently received for use in the Thief River Falls offices copies of the new Dictionary of Occupational Titles. This dictionary is a monumental work, representing several years of scientific, painstaking, research by labor and employment service experts, during which every job, both large and small, has been analyzed and described. The dictionary defines 17,452 separate jobs. It is felt that, with the aid of this new tool in the hands of employment service personnel throughout the nation, the service will be much better equipped to serve the public in its business of "matching jobs and men".

HARVEST FESTIVAL WAS A BIG SUCCESS

The third annual Harvest Festival held here Saturday was a decided success in every way and the large crowd was amply repaid for its attendance in way of entertainment suitable for all ages. The activities opened early in the afternoon with the sports events which consisted of a running race for girls from eight to twelve years, first place won by Kathleen Nygaard and second place by Jeanette Blaine; a running race for boys from 8 to 12 years, with first place won by Wesley Leigh and second place by Donald Bucholz; a race for all comers, first place won by Thomas Knutson Jr., and second place by Sidney Fladeland of Thief River Falls; the men's suitcase race won by Arthur Sorby and second place won by Stephen Brattell. The winners of the races all received cash prizes as did Mrs. Elmer Blaine and Mrs. Henry Holte, who won first and second place respectively in the ladies' nail driving contest. The greased pole climbing contest was won by Duane Stenberg, who climbed to the top of the pole and secured the one-dollar bill which was placed there.

Following these sports events a long and worthwhile parade followed which was led by the Greenbush band under the direction of O. J. Pederson and followed by various floats and other interesting displays which advertised local places of business as well as other organizations. The prize for the most beautiful float was awarded to the Grygla Cooperative Company whose float was one of unusual beauty and testified to a great deal of painstaking labor in its construction. The hayrack occupied by a group of North Star Farmers' Clubbers, enacting a scene from the typical domestic pioneer life in this area was awarded the well deserved prize for the most comical float. Another interesting feature of the parade was the appearance of the WDAY radio stars, who later performed at the program.

The parade was followed by an excellent program of speeches and various entertainment at the B. N. W. Hall with Clarence Doran acting as master of ceremonies. The Greenbush band opened the "show" with several selections after which the audience sang "America", led by F. A. Brown, who also, in behalf of Grygla and its mayor, gave a speech of welcome. Rolf Lunde then read his declamation "The Mysterious Pup" which won first prize in its class at the Marshall County declamatory contest last spring. This was followed by brief talks by county agents Hejerson and Taylor of Marshall and Beltrami counties, respectively. The next number on the program was a comedy act by Selma Solley of Erskine in the character of "Ole the Swede" singing several Swedish songs and playing her own guitar accompaniment. This talented young woman has appeared in a great many amateur contests in different parts of the United States and has won the last thirty consecutive contests in which she competed. The main address of the day was then given by W. E. Dahlquist, Editor of the Times, after which the members of the clothing projects of the Benville Brigadiers 4-H Club presented their style review featuring the prize-winning costume, fashioned and modeled by Helen Rasmusson, 4-H Club Style Queen at the Beltrami County Fair. The closing portion of the program was presented by four radio favorites from WDAY. "Ken Kennedy", program director of the "Haybalt Jamboree" first introduced the much listened to Texas Rangers, who thrilled the attentive audience with several songs after which Jean of the act "The Four Jacks and Jean" sang several songs. Later in the program "Tex" and Jean blended their voices in vocal harmony for some additional songs. "Tekla," that able comedienne with the Scandinavian brogue, gave three readings entitled "At the Ball Game", "Tadea And" and "At the Beach", which kept the audience applauding for more. At the close of the program, Ken Kennedy appeared in his very hilarious role of "Ole Anderson the Commentator".

The ball game played between Gatzke and Grygla was won by the latter with a score of six to two. Unfortunately the Jackson Shows which had been engaged for the day were unable to come; however, adequate entertainment was provided for the [illegible] merry-go-round. The tug-of-war between the north and [illegible] was won by the north.

Although the exhibits were [illegible] as numerous as in previous years, they were of very good quality and there were many blue ribbons as well as red awarded the different displays.

The close of a big day came with the dance in the evening, where tickets were sold to approximately seven hundred people, who enjoyed dancing to the music of Olaf Bolsum and his band of KFJM.

Notice! There will be a meeting at the school auditorium on Friday evening, September 27, for the purpose of planning the annual school carnival; all district members are invited to attend and a good representation is expected.

EMPLOYMENT AND WAGES IN STATE REVEAL INCREASE

State Division of Employment Cites Statistics for Past 2 Years

Betterment of Minnesota's employment situation is reflected by an increase in the number of workers as well as a greater total of wages paid, statistics compiled by the division of employment and security showed this week.

The total number of wage-earners subject to the unemployment compensation law on June 15, 1938 was slightly more than 484,000, and jumped to 497,000 a year later. Comparable employment on June 15, 1940 was 502,000, the division reported.

Wages paid during the first quarter of 1940 were approximately 10 per cent more than for the same period in 1938, reports of subject employers showed. For the first quarter of 1938 wages amounted to $107,313,000, and for the similar period in 1940 the total was $120,133,000.

In addition the employment and security office has reported an estimated $40,000,000 increase in payrolls throughout the state for 1939 over 1938. Employers subject to the division actually reported $465,595,074 wages paid in 1938 and $497,862 in 1939, an increase of $32,267,757, but careful analysis is basis for an estimate that uncovered wages increased to the extent of an additional round figure of $8,000,000.

Vending Produce on Roadsides Is Banned as Peril to Traffic

Several accidents have been reported recently as a result of traffic congestion and parking on the roadway caused by vendors of fruits, vegetables, and produce attempting to sell their wares on the shoulders of highways.

Pointing out that the use of any part of the trunk highway right-of-way for vending or display of wares is illegal and that the placing of baskets of produce on the shoulders of the highway, where they induce the prospective purchasers to stop their cars on the highway proper, is particularly hazardous, M. J. Hoffman, state highway commissioner, has asked Elden Rowe, chief of the highway patrol, to instruct patrolmen to put a stop to the practice and to contact local peace officers and traffic patrols to secure their cooperation in eliminating this danger.

The most flagrant offenses reported have occurred on T. H. 7, just west of the city limits of Minneapolis, but similar violations have been reported as contributing causes to accidents in other localities, chiefly on the outskirts of sizeable municipalities.

Still popular at Pragelato in Piedmont is the Italian folk dance known as the "Danza del bacio" or the "kissing dance." Easement Agreement

THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into the 3rd day of September, 1940, between the United States of America, acting by and through the Secretary of Agriculture, (hereinafter called the "Government"), and the County of Pennington, a municipal corporation of the State of Minnesota, (hereinafter called the "County"),

WITNESSETH: In consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth, and in further consideration of the benefits accruing to the Government from the maintenance of the highway by the County, at the Thief River Falls Farm Project of the Farm Security Administration, the Government does hereby grant unto the County the right, privilege, and authority to construct, maintain, inspect, repair, patrol, widen and extend a highway on a strip of land owned by the Government in Section Twenty-eight (28), Township One Hundred Fifty-three (153) North, Range Forty-three (43) West, Pennington County, Minnesota, more specifically described as follows:

Beginning at a point 33 feet east and 298 feet south of the northwest corner of the NW¼ of the NE¼, said section, thence Northerly along the arc of a quadrant, the center of which is 298 feet East and 298 feet South of said corner and the radius of which is 255 feet, to a point 33 feet south and 298 feet East of the said corner, thence west 255 feet, thence south 255 feet to the point of beginning, containing 0.342 acres, more or less, together with the right of ingress, egress and regress to and from the said lands for the purpose of repairing, inspecting, patrolling, widening and extending said highway and maintaining and caring for same. The route of the easement herein granted is shown on the map attached hereto, entitled "Plat of Easement", and hereby made a part of this agreement.

The County agrees to construct, maintain, widen, [illegible] repair and patrol the highway in a good and workmanlike manner, and to save the Government, its tenants and assigns, harmless from any damage, loss, cost or expense arising from the construction, maintenance, widening, inspection, repairing and patrolling of the highway. The highway shall be so located, constructed, operated and maintained by the County as not to interfere in any manner with the development of the above described lands by the Government, its tenants or assigns.

It is mutually understood and agreed that all existing fences within or upon the above described land will be moved to the new right of way line by the County and that all existing buildings and structures, other than fences, may remain where now standing unless and until in the opinion of the Board of County Commissioners, they are required to be moved, in which case, and at which time, they will be moved a reasonable distance outside of the easement limits without any expense to the government.

It is mutually understood and agreed that this agreement shall convey no fee simple estate to the County, and that the rights, privileges and authority granted herein shall be subject to any easements, rights of way, or other rights upon, over, across, or under said lands now outstanding in third persons. It is further mutually understood and agreed that this easement shall in no manner limit the right of the Government, its tenants and assigns, to grant additional rights of way of any kind whatsoever across and upon the lands hereinbefore described so long as the same shall not interfere with the rights and privileges herein granted to the County, and that the Government [illegible] to use said lands for any of their own purposes, so long as such use does not interfere with the rights and privileges herein granted to the county.

It is understood and agreed that the rights and privileges herein granted are primarily for the purpose of enabling the county to construct, maintain, repair, inspect, patrol, widen and extend the highway, and that such rights and privileges shall continue in effect only so long as said purposes are carried out by the County. [illegible]

The government reserves the right to assign any or all of its rights [illegible] under the terms of this agreement without the consent of the county. [illegible]

No member of, or Delegate to, Congress, or Resident Commissioner shall be admitted to any share or part of this agreement, or to any benefit which may arise therefrom.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have caused this agreement to be executed in duplicate as of the date first above written.

Petition of Residents and taxpayers of Wyandotte Township with designation of the County Aid Road extending four miles north and south between Sections 1 and 2, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, 23 and 24, Wyandotte Township was ordered filed pending investigation by the Board.

The committee appointed by the board on August 7, 1940, consisting of Commissioners Race, Roy and Mulry, to examine the proposed route of County Aid Road No. 8 at the point where the same intersects with Pennington County State Aid Road No. 8 in the Northwest corner of the NW¼ of Section 13, Township One Hundred and fifty-two (152), Range 41, the proposed road to be established being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point Thirty-three (33) feet South and One Hundred Ninety-nine (199) feet east of the Northwest corner of Section Thirteen (13), Township 152, Range 41; thence west one hundred sixty-six (166) feet, thence south one hundred sixty-six (166) feet; thence northeasterly on the arc of a twenty-nine (29) degree curve to the point of beginning. Containing 0.2 acres.

And the undersigned having met at the appointed place and hour on the 29th day of August, 1940, and having made an inspection of the proposed road and the damage to the real estate across which said proposed road is to be established, hereby make the following report:

1. That the construction as proposed in said Petition is feasible and to the best interests of the traveling public of Pennington County in that it will remove a blind corner at the point where said roads intersect, through the acquisition of additional right of way which can be cleared of brush, and permitting the widening of the curve where said road intersects with Pennington County State Aid Road No. 8.
2. That the only damage to the real estate across which said proposed road is laid out is the value of the land acquired; that the acquisition will require an additional two-tenths (2-10) of an acre and that this committee hereby places the damages of said land so acquired at Twenty ($20.00) dollars.
3. That your committee recommends the establishment and construction of said proposed road.

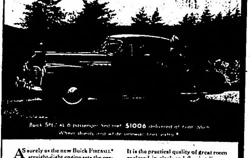
Silhouette for 1941



BUICK SPECIAL 6-passenger Sedanet $1006 delivered at Flint, Mich.

AS surely as the new Buick FIREBALL straight-eight engine sets the performance pace for the coming season, the graceful silhouette of the new Buick SPECIAL and CENTURY cuts the automotive style pattern for another half decade.

The reason is not alone the grace of its Buick-created lines, nor the appearance of solid substance in action that gives this heavy the look of a speedster straining at its leash.

It is the practical quality of great room enclosed in sleek and flowing lines—more room for legs, for elbows, for heads, more room for entrance and more room for carrying luggage—that makes this the silhouette the cars of the future will seek to achieve.

Why wait for that—when in this Buick you travel in a car that, like time and tide, obviously isn't waiting for any man?

Buick prices begin at $935 for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich.

Dear friends:

If you have given the matter any thought, you are conscious of great improvements in the funeral directing profession. They have come because the public has wanted them.

To be perfectly frank, we could accomplish our essential service without the modern conveniences and equipment we now provide. But would you want that type of service? We are very sure you would not.

The public would never consent to a return to old methods.

Respectfully,

Carl B. Larson

State Farm Population Is Stable, Survey Shows

Minnesota's farm population is growing slightly, according to estimates in rural population trends based on a survey recently completed for 1939. People still move to town, but many of them return to the farm.

Minnesota's farm population increased by approximately 1,600 during 1939, according to the division of rural sociology of the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment Station, University Farm, and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture. Total farm population now stands at 911,100. These estimates are based on reports from farmers in 12 Minnesota counties.

While 20,000 births were recorded in comparison with 6,900 deaths in rural Minnesota, the large increase was off-set by farm folks who moved to town. The survey shows that 23,000 people moved to cities, towns and villages, and 16,000 went from towns and cities back to the farm.

Ose Bros. Low Bidder on State Highway Project

Low bids on five state trunk highway and six secondary road improvement projects in eight counties, totaling a quarter of a million dollars, were announced today by M. J. Hoffman, state highway commissioner. Included was the bid of Ose Brothers of Thief River Falls in the amount of $8,551 for a three-mile grading job near Underwood.

University Farm Man Gives Pointers on Care of Garden Perennials

A little work in the perennial flower bed this fall will yield its reward in more blooms next spring, says Louis Sando, horticulturist at University Farm, St. Paul. Many of the perennial flowering plants should be divided in the fall, particularly those that bloom from spring to mid-summer.

Perennial asters, sunflowers, gaillardias and others which grow in "clumps" will be improved if divided into several plants. On the other hand, the gas plant, one of the best garden perennials, has a large tap root and should not be divided. This applies to practically all tap-rooted perennials. According to Sando, chrysanthemums do best when divided in the spring, but peonies can be divided and planted at any time up to November unless the weather should be extremely severe previous to that time.

When dividing peony clumps, cut away all poor or diseased parts of the clumps, but make sure that there are three to five eyes or buds on each piece of root. Set out in new soil with the buds not more than three inches below the surface. It may be advisable to protect the plants with a mulch the first winter—straw, marsh hay or a similar material will answer the purpose. Above all, warns Sando, do not plant peonies in the shade, in poorly drained soil, or in soil that is starved or lacks moisture.

East Grand Forks Plans Potato Show in October

The seventh annual Minnesota Red River Valley potato show will be held at East Grand Forks in the Central high school auditorium, October 23, 24, and 25, announces Herman Skyberg, Fisher, president of the Minnesota Red River Valley Potato Improvement Association. Every potato grower in the Valley may exhibit at this show. There are classes for Ohios, Triumphs, Cobblers, Warbas, and any other variety, making five classes in all. Exhibitors may show in the 32 tuber sample lot, or half bushel certified lot, or both. Premium money is being provided by the businessmen of East Grand Forks. A. G. Tolaas, in Charge of Potato Certification and Inspection of the State Department of Agriculture, and R. C. Rose, Plant Pathologist, have been selected as judges for the Show.

3,068 Miles of State Highways Marked with New Safety Markings

Despite the temporary confusion which has resulted this summer from Minnesota's change of highway center-line and no passing zone markings to comply with new national uniform standards, more than 3,000 miles of state trunk highways have already been marked according to the new system of pavement marking.

The state highway department announced today that, although many sections of highway still remain to be marked and work will continue until stopped by cold weather, 2,860 passing hazards, aggregating 2,150,000 lineal feet, have been striped with the new yellow "no-passing" stripes that are replacing the white lines which prevailed last year.

In all, 3,068 miles of highway have been marked according to the new standards, with white center lines on bituminous surfaces, black centerline son concrete, and the yellow lines, when paralleling the centerline, serving as notice to every motorist that he is forbidden to try to pass another vehicle ahead until the "no-passing" line on his side ends.

578 Motorists Forfeit Drivers Licenses for August Law Violations

The long and undiscriminating arm of the law reached into the pockets of 578 Minnesota motorists during the month of August and took away their licenses to operate a motor vehicle. Ninety seven of the victims were under 21 years of age and 234 under 25.

The largest number of drivers license suspensions ever recorded in any one month since the enactment of the driver's license law, 386, were reported this week to Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann, as a result of last month's arrests and convections. Most of the suspensions were imposed to remove from the highways, for a period of penitence and instructions, drivers who endangered the lives of others by repeated offenses of speeding, reckless driving, or driving while intoxicated.

In addition to the 386 suspensions, 192 motorists suffered complete revocation of their driver's license for a period of one year, on orders of the courts.

These figures compare with 160 suspensions and 112 revocations during August of 1939. The vast majority of revocations were for driving while drunk, but 17 were for violating suspensions. Chief moving violations causing suspensions were: speeding 191, intoxication 71, reckless driving 53, and disregarding signs and signals 9.

Of those deprived of the right to drive, 564 were men and 14 were women.

COUNTY DRAFT BOARD WILL BE SELECTED SOON

Six Are Nominated from Pennington for 3 Posts on Board

PROPOSED AT REQUEST OF GOVERNOR STASSEN

Assistant Adjutant General Will Administer Law in Minnesota

Selection of a Pennington county draft board of three members to administer the selective service draft authorized by congress recently is expected to be made shortly by federal authorities from a list of six nominees submitted at the request of Governor Harold E. Stassen.

The six candidates were named by Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund, Judge of Probate Andrew Bottelson and County Auditor A. M. Senstad. Included in the list are W. J. LaBree, Thief River Falls; Emil Larson, Bray township; Alfred Hallstrom, Black River; Owen A. Olson, Goodridge; Frank Hardisty, Smiley; and Ed. Korstad, Highlanding.

President Roosevelt put America's first peacetime draft into effect Monday, prescribing minutely detailed rules to guide an army of civilians in handling the conscription of men for the nation's expanding armed forces.

The chief executive called on the 48 state governors for their "every help." In identical letters, he wrote them:

"The procurement and training of our manpower under proper administration, fairly and without fear or favor, is undoubtedly the most important single factor in our entire program of national defense."

He asked them to set up the selective service system in their states and to submit to him immediately the names of those they wish as state draft directors and members of local classification and selection boards.

A national director of selective service probably will be nominated in a few days, White House officials said.

All these appointments must be made to complete a nationwide organization for registration October 16 of men from 21 to 36 and the selection of 400,000 immediately for a year's military training.

Colonel Joe Nelson, assistant adjutant general of Minnesota, was appointed state executive for selective service by Governor Stassen.

The governor's selection of Colonel Nelson was made promptly after a request by President Roosevelt for appointment of a state executive.

Colonel Nelson, 43 years old, has been in the army for a quarter century, and has been a member of the national selective service planning board since 1926.

In appointing Colonel Nelson, Governor Stassen said:

"For that position, I am selecting Colonel Nelson because he has had extensive experience over a number of years planning such procedures. He, together with other members of the adjutant general's office has actively co-operated with me and, as a result, we are now prepared to meet our responsibilities in Minnesota under the federal law."

Perhaps you've been advised to use [illegible] [illegible] vinegar and [illegible] marks on your furniture. Wit is usually biting—the better it is the more biting. For example, that classic case of Woollcott saying of Levant, "There's nothing the matter with him that a miracle won't cure."

Hoff (Himself)

But a pretty good case comes to light here that we must report to you.

A lady was showing off her young son, a violin prodigy.

"What is your favorite air?" she asked one of the male guests as the boy tuned up his violin and appeared to be getting settled for a long evening.

The old grouch looked about the room in desperation. He shifted his weight, cleared his throat and growled:

"Fresh; and a lot of it!"

"I put my faith in a parachute," sighed the new member of the Caterpillar club, "and it let me down."

In New York a pair of scientifically-minded young men actually put a bull in a china shop and found out that there wasn't a clumsy performance at all. The bull didn't break anything.

So now that simile is out. And we'd like to see some tests made on others.

Will some one please see how long a snowball lasts in you-know-what?

And just how easy is it to roll off a log, and how much food does it take to choke a horse? How much beer does it take to float a battleship, just how lit is a church, and how busy is a bee, or how anonymous is a hamburger?

There, scientists, is enough research to last us all Winter.

It is better to remain silent and be thought a fool, than to speak and remove all doubt.

Speed of Car Drivers Is Analyzed by Expert

Automobile owners drive more slowly than individuals driving borrowed cars, and drivers on short trips go slower than those on long trips, according to a study of the speed of motorists, recently completed under the direction of Dr. Harry R. De Silva of Yale university. This speed study was carried on in conjunction with Dr. De Silva's study of the human element in automobile accidents.

The analysis proved rather conclusively that new cars travel at higher speeds than old cars. The average age of the cars which traveled at 60 miles an hour and over is 1.3 years. Those which traveled at 40 miles and over an hour were 2.4 years old, while the cars that went along from 30 to 39 miles an hour averaged 3.3 years.

Male drivers from 35 to 39 years old drove at an average speed of 43.3 miles an hour and ranged from 20.3 miles an hour to more than 72 miles an hour, according to the survey. Male drivers from 60 to 69 years old averaged only 42.5 miles an hour and ranged from 24.9 miles an hour to more than 72 miles an hour.

The speed data which developed this data was conducted in Connecticut through the co-operation of the Connecticut Motor Vehicle department and the Connecticut state police. More than 2,000 automobiles and their drivers were checked. A special device was used to clock the speed of passing motorists without revealing to the motorists that they were being checked. A mile down the road state police stopped the cars which had been clocked and had their drivers fill out questionnaires.

Insatiable Curiosity Aids Scientific Investigators

Scientific investigators must possess certain innate attributes that are not acquired by education alone, writes Dr. M. L. Crossley in a paper prepared for the American Chemical society. These fundamental prerequisites for research are an insatiable desire to know, disciplined imagination and originality. Without these no amount of education will produce an investigator. This is true in any field of investigation and particularly important in chemical research. An aptitude for chemistry is not sufficient reason to encourage a person to prepare himself for research. Many persons undertaking research in chemistry are capable only of doing "cookbook chemistry."

A research chemist should have the ability to use his hands skillfully. And it cannot be too strongly emphasized that the investigator must have a high degree of toleration for the view of others and that he faithfully attempt to ascertain the correct basis on which to judge the results of the work of other investigators. Intolerance distorts the thought processes and leads to false pictures of what it is desired to accomplish.

Traces of Sun-Worship

On the Swedish island of Gothland, in the Baltic sea, can be found a curious vestige of an ancient religion involving sun-worship. On Thursdays, the day of the storm god, the peasants neither spin nor dance, for in the pre-Christian era it was the one day in the week when offerings could not be made to Bal, the sun god.

CROOKSTON READY FOR CHILD CLINIC SATURDAY, OCT. 5

Instructions Given Those Who Attended Clinic Here In Spring

With the approach of Saturday, October 5, date set for the Crookston field clinic for crippled children, plans are nearing completion according to Mrs. C. L. Oppegaard, chairman of the committee in charge of local arrangements. Registration hours will be from 8:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. with the clinic serving children from Polk, Red Lake, Pennington, Roseau, Marshall and Kittson counties. H. H. Kohl, principal of the high school, has turned over the building to serve as a clinic site.

The clinic is one of sixteen scheduled for 1940 by the bureau for crippled children of the state division of social welfare. This fall marks the first year of the annual schedule for the Crookston clinic, which previously has been alternated yearly with the clinic in Thief River Falls. "This fact", Mrs. Oppegaard remarked, "prompts me to advise parents that if their children were examined at the spring clinic in Thief River Falls, they need not attend the clinic here unless specifically instructed to do so".

Miss Inez Marcum, field nurse from the bureau, arrived in the Crookston area this week and will contact or otherwise notify those already under the care of the bureau who are expected to attend the clinic October 5.

House in Horseshoe Area Badly Damaged in Blaze

Fire originating in the attic, apparently from a defective chimney, last Thursday ravaged the Everett Culver house in the Horseshoe district, leaving it practically a total loss. Most of the Culver's household goods also were destroyed, while the greater part of the possessions of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Olson, occupying rooms on the first floor, were saved altho damaged by water. Owing to the fact that there were no hydrants nearby, firemen had to use 500 feet of hose to secure water from the river.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

By Ferd B. Elstad

Puppet Theatre

Approximately 175 children and adults were on hand last Thursday to witness the puppet show staged by a group of young puppeteers. Another show will be put on this coming Thursday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock in the upstairs of the arena. Everyone is welcome to see the performances without charge. Parents are again urged to send their children to the puppet theatre, where a great many participants already find enjoyment during their leisure hours. The theatre is kept open every weekday afternoon from 1 o'clock until 6 o'clock.

East-Side Park

Most activity at the park is centered around football. However, there are facilities available for a number of other physical activities. The same equipment used during the summer is being held over during the fall season. Everyone is urged to take part in some activity during the day. The cooperation of the public is a vital thing needed for the continuance of a well-rounded recreation program.

Arena Craft Shop

New hours have been introduced at the craft shop to fit the schedule of school children. The shop is open every weekday from 3 o'clock until six in the afternoon and evenings from 7 o'clock until ten, with the exception of Wednesday night. All school children must leave the shop at nine o'clock. Adults have free use of the place until closing time. On Saturdays the shop is open for three hours in the morning, closing at noon, and then again in the afternoon from 1 o'clock until five. Parents and children are asked to keep this schedule in mind, because the shop will not be open for public use at any other time. Several adult participants requested special nights for their group. As yet, there are too few to justify such a period. However, if the adult participation increases sufficiently, a night will be set aside for them. Decoys for hunters are the newest articles being made at the shop. An increased interest in archery is also apparent, with several boys and girls making bows and arrows.

Arena Gymnasium

This is a new part of the program. The gym is located in the upstairs of the arena. It will be open Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights from seven until ten o'clock. It will also be open on Tuesday Thursday and Friday afternoons from four until six o'clock. Saturdays the gym will be used for the three hours in the morning and all afternoon. Boxing and wrestling will be the main activities, but the gym will be made available to those wanting exercise or workouts. The gym is now open.

Local Golfers Fare Well in Mahnomen Tourney

Eight local golfers entered the shortstop tournament held at Mahnomen last Sunday and five of them—Paul Mellby, Douglas Hooren, Lloyd Bennes, Tom Mehegan, and Ed Karwand—returned with championship trophies. 1941 Fords Will Go on Display in City Friday

IT WASN'T THE GLASSES—THREE SETS OF TWINS

Clara City.—The morning that Miss Underwood, teacher of third and fourth grade children looked out through her glasses and decided they must be out of focus or dirty. She removed, examined and cleaned them. Still the condition existed. She could see double and decided she must see an eye specialist. Lo, and behold when she undertook the registration of her pupils, she was not seeing double but actually had three sets of identical twin boys in her third grade. Now she is seeking suggestions on how to tell them apart.

If we are favored with a couple of weeks more of good weather that will make possible a clean-up of the odds and ends of harvesting we will say that the past year has been exceptionally fine. There have been crickets and grasshoppers, of course, but there are many things we have not had to complain about. For one thing we didn't have any winter last winter. And this summer we have heard few complaints about such things as floods, storms, rust or mosquitoes.

We have wondered sometimes if crime publicity is not overdone. It has seemed to us that criminals must often be assisted in making their get-away by the detailed reports that are published covering the activities of the police. From now on we will worry about this no more. Publicity played an important part in the capture of the California kidnapper this past week and no doubt has proven equally helpful in the solution of many crimes. After all, it must be assumed that the police use some judgement in the information they release and if, at times, their releases are confusing to the public they probably are often more confusing to the fugitive.

When you stop to think of it, our country really is in a deplorable condition when only one man of the nation's entire population is sufficiently bright to serve as President. It must be true because this one indispensable man says it is so. Gosh how fortunate we are that he is willing to serve us. Or is it possible that we are being taken for a ride. We never have cared much for people who love themselves excessively. "Egotism is an anaesthetic applied by nature to deaden the pain of inferiority."

If you are interested in street lighting, watch with interest the new white way being installed on Atlantic Ave. between Second and Third—in front of Land O'Lakes in other words. There are five concrete poles to the block, much higher than the old light poles, and the light will be suspended out from these poles, throwing the light down instead of up. Five 300 watt bulbs to the block are expected to give more light than eight 200 watters in the old system. Other advantages are that the globes are ball proof and bug tight. If satisfactory this new system may eventually be extended thruout the business section.

COMPARE THE BACKGROUNDS

Democrats never miss an opportunity to refer to Wendel Willkie as a utilities magnate and then, very sweetly, they remember that Samuel Insull was also a utilities magnate. Samuel Insull was a crook. The inference is, of course, that Wendel Willkie must therefore be a crook. It is a perfect syllogism, just as logical as the old classic of the classrooms that proves all men are liars.

Willkie has a clean record, assuming that being successful is not a thing to be ashamed of, which certainly compares favorably with the record of Roosevelt. Both men are rich. Willkie earned his wealth. Roosevelt inherited what he has. Roosevelt tried his hand in a business venture that failed. Investors lost money just as investors lost money when Samuel Insull failed. The people who bought German marks from Roosevelt lost their savings just as surely as those who bought stocks from Insull. No investor has lost money on Willkie operations. In his business operations he has maintained satisfactory relations with customers, labor and investors and that is a record he has a right to be proud of.

Neither Willkie nor Roosevelt are crooks. Willkie, however, has demonstrated that he is a man of greater ability and better judgement.

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF SAFETY

Here are ten commandments of safety, recommended for hunters by the Sporting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers' Institute, that are worth memorizing:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp, and home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

If Roosevelt should fail us we can always call on that darky down in New York who assures us he is God.

Hitler may yet conquer England but it is comforting to know that he now is definitely behind in the schedule. It evidently isn't as easy as he thought it would be. And in the meantime he is taking quite a lot of punishment himself, for which there are no regrets. We don't know of any music that is sweeter than his yelp that the British are taking unfair advantage of him.

A GENTLEMAN'S CAMPAIGN
(Christian Science Monitor)

In Sweden as in the United States a national election is to be held this fall—in the middle of September instead of at the beginning of November—and under normal circumstances there would have been a corresponding contest for both executive and legislative control. But under the stress of war Sweden formed last December a "National Union" government, which has since directed the country's affairs.

In this union all four of the important parties are represented, the Conservatives, the Liberals, the Farmers, and the Labor Union Social Democrats. The Communists have only a few seats in the Riksdag and the Nazis none.

But what of the election? No matter what the verdict of the voters the National Union must be maintained as long as the exterior danger remains. At first some of the minority party leaders said that under such circumstances an election would be superfluous. Then they decided otherwise.

First, the Constitution said that an election should be held and this is no time for a democracy to disregard a constitution. Second, certain constitutional changes would not take effect until after an election. Third, in a democracy a legislature and government gain new moral authority from an election. Conversely, an unauthorized postponement would savour of usurpation.

An election campaign is therefore under way in Sweden, but not a regulation one. All personalities are barred, all charges of mismanagement, all innuendo, all false issues, or "red herrings," all jockeying for newspaper headlines, all election posters, all mechanical loud speakers, all propaganda films. Political radio speeches were already taboo, except a closing round-robin debate.

Only respectful, courteous, educational discussions of the different party programs and ideologies before small audiences are permitted, thanks to an agreement among the party leaders who meet weekly face to face with the King to discuss neutrality, food supply, employment, export problems and national defense.

But why couldn't every election be conducted on these lines? Why ballyhoo and mechanical reverberations in any country? An election is a time to think and not to shout. When President Roosevelt invited the Republicans Messrs' Stimson and Knox, into his cabinet he took a first step toward a National Union in the United States and when Wendell Willkie rebuked an Iowa crowd for booing Secretary Wallace he laid the ground work for a gentleman's campaign in the United States, too. Why not keep up the standard?

As to swapping horses in midstream, there is much to be said on each side of the question. Midstream is not a good spot for a horse trade. There are too few horses to choose from. But if the horse I was riding had been seven years on the way and was still in the middle and the current was getting stronger and the water was getting deeper and if a better and fresher horse waded alongside, I believe I would take a chance. After all, there is no sense in staying on a horse that does not get anywhere in nearly eight years.—Los Gatos Mail-News.

We confess we cannot see the logic of those who favor large appropriations for defense and training of the nation's youth to handle the equipment the appropriations are to buy and then oppose any and all material aid to England. If England can defeat Hitler, the need for these huge appropriations and the training camps will be immediately lessened if not eliminated altogether. That being the case, why not help England with as many airplanes and destroyers and with as much munitions and other equipment as we can? England does not want men and would not know what to do with them if sent over. What is needed is equipment. It would seem that under the circumstances confronting us, material aid to England is the surest and most certain way of saving American lives eventually.—Long Prairie Leader.

SO. ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK
(By U. S. Department of Agricultural Economics and Minnesota Department of Agriculture)

South St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 24, 1940. There was a definite drag to trading on strictly good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings Tuesday, but common, medium and average good kinds sold fairly active at steady rates. For the two days prices in all classes are steady to 25c lower, according to Federal-State Market News Service. Choice [illegible] yearlings brought $12.00, and some choice steers were bid $12.25 but held higher. Supplies of grain fed cattle have been very light, but apparently ample for the demand. Cows on the other hand, have met excellent support and canners and cutters especially have drawn good buying. Current figures on canners and cutters were at $4.00-5.25, with common and medium beef offerings $5.50-6.50 and good western cows [illegible]. Stockers and feeders were offered [illegible] on Monday but the market [illegible].

Barrows and gilts suffered sharp losses on the opening days of the week and prices were unevenly 25-50c under last week's close. [illegible]

SHAKOPEE, STATE CHAMPIONS, WHIP PLUMMER TEAM

Plummer Eliminated from State Tournament In Second Round

The Plummer Red Sox, northwestern Minnesota's entrant in the state baseball tournament, won their first round game, defeating Moose Lake, 5 to 1, behind the 4-hit pitching of Hemmy Sahl; but met elimination when a barrage of Shakopee basehits gave Shakopee a 16 to 1 win over the Red Sox in their second round game. Shakopee went on to win the state championship, defeating Fergus Falls in the finals, 6 to 0.

Two errors, a hit batsman, and a base hit gave Moose Lake two runs in the first inning, but from there on Hemmy Sahl had his game under control, doling out only three hits and two runs during the remaining eight innings. The entire Plummer team played fine ball in support of Sahl.

Plummer met the tournament favorites in the second game, and Shakopee, pounding three Red Sox pitchers for 23 basehits, won an easy 16 to 1 victory. Wally DuChamp, Plummer's center fielder, with six putouts, and several of these made after long runs, was the defensive star of the game.

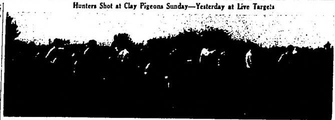
Hunters Shot at Clay Pigeons Sunday—Yesterday at Live Targets



Many cases of clay pigeons were used up Sunday when hunters tried their skill at the Fair Grounds traps, pictured above. Yesterday the hunters had their first opportunity of the season to shoot at live game and at the left, George Williamson and Ole Ekeren, are evidently pleased with the first day's result, the limit.

Plummer Gets Fine Publicity

The Plummer baseball team had double portions of praise heaped on it for its fine play in the state tournament at Shakopee. Several players, notably Wally and Jesse DuChamp, Louie Benson, Hemmy Sahl, Woody Almquist, Deane Schoenauer, and Reaume St. Marie were given special mention on their individual play. Wally's centerfield play, especially in the Shakopee game, was rated as being of major league caliber; Jessie DuChamp was commended for his shortstopping in the Moose Lake game; and Hemmy Sahl's pitching in the opening game, allowing but four hits; Louie Benson's nimble work behind the plate, and the hitting of Almquist, Schoenauer, and St. Marie, Wally and Louie received additional honors when they were selected on the Star-Journal's all-state team, Wally being picked for an outfield position, and Louie being chosen as the tournament's outstanding catcher.

It's 18 for sure, and probably 19. That's the situation on the score of last Friday night's football game. The Prowlers beat the Pirates; but whether it was by 18 points or 19 is a question that's not yet settled. Here's the way the problem developed: After the Prowlers had scored their second touchdown a play was made for the extra point, and it was to be a place-kick by Anderson with Fjelstad holding the ball. Fjelstad was down on one knee, the ball was passed from center, a high pass, and Luther fumbled the ball, never had it in his possession, Andy picked up the rolling ball and threw a pass to Flasch, and Eddie nabbed the ball on the goal line and went over for what seemed to be the extra point. Much discussion followed, but the officials never did give any sign as to their decision. The question was whether the ball was 'dead' for any other play but a kick when Fjelstad had his knee on the ground when he touched the ball. There is a rule to the effect that the ball is 'dead' when the knee of a player in possession of the ball touches the ground. Coach Lindenmeyer is of the opinion that the point should count, because Fjelstad was not in possession of the ball and never had it in his possession. Will have to ask referee Glen Hubbard what his decision was on the play.

He'll Be Ready

Don Mathewson, Prowler tackle, who nearly lost a leg in the game Friday, wants me to assure his fans (plural) that he will be in shape for the game tomorrow night.

No Handicap Bowling Like This

Wally Olson of the Hartz Commercial league bowling team, opened the season last Monday night by rolling games of 179, 186 and 232 for a 597 total and a 199 average. These first games are used to establish a bowler's handicap, but bowling a 199 average won't get anybody a handicap. There's talk of an investigation too, for the Wally Olson that bowled with Hartz last year never started the season with a 597 total. This year's Wally looks like last season's Wally, and he talks like last season' Wally, but he surely doesn't bowl like last season's Wally.

Prowlers in Comeback Whip Crookston 18-0

Rebounding from their defeat by Red Lake Falls the Prowlers, last Friday night, rolled over the Crookston Pirates for three touchdowns, one in the first period and two in the fourth period to score a convincing 18 to 0 win in a game played at Crookston. The victory lifted the Prowlers into third place in the Northwest Conference standings, trailing the leaders, Red Lake Falls, which has two wins, and Fosston, which has won one game and tied another.

The first quarter was in its final minute of play when the Prowlers shoved over their first touchdown. Eddie Flasch threw a pass to left end Babe Peterson, and Babe went to the Pirate 14 yard line before he was downed, for a 20 yard gain on the play. Three running plays gave the Prowlers a first down on the Crookston three yard line; and in two plays Flasch had piled thru center for the touchdown.

With the exception of a Crookston drive that was halted on the 20 yard Prowler line, the second and third periods saw both teams playing mid-field ball. A partially blocked punt gave the Pirates the ball on the Thief River 45 yard line, and on a series of short gains through the line, and short pass that was completed, Crookston carried the ball to the Prowler 20 yard line; but here the Thief River defense broke up the Pirate attack, knocking down two pass attempts and smothering two running plays.

The Prowlers' passing attack clicked in the fourth period, scoring one touchdown on a completed pass, and another pass completion setting up another touchdown. Flasch tossed a pass to Andy Anderson, and Andy took the throw on the Pirate 10 yard line, near the side line, shook off a tackler, and went over for the score. A few minutes later, on a fine runback of a punt by Anderson, the Prowlers were again deep in Pirate territory, and on fourth down Jimmy Ferguson whipped a diagonal pass to Anderson, who was downed on the Crookston 3 yard line. Andy broke over left tackle for the touchdown.

The entire Prowler squad played creditable football, with perhaps Don Olson, at end, Orrin Peterson, Johnny Farbst, and Roman Paulson, at the tackles, being particularly effective in the Prowler line. Fine backfield play was shown by Anderson, Gjernes, Flasch, Fjelstad and Ferguson; Andy's safety play; Orlin Gjernes' power on his runs through the tackles, Jimmy Ferguson's passes, and calling a smart game from quarterback; Luther Fjelstad's strong defensive play during the second half, when he was piling up the Crookston center-rush plays. Crookston's Bill Crane, Ray Horge and Charles Graham were the Pirate backfield threats; with Hanson at tackle playing a strong line game.

SUDAN GRASS GROWS EIGHT FEET TALL

Springfield.—E. S. Badger, Burnstown township farmer, recently brought to town what is probably the tallest stalk of Sudan grass ever seen in these parts. The stalk measured slightly over eight feet tall. Mr. Badger has some Sudan grass planted with his drill corn and repeated cultivation probably accounts for the unusual height of the plant.

Community Games to be Discussed at District Meeting Here Oct. 1-2

Pennington County rural people will have four representatives at a district training meeting, October 1 and 2, at Thief River Falls, sponsored by the Minnesota agricultural extension service as a part of a state-wide program for the revival of rural home talent recreational activities.

Under the state-wide plan instruction will be given in dramatics, community games and music. The group of counties holding the school at Thief River Falls have chosen community games as the study subject this year.

County Agent Howard E. Grow has arranged for local participation in the school which will be followed by a group of training meetings in this county.

Everyone will be invited to take advantage of the training which will be brought back here by the local representatives. Mrs. Ethel Baker Again Elected President of Minnesota WCTU Group

Mrs. Ethel Baker, Minneapolis, was elected to her sixth consecutive term as president of the Minnesota Women's Christian Temperance union Thursday at Duluth.

The convention banquet was held Thursday evening with the principal address by Mrs. Frances Poston, Moose Lake, general secretary of the State Youth's Temperance council.

An address on the theme of "peace" was given before the convention assembly by Mrs. Alma S. Lavens, Crookston, state director of the union's international relations committee.

Liquor has cost the United States $25,000,000,000 more than the liquor industry has paid in taxes, wages and other costs since repeal, Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith of Evanston, Ill., national president of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, told Minnesota members of the movement at their convention Wednesday night.

Even the liquor industry's boast of taxes it pays is hollow, Mrs. Wise Smith declared, because the consumer, not the industry, pays.

'FINAL' DECISION REACHED TO BUILD MINNKOTA PLANT

Rates Offered by Power Companies Too High, Says REA Chief

Considered the "last word" in the matter, decision was reached in Washington Friday to build an electric power generating plant in Grand Forks to serve the rural electrification units under the Minnkota Power Co-operative, instead of buying power from private companies.

This information was contained in an Associated Press dispatch from Washington, quoting Harry Slattery, REA administrator, as saying the private companies "have consistently refused to offer an acceptable rate—a generating plant is the only answer."

Four private power companies had offered to sell the Minnkota power, including the Northern States Power Co., the Interstate Power Co., and the Minnesota Utilities Co., which have power lines throughout the Minnkota territory.

The rates offered by these companies, Administrator Slattery said, "greatly exceed the average paid by REA systems to private utilities". The proposed rates were presented to him in Washington by Andrew L. Freeman, manager of the Minnkota, which will serve six REA units, including the Red Lake Electric Cooperative.

August Traffic Toll in Minnesota Soars to 64, Safety Division Says

August was a month of death and destruction not only in the war-torn cities of Europe, but also on Minnesota's streets and highways, according to traffic fatality figures released today by the traffic and safety division of the Minnesota department of highways.

A total of 64 people met their deaths during the month as a result of motor vehicle accidents, an increase of 28 over the July toll and a jump of 19 over August of last year. Last month's death toll brought the total number of Minnesota's peace-time traffic casualties for the first 8 months of this year to 334, or an increase of 34 over the toll for the same period of 1939.

The greatest increase in traffic fatalities this year is in the pedestrian group, and in this class the greatest increase is in the age group 65 and over. Last year at this time, 24 members of this group were killed; so far this year 45 elderly people have met their deaths on Minnesota's streets and highways.

In the 12 months of last year a total of 564 men, women, and children were killed in automobile accidents in the state. If last year's traffic safety award-winning record is to be equalled or bettered not over 230 additional lives can be lost in traffic accidents during the balance of this year, when much of the hazardous motoring conditions will be encountered.

Vocational Record Cards Available at Dunwoody

Former students of Dunwoody Institute at Minneapolis may secure a special vocational record training card now by applying to the school, according to a statement issued by Dr. C. A. Prosser this week. The card will be of service to them in securing employment and may enable them to serve the country in a branch of the National Defense Service suited to their vocations.

On a request in writing, says Dr. Prosser, this record training card will be mailed to every former student who has completed satisfactorily at least eight months of day school training for some occupation or at least one unit of evening school training; who is over 18 years of age; and who is therefore eligible to voluntary enlistment or may be subject to the selective draft.

According to this information, any such student should write a letter to Dunwoody Institute, Minneapolis, requesting his individual vocational record training card, giving his name and mailing address and enclosing fifteen cents in stamps or in coin. His card will be prepared and mailed to him.

BEST FISH STORY OF THE SEASON

Ironton—The story of the season occurred last week. It's a whopper, but above all, it's true. Tom Trouple visiting here from the cities was casting for bass in Mahnomen lake. Suddenly he felt a strike and a good one. He reeled in and got the surprise of his days. On each of two of the barbs of a triple hook attached to his river run plug was a two-pound bass. Two fish on one plug with one cast. Such is a rare accomplishment, and of course, there will be those who refuse to believe it but there were witnesses to the incident—and good ones too.

AMERICAN BOY IS COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes a high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives me good, interesting reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes, coaches and sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player on football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys' clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characters than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men prominent in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY the sort of reading matter boys like best.

THE AMERICAN BOY sells on most news stands at 15c a copy. Subscription prices are $1.00 for one year or $1.50 for three years. Foreign and Canadian rates 50c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, [illegible] Detroit, Michigan.

"Smile and the World Smiles with You"

"The Voice With a Smile" is contagious—it makes friends—it's a real social and business asset. Many times, people form their impression of you by your voice and the manner in which you telephone.

What are the points of a pleasing telephone personality? To speak pleasantly, of course. And to be considerate and courteous—such things as answering promptly, talking directly into the mouthpiece in a normal tone of voice, and hanging up the receiver gently.

...BUT WHY COURT-MARTIAL THE WHOLE REGIMENT?

There are bound to be one or two bad soldiers in every regiment. But why court-martial the whole regiment?

The same applies to beer retailing. Out of hundreds of thousands of wholesome, law-abiding beer retailers, there is bound to be a small minority who disobey the law or permit anti-social conditions.

To protect your right to drink good beer, the Brewing Industry wants even this small minority of undesirable retailers eliminated entirely. Beer is a refreshing, appetizing beverage — the beverage of moderation. We want every beer retail establishment to be as wholesome as beer itself.

To that end, we have instituted a "clean-up or close-up" program — now in operation in some states and being extended to others. We'd like to tell you about it in an interesting free booklet.

Announcing the big
NEW 1941 FORD

In some years, some cars take a big jump ahead. The Ford does just that for 1941.

It has jumped ahead in size. It's the biggest Ford we've ever built, inside and out. It's wider. It has a longer wheelbase. Its seating room is wider by as much as 7 inches. It has new wide doors and semi-concealed running boards.

You'll notice also a new beauty, achieved by a skillful blending of mass with longer flowing lines. Larger windshield and windows give better vision all around.

Now, slower-action springs give a slow, gentle, gliding movement. A newly designed stabilizer helps absorb road shocks, and maintains balance on sharp curves and in gusty winds.

More rapid acceleration to match its familiar speed and power makes this new Ford an even livelier car to drive.

These are only a few of this new car's outstanding features. It represents all the rich experience gained in building more than 28 million motor cars.

Any Ford dealer can give you many good reasons for making this your 1941 car.

More Power, and more miles per Gallon
WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM
YOU'LL like the size of this trim new Buick Special for '41 — its room, its softer ride, its Permi-firm steering, its fresh smart style and all that.
But what you'll go for is what happens under that broad bonnet—the thrill and the thrift you get from that husky, big, 115-hp. Buick Fireball* Eight.
For in each flame-packed cylinder of that silk-smooth power plant a flaring ball of fire is set off with each spark-leap.
Packed to higher compression than ever before, fuel gives up more power and more mileage—power when you need it, economy throughout the whole driving range.
Indeed, so great is the power at your command that at 30 you use only one-eighth of the energy at your disposal.
All the rest is there waiting for pick-up, hill-climb and sudden getaway.
Even at 50 you use less than one-quarter of your available power, and at 75 still have nearly a half "on call" for emergency use.
More than that, to this engine you can likewise add Compound Carburetion —and step up both power output and your mileage. At 30 you'll get nearly one and one-half more miles per gallon, at 50 almost two, and at 70 an extra mile and one-fifth.
But that's just one side of the story—the facts side. Only one thing will give you the stirring feel of Buick's thrill-packed behavior on the road.
That's a demonstration—and it's yours for the asking. When will you be in to ask for it?

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Missing: A Father!

Enter father, the forgotten man. Forgotten because society and father himself have caused him to be. The result is a distinct loss to the child.

Every child needs two parents to provide different sets of contacts and to supplement the other's personality. The much discussed "mother fixations" might possibly have been avoided if the father had functioned as he should. Paternal indifference is the rule rather than the exception. The ingrained idea seems to be that the raising of the children is pretty exclusively the mother's responsibility. Fathers need to be re-educated in new insights and understandings.

The father's role has been too often, that of the policeman of the family. A story is told of a mother who had the children lined up when the father got home in the evening. She enumerated their respective transgressions and ordered the father to punish them. Needless to say the children looked to the father's homecoming with distaste and the father was upset at the role thrust on him. His word was obeyed merely because it was backed up by the shadow of the rod.

A father should be an active participator in the children's activities. A success-bent father must realize that a half-hour spent with the child will be worth more to the child later than a large bank account the father may accumulate. In future years the father may crave the confidence of his child and wonder at the lack of it. Remember that confidence and bonds of sympathy are built gradually and are based on common interests. The plea of lack of time is not valid. It is a matter of attitude. The time spent teasing, suppressing and punishing could be used profitably in working together on some project.

The mother has her part in aiding the father in enjoying the children. While the child should certainly be on a schedule, the mother should arrange the schedule so that the child is free during some of the father's leisure time. The mother should remain relatively inconspicuous during this time. It is grand for the child to have the feeling of the family group, but he should also have some time alone with his father.

There are various ways in which a father can establish closer relations with his child. One is the excursion. The child has few contacts with his father and he will be delighted to spend an hour or an afternoon in a jaunt with his worshipped father. It does not matter so much where they go—wherever it is they will be drawn together by their mutual interest, whether it be in the flowers in the garden or the animals in the zoo.

Frequently the father may be able to use his ingenuity and embark on a project of toy-making or something similar. Intriguing toys can be made in the basement workshop—toys equally as interesting and much less expensive than those in the stores. It is a source of pleasure for the child to observe the operations in the making and to "help". A spirit of comradeship is built up.

A little thought—a little time—and father assumes his important role in the family group.

DEER FROLIC WITH SOUTH MINNESOTA COWS

Belle Plaine—When little Tommy Devine took his cousins for a stroll through the pasture Sunday of last week they encountered a most unusual sight. There among the cows were two deer, a doe and a fawn. The boys got within one hundred feet of them before the deer sped away. On the following day Tommy returned to the pasture and saw them further down the creek. Just how they happened to be so far south is a mystery.

Attorney General Rules Against Cong. Buckler

Congressman Richard T. Buckler, Crookston, Farmer-Labor nominee for re-election in the ninth congressional district, is not entitled to have his occupation and residence after his name on the ballot in the general election in November, because his name is similar to that of his Republican opponent, Colvin C. Burnquist so ruled Tuesday in an opinion given Mike Holm, secretary of state, who advised the attorney general that Congressman Buckler has asked that descriptive words would be placed after his name so there would be no confusion.

WHAT IS A SMORGASBORD?

Just what is a smorgasbord? We read in the paper that some church in the neighborhood is having one. Or perhaps it's a hotel or restaurant that advertises a smorgasbord supper on a certain night each week. Or a friend who wants to entertain a large number of guests invites them all to a smorgasbord.

Is this just a fancy name for a buffet supper . . . or is it something different? What must a buffet supper offer to make it a smorgasbord?

ONCE UPON A TIME IN SWEDEN

It's a Swedish word that literally means "Sandwich table". In the good old days when friends and relatives from far-distant places came together at funerals, weddings and christenings, it was customary for the women to bring food. So many guests would otherwise have been a severe drain on the provisions of the house they were visiting. Therefore, the women brought foods distinctive of their particular part of the country or that they excelled in making. This custom of bringing something to eat has now all but disappeared . . . yet the smorgasbord with its colorful and interesting array of food remains.

In Sweden it has become an appetizer course. Each guest is given a plate and allowed to help himself from the bewilderment of savory tempting-looking food. There really is enough set forth to make a meal . . . rather than a mere prelude to a dinner.

IN THIS COUNTRY

In this country, however, a smorgasbord is generally considered a complete meal for an informal gathering. Needless to say, many of the foods offered are the kind that are offered as appetizers . . . such as stuffed eggs, anchovies, pickled beets and onions, and cottage cheese with chives.

The guests pass around the table with their plates and help themselves. And there are usually small tables where they can sit down to eat and where cups of coffee are brought to them. They are supposed to replenish their plates as often as they like. Here is a list of characteristic smorgasbord foods. Not all are necessary . . . but each group should be well represented.

SMORGASBORD FOODS

Cold Foods: Stuffed eggs . . . cheese in variety . . . pickled herring . . . anchovies . . . smoked salmon.

Cold Meats: Sweet and sour tongue . . . jellied veal . . . head cheese . . . sausages . . . ham.

Pickles and Vegetables: Cucumber pickles . . . pickled or spiced beets . . . pickled onions . . . radishes . . . sliced cucumbers in vinegar . . . sliced tomatoes . . . stuffed celery.

Salads: Beet and herring salad . . . cabbage salad . . . country coleslaw . . . crabmeat salad . . . stuffed cantaloupe salad . . . fruit gelatin salad . . . cranberries or lingenberries in a gelatin mold . . . tomato aspic.

Hot Dishes: Meat balls . . . browned beans with bacon . . . creamed or scalloped potatoes . . . rice cooked in milk.

EPLE KAKE (APPLE CAKE)

Make 4 cups of tart apple sauce. Fry 2 cups of dry bread crumbs (or 1 package of Zweibach) in ⅓ cup melted butter very gently until evenly browned. Line a deep 8 or 9 inch pie pan with some of these buttered crumbs. Sprinkle with a little cinnamon, then spread ⅓ of the apple sauce over them. Add 2 more layers of crumbs and apple sauce and cinnamon . . . there should be a layer of crumbs on top. Bake 30 minutes in a slow moderate oven, 325° F. Serve cold with whipped cream and garnished with bits of jelly. Cut in wedges like pie.

HUMAN SKELETON FOUND ON FARM

Littlefork.—While clearing land on his farm on Cross River, Bill Street came upon the remains of a man last week. Indications are that the body had been there for several years as there was nothing but a few bones and belongings. He no doubt had been a lumber jack for the remains of a packsack and sawfiling tools were found nearby on a stump. Also, a .32 calibre revolver and a few empty shells, a cheap pocket watch, a jackknife, a pair of gold-rimmed glasses. Most interesting was a $1.50 in silver and the dollar was dated 1922.

THERE ARE HONEST FOLKS AT HENNING

Henning — Nordal Ellingson, local carpenter feels like Christmas is here. Some two weeks ago he lost his billfold containing $32 and after a diligent search became resigned to its loss. Walter Bradford, a traveling salesman from the cities, it seems had picked it up in front of a store the Saturday night it was lost. Not having time to trace the loser he continued on his way with the intention of returning it the next time he passed through town. Last week the billfold and its contents were returned.

LOST AIRPLANE FOUND AFTER WEEK'S SEARCH

Ortonville.—Perched in a cornfield between here and Clinton, the new gas-propelled miniature airplane owned by Allen Anderson, was found just one week after its disappearance. It took a full-sized airplane, piloted by Ted Swank of Clinton to track it down. The plane was not damaged except for gnawing of field mice on the wings and tail wing. Allen claims next time he'll put less gas in his plane, so it can't go so far.

SAFETY LEADERS URGE HUNTERS TO BE MORE CAREFUL

Conservation Department in Statement Cites Falling off in Accidents

This week, which sees the opening of the longest hunting season in several years, finds many Minnesotans speculating on what will be the toll of human lives from gunshot wounds this year.

Eighteen persons died of gunshot wounds and 50 others were seriously injured during the hunting seasons in October and November of last year. This was five less deaths than in 1938, and 16 less than in 1937, the records of Mervin S. Clark, in charge of the state conservation department's safety program, reveal. In those two years, 49 and 65 others, respectively, received serious wounds.

The fact that the hunting casualties fell off in these years despite a marked increase in hunting licenses issued, encourages safety promoters to believe that Minnesota hunters are becoming increasingly safety conscious and that there is reason to hope that eventually this needless waste of human lives will cease to mar such a grand sport.

With a materially lengthened season and a greatly increased number of hunting licenses issued, safety experts envision potential dangers of more hunting casualties in the state this year than even before, unless hunters exercise greater care than usual this season. It is estimated by game and fish authorities that between 320,000 and 335,000 small and big game permits will be sold this year.

6,335 State Motorists Receive Warnings from State Highway Patrol

Improper motoring practices or the use of improper equipment brought written or verbal warnings to 6,335 motorists on Minnesota's highways during the month of August, according to the monthly report of the state highway patrol's activities made this week by Chief Elden Rowe to Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann.

In all, more than 20,000 vehicles were stopped by members of the patrol during the month, with 1,591 drivers being arrested and haled into court for their illegal and dangerous practices.

The chief violation resulting in arrest was excessive speed, with 288 motorists paying a total of $2,633 for gambling with their lives and the lives of their fellow-motorists. Driving while drunk caused the arrest of 144, with the resultant fines for their violations amounting to $9,328. Careless driving practices earned tickets for 249 motorists, who "coughed up" $3,535 in fines.

But the issuing of traffic tickets was not the patrol's chief concern during the month, for 5,159 motorists were given aid in one form or another when they encountered difficulties while driving on Minnesota's highways. Road information was given to 2,391 motorists—many of them out-of-state visitors—and minor adjustments or repairs were made on 2,131 vehicles.

Butcher Bill

The average person in the United States eats $15.33 worth of meat a year, according to a grocers' bulletin, which shows that 1,100 separate meat packing plants throughout the nation have a total annual production of almost $2,000,000,000.

Two 4-H Club Members Report on Sojourn in Itasca State Park

Each year 4-H club members participating in the conservation activity compete for trips to the state conservation camp held at the University of Minnesota forestry station in Itasca State Park. The trips were awarded this year to Joyce Meyer of the Steiner club and Robert Janda of the St. Hilaire club. These two members attended the camp September 13 to 17, and have written a report of their stay.

My Trip to Itasca

By Robert Janda

As you walk through the woods or drive along the road, it is interesting to know the names of the different trees and plants. This is one of the many things I learned on my trip to Itasca Park.

Besides this I learned how to prevent soil erosion from wind and water, and also how to make good farming land out of dried-up gullies and creeks, from talks given by W. M. Landess, Agricultural Relations Department of the T. V. A.; W. W. Chase, Divisional Soil Conservation Service; and M. A. Thorfinnson, Extension Soil Conservationist.

From the interesting talks given by the University Extension Specialists I learned how to protect and feed our wild life.

By hearing the reports of other 4-H club members I know what they are doing, which will help me in my club work.

The movies and slides shown were very good illustrations of conditions in different parts of the country.

In the tour of the park I saw the headwaters of the Mississippi, springs along the lake, beaver dams, and many other points of interest. I also climbed the lookout tower which is 100 feet high.

My job now is to report to all the club members and people of my community the value of continued emphasis of the Conservation Work.

Three Days at Conservation Camp

By Joyce Meyer

The Conservation Camp at Itasca Park is the most interesting and enjoyable place that I have ever attended. This year everything seemed perfect. The scenery was beautiful as most of the deciduous trees were changing color. The brilliant red of the maple was particularly striking. The weather was warm enough to be comfortable, and the two showers we had just left everything the brighter. Everyone was happy and extremely friendly, so it was very difficult to be unhappy yourself.

The programs planned during our stay at the camp were also excellent. Some special speakers at these programs were Mr. Landess, who is connected with the T. V. A. at Knoxville, Tennessee; Mr. Parker Anderson, Extension Forester of the University of Minnesota; Mr. Larson, Agricultural Botanist and Dr. Swanson, Entomologist, both of the University of Minnesota. T. A. (Dad) Erickson, retired state club leader, was the guest speaker Sunday evening. The main point emphasized by these speakers was the need of conserving the soil. Of course, conservation of the forest and wild life is important too, but everything must first come from the soil and the other things later.

Besides the many interesting talks, we had numerous moving pictures and slides that were devoted to the conservation of soil, forests and wild life. The 4-H delegates also contributed to the programs. Special reports were given by them telling of the work they did in conservation in their counties. Some club members had built as many as forty bird houses, a few feeding stations, and shelters for pheasants and prairie chickens, and set out a couple thousand trees to prevent erosion in gullies and on hillside.

There were many inspirational moments at our conservation camp. These included the flag raising services, the sunset service, the camp fire, and the candle-lighting service. The most outstanding one was the outdoor chapel service, Sunday morning, under the Norway Pines in Preacher's Grove. These tall straight pines are from 95 to 125 years old and made a stately chapel for the sermon delivered by Rev. Swindell.

Definite Increase Seen in Number of Pheasants

Detailed tabulation of recent roadside pheasant censuses in 62 counties indicate a "definite increase" over last year when a successful hunting season was provided, the department of conservation announced today.

Game wardens conducting the counts checked pheasant populations along 6,514 miles of roadsides. They counted 15,616 birds. Last year the same type of census along 7,094 miles showed 11,788 birds.

Final tabulations showed 2.43 pheasants per mile this season compared with 1.66 a year ago. The department cautioned that the increase is not the indicated 46 percent since conditions during the two counts were not exactly comparable. However, technicians are agreed that a sizeable increment to the pheasant flocks has taken place.

RELATIVES MEET WITH A BANG!

Luverne—John Smook, Adrian, and his nephew, Herman Smook of this city met on the main street the other night with a crash, that caused damage to three cars. Mr. Smook of Adrian was coming into town from the east, while his nephew was driving out of town, headed east. For some unaccountable reason, the two vehicles crashed head-on. A third car driven by George Nelson, crashed into the rear of the Smook car ahead of him.

FINDS TURTLE WITH INITIALS ON SHELL

Hawley.—A mud turtle with the year "1910" and the initials "P. M." carved on its shell were found in the Buffalo river last week. Its size belies its thirty years for its shell measures but four and one-half inches by six inches, although the carving on its back is weather-beaten from the passing years. It is believed the turtle is of the tortoise family which do not attain the size of the snapping turtle.

ORGANIZE LAW ENFORCEMENT UNIT IN COUNTY

New League Formed at Rally of Anti-Saloon Group Sunday Night

W. CHRISTENSON IS NAMED PRESIDENT

Rev. Henry J. Soltau, Dry Crusader, Delivers Main Address

Acting favorably on a recommendation of Minnesota Anti-Saloon league leaders at a well-attended rally in the municipal Auditorium Sunday evening, local citizens, under the direction of Rev. Henry J. Soltau, noted crusader, organized a Pennington County Law Enforcement league the purpose of which was stated to be to cooperate with local officials in bringing about more complete observance of the law.

Waldie Christenson was named first president of the league, with Rev. V. L. Peterson as vice president; Ted Danielson, secretary; and H. O. Berve, treasurer. Elected to the board of directors were Rev. R. M. Fjelstad, Mrs. Mons Engelstad, Mrs. Minnie Kirby, Robert J. Lund, Rev. M. L. Dahle of St. Hilaire, Rev. E. O. Sabo of Mavie, Rev. H. A. Larson of St. Hilaire and Rev. S. S. Olafson.

Reverend Soltau, the principal speaker at the rally, expressed concern about public indifference and willingness to condone liquor law violations. Corruption, he said, is breaking down our social political, moral and economic life and Christian people must become conscious of their responsibilities before there will be any improvement in conditions. He added that no democracy can long survive in the atmosphere now prevailing in the United States.

The meeting opened with a brief talk by Rev. H. B. Kildahl president of the state Anti-Saloon league, who expressed hope for the return of prohibition on a statewide basis, and said his organization seeks to promote education, legislation and law enforcement. Rev. C. W. Erickson was in charge of the meeting, which had been arranged under the sponsorship of a group of local churches.

OMER WILLIAMS PASSES SUDDENLY FRIDAY MORNING

Native of City, Had Served as Relief Overseer for Two Years

Omer W. Williams, a native of Thief River Falls and for the past two years city poor relief overseer, died unexpectedly from a heart attack at his home last Friday morning at the age of 44 years. Funeral rites were conducted from Trinity Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon, Rev. R. M. Fjelstad officiating, and interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Williams had gone chicken hunting a few miles northwest of the city Friday morning, and, feeling ill, started to return to the city alone. En route he drove his car off the side of the road, and, hailing a passing car, sent word for a member of his family to come out and accompany him in. A son responded, and Mr. Williams, recovering, drove home, where he succumbed a short time later.

Born in Thief River Falls March 8, 1896, Mr. Williams was married in Warren November 11, 1916, to Miss Adlyn Shern, who survives him, together with three sons, Vernon, Russell and Wallace. Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Hilma Williams of Seattle, Washington; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Mitchel, also of Seattle; and two brothers, Arthur of Pontiac, Michigan; and Bernard of this city.

Mr. Williams served for many years as manager of the Peoples Cooperative store in this city, and since October, 1938, has had charge of city relief. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World camp 122 of Thief River Falls.

FEDERAL GRANT FOR AIRPORT IS HELD POSSIBLE

Thief River Falls Included in Tentative State-wide Program

$181,000 ALLOCATED FOR LOCAL PROJECT

Long Range Program Hinges on Action to be Taken by Congress

Much local interest was aroused by the announcement Monday in Washington that the Civil Aeronautics administration had recommended Thief River Falls, together with numerous other cities in Minnesota, as the scene of a major air port development. Tentatively allotted for the project is the sum of $181,000, this being subject to legislation now before congress providing for a long-range flying field development program to be completed in from three to six years.

Representatives of the Civic and Commerce association conferred here Monday with Harold Hagen, secretary to Congressman R. T. Buckler of Crookston, who pledged his aid in securing all possible information on the project. He will cooperate with the local airport committee recently appointed, which includes R. J. Lund of the local Legion post, chairman; Alderman Clarence Sands; and W. L. Carlisle of the Civic and Commerce association.

Mr. Lund stated that local developments in the airport matter are still in the preliminary stage, and that the committee has no information other than that contained in Washington dispatches. He pointed out that this would be the closest major port to the Canadian border, and that this city offers excellent rail and highway facilities for coordination with the airport project.

The program for Minnesota involves approximately $7,534,000 in work on 118 state flying fields. Other cities included in the tentative setup include Bemidji with an allotment of $168,000; Crookston, $168,000; Warroad, $23,000; Warren, $5,500; Roseau, $5,500; Greenbush, $5,500; Detroit Lakes, $203,000; and International Falls, $208,000.

According to word from Washington, the state work is part of a $500,000,000 program for 3,841 airports which the CAA has developed in co-operation with the army and navy to promote civil aviation as well as national defense.

Already passed by the house, the measure now before the senate carries $70,000,000 for this fiscal year and $50,000,000 in contractual authorization for the next fiscal year.

These first funds would cover only those locations "most immediately needed and of greatest strategic importance of the 'defense' program", the CAA said.

According to word from Washington, the one airport in the state recommended to receive funds from this original $80,000,000 would be Wold-Chamberlain field, Minneapolis.

Other projects on the tentative list would be undertaken as rapidly as possible under terms of the CAA program.

"National interest" will be the final test in setting up the schedule as to the order in which fields will be improved, Hinckley explained.

Advantages of the federal food stamp plan over the present method of distribution of surplus commodities were outlined Monday evening at a representative meeting of wholesale grocers of Thief River Falls and retailers from this and surrounding communities.

Operation of the stamp plan, now in effect in Minneapolis, St. Paul and St. Louis county in Minnesota, was explained by George E. Hagan, secretary of the Minnesota Retail Grocers and General Merchants association, who stated that the plan eliminates much of the waste incident to the present method of distribution and puts the business back in regular trade channels where, he said, it properly belongs. It also gives relief clients additional purchasing power, he added.

At the meeting Mr. Hagan secured signed pledges from retail and wholesale grocers agreeing to abide by the rules governing the plan if it is put into effect in Pennington and adjoining counties, and he will submit these to the regional office in Milwaukee. He stated that before the plan can be made effective it will be necessary to call a general meeting of county boards and welfare workers of the counties concerned.

A committee named Monday night to keep in touch with developments includes N. H. Holzknecht, representing the wholesalers; Alf Bredeson, retailers, and L. G. Larsen, welfare office.

Explaining the operation of the plan, Mr. Hagan said that certified clients of the welfare office will buy $1 worth of orange stamps good for any commodities in the store, and at the same time he will be presented with $2.50 worth of blue stamps which can be used for buying surplus commodity items, 20 or more in number, in the stores. DANIEL P. O'NEILL, FORMER SENATOR, DIES WEDNESDAY

Long-Time Resident of City Passes Away at Home in Minneapolis

Daniel P. O'Neill, long-time resident of Thief River Falls and former state senator from this district, and for some years member of the state board of grain appeals, died Wednesday at his home in Minneapolis at the age of 87. Funeral rites will be held Saturday morning at his home, it was announced. At the time of his death, he was president of the Farmers Home Mutual Insurance company.

Born in Ontario, Mr. O'Neill came to Minnesota when 19, entering the lumber business at Stillwater. Later, as a homesteader in Big Stone county, he served on school and town boards, and represented the county in the lower house of the legislature during the 1892 and 1896 sessions.

In 1902, he moved to Thief River Falls, and went to the legislature from that district in 1906, 1908 and 1910. In 1912 he was elected to the state senate, serving four years.

Mr. O'Neill started his political career as a Populist, when that agrarian movement was at its height, and was affiliated with the party during his first two legislative terms. His election from the Thief River Falls district, however, was as a Republican, and he became a leading member of that party.

A fluent speaker, and thoroughly conversant with farming and farm problems, he was a zealous champion of agriculture, both as a legislator and as a member of the grain appeals board. His other great interest as a legislator was in education.

Mr. O'Neill came to Minneapolis in 1919, and was named to the grain board the same year, serving through 1933. He became president of the insurance firm in 1924.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. M. H. Connelly of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Gertrude O'Neill Provencher and Mrs. John M. Ramey of Minneapolis; a son, E. B. O'Neill of South St. Paul; 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Bow-and-Arrow Hunt for Deer in Itasca County

A special five-day deer hunting season for bow and arrow fans will precede the regular 11 day season this fall. The archers' season, however, will be limited to Itasca county. By terms of an act passed by the 1939 legislature it will extend from November 1 to 5, inclusive. Technicians for the department of conservation, piecing together reports on deer populations made by game wardens, are expected to announce regulations for the 11 day season soon. Statute decrees that this shooting period be from November 15 to 25, inclusive.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend Urges Willkie Election in Grand Forks Speech

Dr. Francis E. Townsend told a large crowd in the Grand Forks auditorium Saturday night that the United States can win national prosperity by "putting the old folks on the federal payroll."

The Townsend National Recovery Plan, he said, will force prosperity in the only way possible—by stimulation of business through new spending, by the old folks who previously were practically out of the market.

The "monthly checks the old folks would receive" were urged by the speaker as the "only way now possible" to bring back "good times".

"Our plan in operation," said Dr. Townsend, would reduce also our national expense caused by crime and disease which are the results of poverty.

Dr. Townsend criticized the present administration and urged the election of Wendell Willkie to the presidency.

Death Driver Appears in District Court Here

Pleading guilty in district court here this week to a charge of criminal negligence arising out of the death of James Dyrdahl in an automobile mishap, Harold Thornton, 21, driver of the car, living near Twin Valley, appeared before Judge M. A. Brattland, who referred the case to the parole agent before imposing sentence. Thornton was driving a group of boys to a potato field when Dyrdahl, riding on a front fender, was shaken off, the car passing over his body. He died before reaching the hospital.

IT CAN HAPPEN—CARS LOOK SO MUCH ALIKE

Red Lake Falls—A busy business man with the affairs of a busy week weighing heavily upon his shoulders came out of his establishment the other evening and entered what he thought was his own automobile, drove it home and into his own garage. As he stepped out of the vehicle he noticed the color did not look quite right. After a second look he put on his glasses and took another look, and still unsatisfied took another one. Sure enough he had driven somebody else's car home.

COLVIN H. BUTLER TO SPEAK IN CITY MONDAY EVENING

Republican Workers Conduct Busy Session Here Tuesday Night

At a meeting of Pennington county Republican workers Tuesday evening, final arrangements were made for the appearance of Colvin H. Butler of Fergus Falls, Republican nominee for congress from the Ninth district, at an outdoor rally in this city next Monday evening, October 7. Mr. Butler will speak from a sound truck at the corner of Main av. and Second st. at 8:15.

An added feature of the meeting will be the presentation of three reels of sound movies advocating the election of Wendell Willkie, Republican nominee for the presidency.

At Tuesday's meeting arrangements also were made for a caravan of cars to go from this city to Ulen to hear an address by Senator McNary, Republican nominee for vice president. The caravan will leave the Auditorium at 9:30 and anyone wishing a ride is asked to call Paul A. Lundgren.

It was also announced that Governor Harold E. Stassen will speak at a Ninth district rally at the Auditorium Saturday evening, October 26. Other cities thruout the district are being invited to be represented at the rally.

University Farm Man Warns Against Using Flax Straw for Feed

Martin Eklund, farmer living near Hallock, lost 17 head of cattle within two hours through prussic acid poisoning, after giving the herd access to a pile of flax straw, it was reported last week at University farm.

The case was reported to Dr. R. A. Gortner, chief of the division of Bio-chemistry at University farm, who has conducted extensive research into causes of poisoning in animals.

He pointed out that flaxseed contains a poisonous glucoside which liberates prussic acid when eaten by cattle and sheep. Poisoning from flax straw is usually due to the presence of a considerable quantity of seed which failed to thresh out.

Very definitely, flax straw ought not be fed to animals, he said. Flax screenings carry the same danger and should not be fed, and are safe only after a thorough soaking and cooking which destroys the enzyme in the broken and immature seeds.

Gov. Stassen Is Still Undecided on Naming Successor to Lundeen

Governor Stassen disclosed Tuesday that he is no closer to making an appointment of a successor to the late Senator Ernest Lundeen than he was right after the senator's death in an airplane crash a month ago.

The disclosure was a jolt to a number of Republican party figures who have been pressing the governor to make an appointment, preferable their choice, ever since Senator Lundeen's funeral September 3.

But so far, the governor said, he has not found a choice upon whom he is willing to confer the appointment. Though some 80 to 100 candidates have been presented to him, the qualifications he considers necessary have not been met.

Light on Purification

The prophets of old called for purification. Modern health workers call for hygiene. The former gave a religious explanation which primitive man accepted. The latter have given us scientific reasons for many cleanliness practices which date back to ancient days. Out of the gropings of the past has come a science which has thrown new light on sources of infection which the ancients but dimly grasped. But the warning of sanitarians, like that of the prophet, includes, "Wash your hands. Be clean."

STASSEN TARGET OF KEYNOTE TALK OF HJ. PETERSEN

Governor's Opponent Makes Many Charges in Mankato Address

A stinging indictment of the regime of Governor Stassen, coupled with charges that the Republican chief executive has tolerated and sanctioned corruption, was made by Hjalmar Petersen, Farm-Labor nominee for governor in his keynote address Monday night at Mankato.

Petersen, now a member of the state railroad and warehouse commission, charged "graft and corruption" in the distribution of federal, state and local money in the Anoka tornado fund and severely criticized Governor Stassen for assigning Ray Milne, once ousted from the state payroll, to administer the fund.

Among charges made by Petersen were that:

The Stassen administration has plenty of money for its campaign and that it is supported by big daily newspapers, and other big business.

The present administration has "falsified the record" of its 21 months in office.

Money was "squandered scandalously" and that forgery and embezzlement took place in administering the Anoka relief fund.

Governor Stassen's claim of a cut of 25 per cent in the number of state employes is "false."

Reduction in highway employment has resulted in less improvement to Minnesota roads.

State debt increased faster in the years preceding the Farmer-Labor administration than during any other period in the state's history.

The Stassen administration took advantage of the present civil service law and fired thousands of persons "to make room for political henchmen."

The governor deceived state employes and voters in the 1938 campaign when he pledged that "those who had done honest and efficient work need not fear loss of their positions."

Governor Stassen has "lined himself up with the big utility corporations and Wall street."

Oklee Pulling Contest Winners

Candidate McNary Will Speak at Ulen Saturday

Senator Charles L. McNary, Republican vice presidential candidate, said Saturday in Washington that his next major campaign speech will be delivered before a tri-state farm meeting at Ulen, Minn., Saturday, Oct. 5. The speech, he said, will be made to farmers from Minnesota, and North and South Dakota, and probably will concern the administration's reciprocal trade program. He will speak during the noon hour.

Only 1 Constitutional Amendment to be Voted on in 1940 Election

Only one constitutional amendment will be submitted to the voters at the general election on November 5. It will reduce the cost of publishing home rule charter amendments when cities wish to make local changes. Present requirements make these amendments so costly that charters are allowed to become out-of-date.

In order to pass, constitutional amendments must be approved by a majority of all the voters in the state who go to the polls on election day. Although this amendment affects only 74 cities it is necessary for people outside the cities to mark their ballots for all unmarked ballots count against the amendment. Constitutional amendments are presented on a separate ballot printed on pink paper and it is easy for voters who do not understand the question to neglect to mark it.

The constitution now requires cities to publish charter amendments in three newspapers for thirty days. The proposed change will require publication in one paper once a week for four weeks.

The constitutional amendment is non-partisan and non-controversial. It has the support of the Minnesota Editorial Association, the League of Minnesota Municipalities, the Legislature, the home rule cities, municipal officials, and all citizens interested in good government.

Mahjong's Invention

According to the generally accepted legend, mahjong was invented about 2,000 years ago by a Chinese fisherman named Sze, who hired men to fish from boats. His employees became seasick, and believing that the malady was imaginary, he invented the game to keep their minds from their condition.

The Nels Burtness' report a number of their sheep have been killed by stray bullets from hunters or culprits. At least six of their sheep have been found dead with bullet holes through their necks. What a horrid crime for anyone to perhaps intentionally shoot those innocent animals who do absolutely no harm to man or beast. We hope the culprits will be caught, if they are such.

Vera Luhe and Delores Lendobeja who attended Lincoln high school spent the week-end at their parental homes. Miss Delores is staying with Ann Stenseth in town. Helen Hardisty, Esther and Arnold Hammer also go to high school but they go to and from home by bus daily.

To My Friends in Thief River Falls and Neighboring Communities:

Because I could not afford to turn down a better proposition with the Fitger Company, I am leaving Thief River Falls and this is an attempt to express my appreciation for the many favors that have been extended to me during the five years I have headquartered here as the Fitger distributor.

It is with sincere regret for both Mary and me that we leave a community in which it has been so pleasant to live. We both feel that, regardless of where we go, we never will find the friendly associations that we have had here.

My work will take me to Brainerd, Minnesota, where I will serve as branch manager of the Fitger Company. Brainerd isn't so far away and we will always be "at home" to our friends.

I wish to thank our customers for the business with which they have favored us. I am sure Bridgeman's, now distributing our product, will provide a dependable service and in their behalf I earnestly solicit your continued patronage. And to a fine group of hustling competitors, whom I have always found to be as fair and as friendly as any competitors could be, I extend my best wishes and thanks for the consideration they have shown me in the past.

This is about my fortieth attempt to write this "good-bye" letter. It isn't easy to say the things you want to say. If I did tell you how I actually feel about leaving then I'm afraid we'd all be crying. Anyhow, I hope to see you soon.

We have always believed in that idea. Every improvement we have added has been done with a view of increasing our usefulness to our patrons.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend Urges Willkie Election in Grand Forks Speech

Dr. Francis E. Townsend told a large crowd in the Grand Forks auditorium Saturday night that the United States can win national prosperity by "putting the old folks on the federal payroll."

The Townsend National Recovery Plan, he said, will force prosperity in the only way possible—by stimulation of business through new spending, by the old folks who previously were practically out of the market.

The "monthly checks the old folks would receive" were urged by the speaker as the "only way now possible" to bring back "good times".

"Our plan in operation," said Dr. Townsend, would reduce also our national expense caused by crime and disease which are the results of poverty.

Dr. Townsend criticized the present administration and urged the election of Wendell Willkie to the presidency.

Death Driver Appears in District Court Here

Pleading guilty in district court here this week to a charge of criminal negligence arising out of the death of James Dyrdahl in an automobile mishap, Harold Thornton, 21, driver of the car, living near Twin Valley, appeared before Judge M. A. Brattland, who referred the case to the parole agent before imposing sentence. Thornton was driving a group of boys to a potato field when Dyrdahl, riding on a front fender, was shaken off, the car passing over his body. He died before reaching the hospital.

IT CAN HAPPEN—CARS LOOK SO MUCH ALIKE

Red Lake Falls—A busy business man with the affairs of a busy week weighing heavily upon his shoulders came out of his establishment the other evening and entered what he thought was his own automobile, drove it home and into his own garage. As he stepped out of the vehicle he noticed the color did not look quite right. After a second look he put on his glasses and took another look, and still unsatisfied took another one. Sure enough he had driven somebody else's car home.

COLVIN H. BUTLER TO SPEAK IN CITY MONDAY EVENING

Republican Workers Conduct Busy Session Here Tuesday Night

At a meeting of Pennington county Republican workers Tuesday evening, final arrangements were made for the appearance of Colvin H. Butler of Fergus Falls, Republican nominee for congress from the Ninth district, at an outdoor rally in this city next Monday evening, October 7. Mr. Butler will speak from a sound truck at the corner of Main av. and Second st. at 8:15.

An added feature of the meeting will be the presentation of three reels of sound movies advocating the election of Wendell Willkie, Republican nominee for the presidency.

At Tuesday's meeting arrangements also were made for a caravan of cars to go from this city to Ulen to hear an address by Senator McNary, Republican nominee for vice president. The caravan will leave the Auditorium at 9:30 and anyone wishing a ride is asked to call Paul A. Lundgren.

It was also announced that Governor Harold E. Stassen will speak at a Ninth district rally at the Auditorium Saturday evening, October 26. Other cities thruout the district are being invited to be represented at the rally.

University Farm Man Warns Against Using Flax Straw for Feed

Martin Eklund, farmer living near Hallock, lost 17 head of cattle within two hours through prussic acid poisoning, after giving the herd access to a pile of flax straw, it was reported last week at University farm.

The case was reported to Dr. R. A. Gortner, chief of the division of bio-chemistry at University farm, who has conducted extensive research into causes of poisoning in animals.

He pointed out that flaxseed contains a poisonous glucoside which liberates prussic acid when eaten by cattle and sheep. Poisoning from flax straw is usually due to the presence of a considerable quantity of seed which failed to thresh out.

Very definitely, flax straw ought not be fed to animals, he said. Flax screenings carry the same danger and should not be fed, and are safe only after a thorough soaking and cooking which destroys the enzyme in the broken and immature seeds.

Gov. Stassen Is Still Undecided on Naming Successor to Lundeen

Governor Stassen disclosed Tuesday that he is no closer to making an appointment of a successor to the late Senator Ernest Lundeen than he was right after the senator's death in an airplane crash a month ago.

The disclosure was a jolt to a number of Republican party figures who have been pressing the governor to make an appointment, preferable their choice, ever since Senator Lundeen's funeral September 3.

But so far, the governor said, he has not found a choice upon whom he is willing to confer the appointment. Though some 80 to 100 candidates have been presented to him, the qualifications he considers necessary have not been met.

Be Thrifty—Read The Times.

Light on Purification

The prophets of old called for purification. Modern health workers call for hygiene. The former gave a religious explanation which primitive man accepted. The latter have given us scientific reasons for many cleanliness practices which date back to ancient days. Out of the gropings of the past has come a science which has thrown new light on sources of infection which the ancients but dimly grasped. But the warning of sanitarians, like that of the prophet, includes, "Wash your hands. Be clean."

STASSEN TARGET OF KEYNOTE TALK OF HJ. PETERSEN

Governor's Opponent Makes Many Charges in Mankato Address

A stinging indictment of the regime of Governor Stassen, coupled with charges that the Republican chief executive has tolerated and sanctioned corruption, was made by Hjalmar Petersen, Farm-Labor nominee for governor in his keynote address Monday night at Mankato.

Petersen, now a member of the state railroad and warehouse commission, charged "graft and corruption" in the distribution of federal, state and local money in the Anoka tornado fund and severely criticized Governor Stassen for assigning Ray Milne, once ousted from the state payroll, to administer the fund.

Among charges made by Petersen were that:

The Stassen administration has plenty of money for its campaign and that it is supported by big daily newspapers, and other big business.

The present administration has "falsified the record" of its 21 months in office.

Money was "squandered scandalously" and that forgery and embezzlement took place in administering the Anoka relief fund.

Governor Stassen's claim of a cut of 25 per cent in the number of state employes is "false."

Reduction in highway employment has resulted in less improvement to Minnesota roads.

State debt increased faster in the years preceding the Farmer-Labor administration than during any other period in the state's history.

The Stassen administration took advantage of the present civil service law and fired thousands of persons "to make room for political henchmen."

The governor deceived state employes and voters in the 1938 campaign when he pledged that "those who had done honest and efficient work need not fear loss of their positions."

Oklee Pulling Contest Winners

Candidate McNary Will Speak at Ulen Saturday

Senator Charles L. McNary, Republican vice presidential candidate, said Saturday in Washington that his next major campaign speech will be delivered before a tri-state farm meeting at Ulen, Minn., Saturday, Oct. 5. The speech, he said, will be made to farmers from Minnesota, and North and South Dakota, and probably will concern the administration's reciprocal trade program. He will speak during the noon hour.

Only 1 Constitutional Amendment to be Voted on in 1940 Election

Only one constitutional amendment will be submitted to the voters at the general election on November 5. It will reduce the cost of publishing home rule charter amendments when cities wish to make local changes. Present requirements make these amendments so costly that charters are allowed to become out-of-date.

In order to pass, constitutional amendments must be approved by a majority of all the voters in the state who go to the polls on election day. Although this amendment affects only 74 cities it is necessary for people outside the cities to mark their ballots for all unmarked ballots count against the amendment. Constitutional amendments are presented on a separate ballot printed on pink paper and it is easy for voters who do not understand the question to neglect to mark it.

The constitution now requires cities to publish charter amendments in three newspapers for thirty days. The proposed change will require publication in one paper once a week for four weeks.

The constitutional amendment is non-partisan and non-controversial. It has the support of the Minnesota Editorial Association, the League of Minnesota Municipalities, the Legislature, the home rule cities, municipal officials, and all citizens interested in good government.

Mahjong's Invention

According to the generally accepted legend, mahjong was invented about 2,000 years ago by a Chinese fisherman named Sze, who hired men to fish from boats. His employees became seasick, and, believing that the malady was imaginary, he invented the game to keep their minds from the [illegible].

To My Friends in Thief River Falls and Neighboring Communities:

Because I could not afford to turn down a better proposition with the Fitger Company, I am leaving Thief River Falls and this is an attempt to express my appreciation for the many favors that have been extended to me during the five years I have headquartered here as the Fitger distributor.

It is with sincere regret for both Mary and me that we leave a community in which it has been so pleasant to live. We both feel that, regardless of where we go, we never will find the friendly associations that we have had here.

My work will take me to Brainerd, Minnesota, where I will serve as branch manager of the Fitger Company. Brainerd isn't so far away and we will always be "at home" to our friends.

I wish to thank our customers for the business with which they have favored us. I am sure Bridgeman's, now distributing our product, will provide a dependable service and in their behalf I earnestly solicit your continued patronage. And to a fine group of hustling competitors, whom I have always found to be as fair and as friendly as any competitors could be, I extend my best wishes and thanks for the consideration they have shown me in the past.

This is about my fortieth attempt to write this "good-bye" letter. It isn't easy to say the things you want to say. If I did tell you how I actually feel about leaving then I'm afraid we'd all be crying. Anyhow, I hope to see you soon.

The Nels Burtness' report a number of their sheep have been killed by stray bullets from hunters or culprits. At least six of their sheep have been found dead with bullet holes through their necks. What a horrid crime for anyone to perhaps intentionally shoot those innocent animals who do absolutely no harm to man or beast. We hope the culprits will be caught, if they are such.

Dear friends:

We recently listened to an address in which the speaker said success in any line depends upon one's usefulness.

In other words, we succeed or we fail in proportion to our usefulness to the people we serve.

We have always believed in that idea. Every improvement we have added has been done with a view of increasing our usefulness to our patrons.

We have received the outline of another plan to create universal and everlasting prosperity. Fundamentally it is the same as the other plans that now are pretty much discredited. The idea is to raise a huge fund by a small tax that no one will mind paying and this fund then will be distributed among some particular group and to be put into circulation again by that group. The theory of the thing, of course, is that it will give great buying power to a group that now has little buying power, and this increased buying power of the favored group is supposed to add just that much to the total buying power of the nation, which in turn will make industry hum and put everybody to work. The falacy of all such plans is obvious. If you take $2 from John Jones and give them to Hiram Henry, you merely shift buying power but you do not increase it, and Hiram becomes richer only to the extent that John becomes poorer. The total of a nation's wealth and the total of its buying power may be increased, as the wealth and buying power of our nation have increased tremendously over a period of time, but they cannot be increased by taking from one and giving to another. There may be other justifiable reasons for taking from the rich and giving to the poor but that is another question and should be argued on its own merits.

A couple of weeks ago we published the results of a presidential poll taken at the local theatre. The figures were very much in favor of Roosevelt of course and we have taken a lot of ribbing since then by our Democrat friends. Well there are two sides to the story. While the poll indicated Roosevelt is a strong favorite locally, the figures, if representative, show that he has lost much ground since 1936. Roosevelt carried the theatre poll 597 to 328, less than 2 to 1. In 1936 Roosevelt carried Pennington county 3,736 to 1,258, approximately 3 to 1. Wait 'till we see Andy.

Several people have expressed their disapproval of Willkie in the manner indignant baseball fans show their dislike for an umpire. At one place he was rotten-egged and in another town heavier objects were thrown at him, seriously injuring one young lady in the crowd. Such incidents are regretable and proper indignation has been expressed by leaders of both parties. President Roosevelt is not to blame for this demonstration, any more than Willkie would be to blame if the situation were reversed. There are crack-pots in all groups. That is not the American way. Let all sides be given an opportunity to be heard. Pull no punches in the campaign verbal battle. But as long as each individual has the right to mark a ballot peacefully, and according to his own best judgement, on election day, there is no justification for violence before election day.

WITHOUT PREJUDICE

Issues of the coming national election are confusing. In considering these issues, thoughtful voters are confronted with more than the usual amount of distressing domestic problems. And now, in addition to the many domestic problems, is added the burden of a critical international situation that threatens to involve us in a world war. Small wonder that a large number of voters state frankly that they do not know which way they are going to go when they cast their ballots.

Most of what is said or written about the issues of the campaign is violently partisan. Prejudice plays too important a part in most discussions. It is refreshing, therefore, to read the editorial of a newspaper that cannot be accused of partisanship or prejudice in stating its position in the present campaign. The New York Times, considered outstanding in the field of journalism, is traditionally Democratic, and has supported Roosevelt and the New Deal in previous elections. Following are some of the reasons it set forth in explaining why, in this election, it found it necessary to reverse itself.

We give our own support to Mr. Willkie primarily for these reasons: Because we believe that he is better equipped than Mr. Roosevelt to provide this country with an adequate national defense; because we believe he is a practical liberal who understands the need of increased production; because we believe that the fiscal policies of Mr. Roosevelt have failed disastrously; because we believe that at a time when the traditional safeguards of democracy are falling everywhere it is particularly important to honor and preserve the American tradition against vesting the enormous powers of the presidency in the hands of any man for three consecutive terms of office.

For ourselves, we welcome the fact that Mr. Willkie stands pledged to conserve rather than to destroy what is best in Mr. Roosevelt's reforms. We believe that these reforms would be safe in Mr. Willkie's hands, not only because Mr. Willkie is a man of good will, but because his approach to the problems now before us shows him to be a liberal. He is enough of a student and enough of a realist to know that we are living in a changing time and that it is both necessary and desirable that the government should take an increasingly active part in policing the financial markets, in safeguarding labor's right to bargain collectively and in achieving social justice for underprivileged people.

More than this, we believe that Mr. Willkie could be relied upon not to make some of the mistakes and not to take some of the risks which Mr. Roosevelt has made and taken. For we believe that while Mr. Roosevelt has helped enormously to awaken the social conscience of this country, and that while he deserves lasting credit for his leadership, Mr. Roosevelt has also put his own reforms in peril. He has put them in peril by ignoring or by failing to understand the fundamental problem of increased production; by encouraging great numbers of Americans to believe that it is possible to grow richer by working less and producing less; by fostering the idea that there exists somewhere a great fund of wealth which has only to be divided more equitably in order to make everybody prosperous; by permitting important members of his administration to preach the doctrine of class jealousy and class hatred.

Mr. Willkie stated the case accurately when he said that "American liberalism does not consist merely in reforming things." It consists in expanding the production of the necessities and the good things of life. Wealth is only another word for production; and in the long run there is no other way to achieve a higher standard of living for the whole people of a nation than to produce goods in abundance.

We believe that Mr. Willkie understands this crucial point better than Mr. Roosevelt, and that he would be more likely to succeed in putting this principal into practice.

In the field of fiscal policy our dissent from the course pursued by Mr. Roosevelt dates from his first year in office. We expressed this dissent in 1936, even while supporting him for re-election, and ventured then to express the hope that he would pursue a more responsible fiscal policy during his second term in office. Unfortunately, his course during his second term has become still more reckless.

OUR COUNTRY'S FINANCES

(The Fargo Forum)

Rightly, the administration and congress have been providing for the national defense. There have been tremendous sums appropriated to put that defense in top shape. But ordinary prudence suggests that we begin to give strict attention to our financial affairs, and particularly is this so since we had to begin the defense preparations with an inordinately high national debt. Recently, Senator Byrd of Virginia pointed out that the non-defense expenditures of the federal government are now about seven billion dollars a year; that tax revenues of the government, including new special defense levies, enacted and pending, will be about six and one-half billions a year. In other words, the total income would thus fall short of supporting the peace-time activities of the government by about half-a-billion dollars. And remember that this total income includes the newly enacted or proposed special levies for defense.

ARE WE MAKING A PERPETUAL PRESIDENT?

(Morris Tribune)

Franklin D. Roosevelt renominated himself for a third term.

Can he reelect himself for a third term?

The question is prompted by the disclosure of various polls to the effect that if the election were to be held today, Roosevelt would be reelected by a decided majority.

How reliable these unofficial polls are, it is difficult to say. There have been notable successes in forecasting the outcome of elections by this method, and there have been notable failures. Were the polls wrong at the time taken or did the current of public favor change between the time the poll was taken and the election? We do not know. Perhaps it is just as well to take the unofficial polls at their face value, and to concede for the purposes of this discussion that there is an unmistakeable trend to Roosevelt today, and that he will be reelected unless that trend changes.

The presidential office in this country is the most powerful office in the world which is submitted to a free election.

It is so powerful that it can cramp the operations of a free choice, and for that reason patriotic presidents who esteemed the preservation of our form of government have set up the standards of "no third term" and for a century and a half the American people have concurred in this limitation as though it were legally a part of the structure of this government.

Franklin D. Roosevelt renominated himself for the presidency by the use of that power. Of course there were other contributing factors such as the division of the opposition among a large field of candidates, but the major fact remains that Roosevelt renominated himself because of the powerful position he held by virtue of being president and because of his control of the party machinery.

Will he reelect himself by a similar use of that power? He has 10,000,000 voters who are directly dependent upon government checks for all or part of their income, and no opportunity is passed up to ascribe this income directly to Roosevelt.

Can anyone say that this is an ordinary presidential election? Does it not hold as much of a prospect of being a cut and dried affair as was the Chicago convention, and is not Roosevelt just as likely to be "drafted" for a third term for the presidency just as he was "drafted" by the Chicago convention?

The amount of thought which the unbought citizenry of the country gives to this problem during the next few weeks is what will determine the outcome.

Either we must have free citizens in this country or our boasted democracy will descend to hollow forms, and Roosevelt will be the perpetual president as long as the money holds out.

According to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the average level of farm prices as of August 15 stood at 96 per cent of the base period 1909-1914. Prices paid by farmers, including interest and taxes, averaged 127 per cent of the 1909-14 period, giving the farm dollar an exchange value of 79 cents. This means that after years of effort and the expenditure of huge amounts of money on the part of the Federal government to improve agricultural conditions, the farm population is still 21 per cent short of receiving real parity with the other groups in our national life.—Northfield News.

Norway has received a bill from Hitler for the amount of 306 million kroner as cost of four months' occupation on pretext of protecting Norway against Great Britain. The terms are that 200 million of this amount is to be paid this fiscal year and the balance can wait until next year. And Norway is going to have to pay it for the Hitlerites are now in control and they have their army there to enforce payment. The Norwegians have also been told to mix their wheat flour with grass meal. We presume that is to add to its commodity value. The Norwegians, many years ago, were short of food because of war and had to resort to birch bark ground into flour. Any relief sent there is not likely to change the situation inasmuch as the conquerers are not so overly supplied with things they need to sustain the civilian and military population.—Roseau Times Region.

Down in Pennsylvania, they are completing the "Pennsylvania Turnpike," a 160-mile super highway from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg, consisting of two 12-foot lanes in each direction, with ten-foot shoulders and a ten-foot planted dividing strip, and without a railroad or highway crossing at grade. That will make a fine highway for the autoist when he is going places but when he gets there he will still have to contend with the narrow and congested streets of the cities. Cities must spread out or they will never be able to meet their traffic problems, and that applies as much to little cities like Morris as it does to the metropolitan centers. Our towns and cities are too cramped for modern methods of transportation.—Morris Tribune.

Patrolman Praised for Saving Injured Youth Crowd Wanted to Move

"He's terribly hurt; put him in a car and rush him to the doctor!"

Accident statistics will never show how often this impulsive suggestion has caused unnecessary death or permanent injury. But an outstanding example of how first aid knowledge possessed by Minnesota highway patrolmen often averts death or permanent maiming of accident victims, and of what disastrous results often follow misguided efforts of well-intentioned persons to immediately move accident victims from the scene of an accident, was eloquently illustrated in results of a severe car-motorcycle crash recently near Austin.

Elden Rowe, chief of the highway patrol, last week received a letter from the parents of one of two young people gravely injured in the Austin accident, highly commending the patrolman on the scene for resisting the urgent demands of bystanders and refusing to permit the youths to be moved until an ambulance arrived. They said this judicious action probably saved one youth from the loss of his leg, if not his life.

SO. ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

(By U. S. Department of Agricultural Economics and Minnesota Department of Agriculture)

South St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 1, 1940— Doggedness persisted in the trade for slaughter steers and yearlings. Light supplies, however, prevented buyers from enforcing measurable declines, the market generally competing steady to weak with last Friday. Quality was mostly medium to good, although three loads of choice mediumweight steers on Tuesday brought $12.15. Heifers sold slowly as well, the Federal-State Market News Service reports, while cows declined 25c. Bulls held steady, and vealers after losing fully 25c on Monday showed a little firmer trend on the following session. Stockers and feeders comprised about 45 percent of the Monday supplies and trade was fairly active at fully steady rates. Choice yearlings went to the country at $10.00, and there were several loads at $9.50. Bulk good to choice westerns brought $8.75-9.25, outstanding quality Angus calves sold at $11.25, while most mixed steer and heifer calves went on country account at $8.00-10.00.

The local hog trade followed an uneven course the first two days of the current week. Barrows and gilts averaging above 220 lb. are mostly steady with last Friday although the Tuesday's top of $6.20 is 5c lower. Receipts of kinds weighing below 200 lb. were burdensome, however, and values on these figured generally 10-25c lower. Packing sows are fully steady to strong. Tuesday's bulk of good to choice 180-270 lb. butchers cashed from $5.90-6.20. Very few strongweight butchers were marketed although small lots of 270-370 lb. were noted from $5.90-6.15. The price spread on good sows was narrowed down to a $5.50-5.90 range.

Buyers succeeded in shaving cost prices another 25c for the first two days this week. Demand for dressed lamb carcasses improved slightly in the east, with most of the good to choice grades moving from $8.60-8.90. Dakota fat lambs were offered freely on Monday, while westerns were scarce, the few arriving mainly of feeder flesh. Slaughter sheep returned steady money, while replacement classes sold at fully steady levels. Top fat lambs for week was $8.75, and bulk turned from $8.50-8.75. Bulk of native feeding lambs sold from $7.75-8.00, a few $8.25-8.50.

The afternoon was spent in needlework and conversation. The following guests were present: Mrs. T. Reierson, C. Simonson, Charlie Heinze, Ole Erickson, G. Sandum, E. O. Gullingsrud, K. Dahle, K. Kolstad, K. Krueger, Werner, and C. W. Vorachek, and E. W. Johnson, the latter two women assisting with the serving. The honored guest was presented with a lovely birthday gift.

He rapped sharply. No answer. He knocked again, and again. Finally the door opened. A sleepy-eyed landlord stuck his head out.

"Well?" he demanded. "What do you want?"

The other took a deep breath.

"I just want to inform you," he said, "that I won't be able to pay the rent this month."

"Is that why you woke me in the middle of the night?" the landlord howled. "Couldn't you tell me that in the morning?"

The other nodded.

"Certainly," [illegible]. "But why should I worry alone?"

OH!

"John, how is the car running?"
"Not so good, Sis! There was a little miss in it last night."

WRESTLING GYM NOW IN OPERATION IN SPORTS ARENA

Recreation Center Offers Variety of Sports and Games

The city recreation program sponsored by the city council in cooperation with WPA recreation leaders has added several new features for the fall season. Among them are the boxing and wrestling gym in the arena, the arena recreation center, and archery.

Rex Johnson and Duane Battelson will act as instructors in the gymnasium. Boxing and wrestling shows will be staged this winter by Bill LaVave, using the boys from the recreation gymnasium. Anyone interested in the fistic or grunt and groan arts are invited to become members of the gym. Facilities are also on hand for persons who prefer exercising alone.

Tennis, volleyball, aerial darts, quoits, tetherball, shuffleboard, fives, and ping pong are games offered at the new arena recreation center. Harvey Egenes is in charge of the center, with assistance from Leroy Olson.

Four new targets, eight new bows, and several dozen new arrows have been completed for archery. As yet no definite place has been located for a range, but information concerning its whereabouts can be secured from leaders in the arena.

No admission is charged for the use of this equipment. Anyone wanting to take part in the activities is very welcome.

Mass Population Movements

Prior to the Nineteenth century, important migratory movements were due to mass expulsion, says a study of "Population and Peace," published by the Columbia University Press. About a quarter of a million Huguenots left France after 1685, and as many as 20,000,000 Africans were transported to the New world.

Prowlers to Compete with Bemidji Friday

Fortified by their 19-6 victory over East Grand Forks last Friday evening, the Lincoln high school Prowlers will tackle the Bemidji eleven in the latter city Friday of this week. The local team will be weakened by the absence from the lineup of LaRue Anderson, who gave an excellent account of himself in the East Grand Forks contest. The game, to be played in the evening, will be a feature of the Bemidji high school homecoming festival.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

By Ferd Elstad

The recreation program is sponsored by the city council in cooperation with Work Projects Administration recreation leaders.

Puppet Theatre

Activities in the theatre will continue as usual during the absence of Camille Dostal, who is in Bemidji attending the state recreation training school. Miss Lucille Thomas will be in charge of puppetry during Mrs. Dostal's two week school session. The theatre is open every week-day afternoon for participation by all those interested. No shows will be staged until the return of the regular puppet leader.

Arena Craft Shop

Organization of a junior craftsmen's club will soon start at the shop. All boys and girls interested in work at the craft shop are eligible as members. Regular meetings of the club will be held, and contests in making various articles will be a part of the club's work. Boys and girls interested in the club can get further information from Loren Lord, head of the craft shop department of the recreation program. Many boys are now making darts and bows and arrows at the shop. Girls seem to be more interested in constructing corner shelves and the like. Many women are working on restoring furniture and building new articles. Some new equipment has been added at the shop to permit greater variety in articles made. It also adds to the convenience of the participants.

Arena Recreation Center

Volleyball, tennis, aerial darts and ping pong are at the disposal of the public at the center on the main floor of the arena. Tetherball, a game not played before on the program, will be introduced at the center. Fives, quoits, and shuffleboard are other games soon to be made available.

Arena Gymnasium

Boxing and wrestling are being stressed in the gymnasium. However, there are some participants who content themselves with the exercise equipment on hand. All men and boys interested in boxing or wrestling are invited to come to the gym. Boxing and wrestling shows will be put on this winter, using talent from the gym.

Welcome

Everyone in Thief River Falls is welcome to take part in the activities of the program either as a spectator or participant. The case here is "the more the merrier." If everyone would make it a point to visit a part of the program, the program would benefit to a large extent.

Huge Vegetable and Fine Grapes at Times Office

Outstanding among several items brought in to the Times office this week are a 19-pound mangel wurzel grown for stock feed on the C. L. Heinze truck farm south of the city, and some fine clusters of grapes grown by John C. Jorgenson of the Hazel community, who reports having taken 30 pounds of grapes off one vine this fall.

Weight of Blood

Blood constitutes about one twentieth of the body weight.

East Grand Forks Bows to Prowler Team 19-6

Led by backs LaRue Anderson and Eddie Flasch, and linemen Armand Peterson and Don Olson, the Prowlers dove through East Grand Forks' Green Wave for three second-half touch-downs, and with one extra point conversion, to win a hard-fought 19 to 6 victory in a game played here last Friday night.

The East Siders jumped into a six point lead when their burly line blocked a punt to set up a first period score. The Prowlers received the kickoff; two end sweeps gained a couple of yards; a pass was incomplete; and East Grand broke through to block a fourth down punt, recovering the ball on the Thief River 20 yard line. A Prowler penalty advanced the ball to the 16, and on the next play Dan Hunt passed to Kennedy for the East Grand Forks touchdown. The extra point attempt failed when a line play was stopped. The score: 6 to 0 East Grand Forks. A moment later the hard-charging East Side line broke through to block another Prowler punt, giving the Greenies the ball deep in Thief River territory; but the Prowlers held for downs on their four-yard line.

The second period was scoreless, with both teams smashing the other's offense, the East-Side line, in particular, being effective in sifting through and smearing the Prowlers' passing attack.

East Grand Forks opened the second half by kicking to the Prowlers' Don Olson, who returned the ball to the Thief River 25 yard line where he lateraled to Anderson, and Andy brought the ball to the 30 yard line. Three running plays lost 10 yards, and the Prowlers punted to the East Grand 40 yard line. Two East Side plays gained 5 yards, and on third down the Prowlers' left tackle Armand Peterson smashed through to block a kick, the ball bounding back to the 20 yard line where right end Don Olson scooped up the bouncing ball and raced over for a touchdown. Anderson on a plunge over right tackle converted the extra point. The score: Prowlers 7, East Grand Forks 6.

Thief River scored twice in the fourth period, a completed pass, Anderson to Flasch, bringing the ball to the East Siders' 20 yard line, and on a fake pass Anderson broke through center, swerved to the right and out-ran the secondary for a touchdown. A few minutes later Anderson intercepted a pass in mid-field and scampered to the East Grand Forks 12 yard line before being thrown out of bounds. A line play was good for two yards, and then Anderson tossed a pass over the goal line to left end Babe Peterson for the final touchdown. The game's score: Thief River Falls 19, East Grand Forks 6.

Toledo Legionnaire Is Named U. S. Commander of the American Legion

Milo J. Warner, Toledo, Ohio, attorney, won election as national commander of the American Legion today in a landslide on the first ballot in Boston last Thursday.

The contest for the most prized of all Legion posts was settled quickly after the veterans' organization, at the closing session of its 22nd annual convention, decided overwhelmingly against any declaration in favor of U. S. Neutrality.

After a heated floor fight, the Legionnaires shouted down an amendment favoring neutrality in all foreign affairs dealings, thus reversing an unbroken policy of the organization for the last 16 years.

The delegates voted to hold their 1941 convention in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Tid-Bits

By Huck Olson

It was 19 to 0

Here's the opinion of referee Glen Hubbard on that extra point matter in the Crookston game: "As I recall the play the pass was wide and the receiver fumbled the ball. Since he was not in possession of the ball it remained in play even though his knee or other parts of his body was on the ground. Therefore the recovery and forward pass was legal and the point scored. The only question on the play was as to the eligibity of the receiver, and he was eligible."

Shakopee to National Meet

Shakopee, the team that eliminated Plummer in the state tournament, earned the right to represent Minnesota in next year's national baseball congress at Battle Creek, Mich., when they defeated Albert Lea, the class AA winner, 7 to 0 last Sunday. And pitching the shut-out for Shakopee was Jess Schwartz. In fact it's a bit of a boost for the Plummer team to know that they were the only club to score on Schwartz during the tourney, for he shut-out Fergus Falls, 6 to 0, in the state finals, in addition to Sunday's shut-out.

Duck Shooting

There may be twice as many ducks in Mud lake as there were last year, and that's the report of Bob Forder, and there may be ducks in Thief lake; but these ducks haven't begun to leave the refuges in search of feed, for the opening day's duck shooting around here was the poorest it's been for many years. And there aren't so many ducks in the lakes south of her either. Paul Mellby and Haakon Olson were in a group that hunted at White Fish lake, near Fosston, on Tuesday, and the bunch brought back ten ducks, mostly teal. And these hunters were well-equipped for duck hunting for they had two duck boats and a float of 42 decoys; but the ducks weren't there to be decoyed. And about all one could get out of tramping the banks of the Clearwater and Red Lake rivers was some exercise. There is a hope, though, according to the old-time hunters, that when this summer picnic-weather that we've been enjoying ends and the rough weather begins, that we will have some duck shooting. And when the feed in the Mud lake and Thief lake refuges becomes so scarce that the mallards have to range out in the barley stubble, then we will have some first-class duck shooting. Let's hope so.

Andy Ineligible

I can get more worries from Andy Anderson, the Prowler football player, than I can from the war in Europe. Maybe if Andy was in Europe there wouldn't be any war! After playing a bang-up game against East Grand, Andy has to get himself into some more of that school attendance trouble and make himself ineligible for tomorrow night's game at Bemidji. And that puts it squarely up to the rest of the Prowlers to prove that they can play winning football without Andy in their backfield. Andy's attendance trouble is brought about by the fact that he has had a part-time job, and he has tried to fill that job and go to school at the same time. It hasn't been a case of playing hooky. Well, I hope that he can get him- [illegible] so that he will be eligible for the rest of the games, for the Prowlers still have a chance to cop the conference championship. And there's no use kidding ourselves, the Prowlers, with Andy in the lineup, are a much stronger and better balanced team than when he is sitting on the side-lines.

RECREATION TOPIC HERE AT TRAINING SCHOOL THIS WEEK

Sessions are Sponsored by Agricultural Extension Service

About thirty people representing 4-H clubs, farmers clubs, and other organizations in six of the nearby counties and Pennington County attended the district recreational training school conducted at the Sons of Norway Hall, in Thief River Falls, on October 1 and 2. The school was sponsored by the agricultural extension division in cooperation with the county extension organizations.

The purpose of the training school was to train leaders from these various counties and organizations so that they in turn will be able to conduct local training schools for organizations in their counties. A local training school will be announced later for Pennington County.

The instructional work was conducted by Amy Wessel, state club agent, and Peter Olson, a specialist on folk dancing. The group that attended the school devoted time to the construction of a set of game equipment for each county, and considerable time was spent at special games of various types that might be adapted to all sorts of groups and occasions. The formation and folk dances taught by Peter Olson proved especially popular with the leaders.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

CITE FIGURES ON OLD-AGE AID FOR STATE THIS YEAR

Average Grant Shows Fractional Rise in August, Says Director

Increased expenditures for old age assistance, mothers' pensions and aid to the blind, with seasonable decreases in the cost of direct relief, are reported in the August summary of Minnesota public assistance programs issued today by Walter W. Finke, director of the division of social welfare.

During August, the report says, the cost of old age assistance was $1,222,566; $1,418 higher than July. While the number of cases dropped three, the average grant, which in July passed $21, continues to increase and in August was $21.04.

Mothers' pensions, officially catalogued as aid to dependent children, was paid to 48 more families, in which there were 105 children. The aid to the blind program showed a slight increase in the number of recipients.

While there was a seasonal decrease of 1,944 cases receiving direct relief, the average grant rose to $21.73 in August, which amount is 37 cents higher than the average in July. The average grant to disabled war veterans, the report said, increased 24 cents from the July average.

"The most significant fact about the social welfare programs in Minnesota during August," said Mr. Finke, "is that while there has been a seasonal decrease in the aggregate cost, the average grant per case has continued the trend toward higher levels. This obviously reflects the effort of county welfare officials to limit grants to cases actually in need, but to provide adequate aid, once the need is established."

CROOKSTON CLINIC FOR CHILDREN TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Rules Cited for Those Who Attended T. R. Falls Clinic in Spring

Needy crippled children under 21 from this county are urged to attend the field clinic to be held at the high school in Crookston on Saturday. The clinic is one of sixteen being conducted throughout the state during 1940 by the bureau for crippled children of the state division of social welfare. Registration hours are set for 8:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m.

The last orthopedic clinic held in Crookston was in the spring of 1939, with Thief River Falls having the clinic for this district in 1940. Beginning with the clinic in Crookston this fall, however, that city becomes a regular center with field clinics scheduled annually.

Dr. Malvin J. Nydahl, head of the bureau, specifically requests that those children who attended the clinic last spring in Thief River Falls, should not attend the clinic next Saturday unless especially requested to do so. These children, he explained, should report instead to the Thief River Falls clinic next spring. In inviting new patients to attend the Crookston clinic, Dr. Nydahl added that, "The sooner the orthopedic correction is made, usually the greater are the chances for normal use of the affected part." New patients should bring with them a letter of referral from their physicians.

Bear Hunting Permitted in Deer Season Nov. 15-25

There's going to be a bear season in Minnesota this fall but chances are most bruins will be snugly droned up for the winter. Fixed by law to coincide with the deer season which is November 15 to 25 inclusive, the bear season normally finds the quarry hibernated for the winter. Occasionally a bear will wander out of his den on a warm sunshiny day, Department technicians admitted. That these cases are rare is attested to by the few bear bagged by deer hunters.

Local Women Will Vie With 3000 Others for National Crochet Title

Three local women will match their needlework ability with the country's outstanding crocheters this fall it is revealed today in the announcement in New York that they have become eligible to compete in the finals for the fourth nation-wide crochet contest. The contest annually names the national crochet champion and 43 "Ranking crocheters", with only the most important examples of current American crochet considered in the final judging. Local contestants include Mrs. Melvin Hylle, Mrs. L. J. Furan and Mrs. Charles Hageman.

More than three thousand prize-winning crochet pieces, representing the best crochet talent of the country, will compete with the local ladies' entries. The national contest is open only to women whose crochet has won a first prize in a 1940 state, county, or local fair, it is explained. The local contestants won first premiums at the county fair this year, and have received word from the National Needlecraft Bureau in New York, contest headquarters, that they are new eligible for the final test.

$1,350 in cash prizes will be awarded by the contest. The national winner, in addition to her cash awards, will receive a free trip to New York City or Bermuda. Last year's winner, Mrs. E. N. Noble, of Minneapolis, was widely entertained while in the city at many receptions and parties in her honor.

Thousand 4-H Members Groom Their Projects for Junior Stock Show

Nearly a thousand Minnesota 4-H members will be busy in October putting a finish on their market animals for the Junior Livestock Show which will be held the latter part of this month as a grand finale to the market livestock work of more than 17,000 boys and girls, J. As in the past, the show will be sponsored by the Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service and the Minnesota Livestock Breeders' association, with the co-operation of Twin City business groups and livestock marketing organizations at South St. Paul.

The general program will be as follows:

HUNTING SEASON FOR WATERFOWL NOW IN PROGRESS

Shooting Allowed Between Sunrise and 4 P. M. Until Nov. 29

One of the greatest hunting seasons in Minnesota history swung into full stride this week as sportsmen invaded lakes and marshes in quest of migratory waterfowl.

With shooting permitted between sunrise and 4 p. m. daily, the waterfowl season began October 1 and will continue through November 29. The daily bag limit is ten, the possession 20 birds.

Pheasant hunting in specified areas will begin October 12 and continue through November 3. Southern zone shooting of Hungarian partridge will extend from October 12 to 19.

Another new season holding interest for many sportsmen is that on squirrels from October 15 to December 31. The limit, on both gray and fox squirrels in the aggregate, is seven per day and 14 in possession.

Already behind Minnesota sportsmen are two seasons. The shooting period on prairie chicken and sharp-tailed grouse expired October 2 along with the northern zone shooting of Hungarian partridge.

Among the last of the upland game bird seasons is that of the quail, November 2 to 10, in specified areas.

The world will overlook an error now and then if you will bat out a three-bagger occasionally in a pinch.

Life-Long Friend Tells About Colvin G. Butler

Colvin G. Butler is a man whom I have known since childhood. He is well fitted for the job of Congressman for the Ninth District. He is the son of the late Steve Butler and Amanda Butler, who was the daughter of Senator McCrea, the first state senator in the district which was almost identical with the present 9th Congressional District of Minnesota. Colvin was born in Perham, the third in a family of seven children. His earlier years were spent on the farm. He had just reached the age of fourteen at the time he drove the binder and cut the grain. That fall he did all the plowing with a sulky plow. He is a farm owner and perfectly understands the needs of the farmer.

The Butler family moved to Fergus Falls from Perham, when the late Steve Butler was elected County Treasurer. Colvin graduated from Fergus Falls High School in 1902, received first prize at this time for writing the best Senior essay on the Value of debating. He played on the championship football team which never lost a game, and was captain of the high-school baseball team. He was also on the championship debating team. After school hours, on Saturdays, and during summer vacations, he clerked and kept books in a grocery store. During two summer vacations he was employed doing clerical work in the offices of the County Auditor and County Treasurer. He attended Hamline University, receiving his B. A. degree in 1907. At Hamline he was on the debating team for two years. He also took a course in Commercial Law and Business at Park Region Luther College.

COLVIN G. BUTLER

Colvin married Elizabeth Bertelson, daughter of Gunder Bertelson, who served nine years as Sheriff of Otter Tail County. Steve Butler was Deputy Sheriff under Mr. Bertelson, and was always active in politics and public affairs, so his son Colvin comes honestly by his political desires.

Having traveled extensively throughout the United States and Mexico, he has acquired a wonderful knowledge and background for the making of a good and successful congressman, not only for the 9th Congressional District of Minnesota but for the entire United States.

I bespeak for him, his election and consider it a real privilege and pleasure to vote for one so eminently fitted for this position.

September 23, 1940

Very sincerely yours,

AMON MARCKEL,
Perham, Minnesota.

"FIRST"

THE FIRST COAL FOUND IN AMERICA

is said to have been discovered by Father Louis Hennepin on his exploration trip of 1679-80. The story goes that he noticed coal on the bluffs of the Illinois river near what is now LaSalle, Illinois. The first Central Lumber Co. coal used by residents of this community brought the discovery that "Here's the coal we've been looking for!"

Whatever the requirements of your heating plant, you'll find no better coal than Central's for the price you want to pay.

OPINIONS
★that Count!

★"BEER AS ADVOCATED HERE (3.2 BEER) IS A NON-INTOXICATING DRINK." Dr. Alfred Stengel of Philadelphia testifying before the Senate committee in 1932.

★"TAKEN IN MODERATION BEER NOT ONLY IS HARMLESS BUT HEALTHFUL." Dr. William Gerry Morgan, Past President of the American Medical Association.

★ "I REGARD BEER AS A FOOD AND NOT INTOXICATING IN THE AMOUNTS THAT ONE USUALLY CONSUMES IT"
Dr. William F. Lorenz, University of Wisconsin

★"..WE CONCLUDE THAT 3.2 BEER IS NON-INTOXICATING"
Report of Dr. A. J. Carlson, University of Chicago, and four associate scientists.

We're all entitled to have opinions— but the wisest among us consult the experts before adopting opinions on any subject.

Doctors know through long study and scientific research that beer is wholesome and nutritious . . . that 3.2 beer is non-intoxicating when taken in the amounts the average person consumes it! And, because beer satisfies every need for a healthful stimulating beverage, these noted doctors recommend its wider use as the most practical means to promote true temperance.

This is something for Minnesotans to think about . . . especially because the beer industry employs approximately 35,000 Minnesotans . . . buys annually about $3,500,000 worth of Minnesota grain . . . and pays approximately $2,000,000 to the State Treasurer of Minnesota in beer taxes alone!

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Minnesota

To be submitted at 1940 General Election

STATE OF MINNESOTA
LEGAL DEPARTMENT

J. A. A. BURNQUIST
Attorney General

St. Paul, Minnesota,
February 6, 1940

Honorable Mike Holm,
Secretary of State.

Dear Sir:

In compliance with the provisions of Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927, Section 44, I make this statement of the purpose and effect of the amendment proposed to the constitution of Minnesota to be voted on at the November 5, 1940 general election in accordance with Laws 1939, Chapter 447.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

By the enactment of Laws 1939, Chapter 447, the legislature has proposed an amendment to Section 36 of Article 4 of the constitution. This section now reads as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the application of which may be limited to cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants or of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least once each week for four successive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation in such city or village and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise, but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses, if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the application of which may be limited to cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

Purpose and Effect

The purpose and effect of the proposed amendment is to require publication of amendments to home rule charters once each week for four (4) successive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation in such city or village instead of publication in three (3) newspapers of general circulation in such city or village for at least thirty (30) days as now required.

There are many cities and villages which do not have three local newspapers. In such cases, under the present provision, publication must be made in newspapers printed elsewhere and circulating locally. If the proposed amendment is adopted, publication will be required in only one qualified newspaper, thereby reducing the difficulty and expense of amending home rule charters.

Very truly yours,
J. A. A. BURNQUIST,
Attorney General.

STATE UNIVERSITY STARTS NEW TERM IN NORMAL STATUS

Enrollment Expected to be up to Average in Spite of Draft

Although registration figures are not yet available, every early indication is that the University of Minnesota will proceed this year on an entirely normal basis in enrollment, student interest and educational activity despite the obvious uncertainties that attend certain phases of our national life.

University administrators had been watching with keen interest to see how matters would "start off" and have expressed pleasure at the prospect of unswerving interest in education in Minnesota.

Some students undoubtedly will be taken by the first conscription, and a few faculty members will be called into service as reserve officers. Doctors in the medical school are responding to a call for volunteers for an army hospital organization, but will be unaffected until and unless that unit is called into action. There has been a small increase in quota for naval reserve corps members, but none for the army ROTC, the war department having explained that it is now producing all the officers it needs.

Changes in the University of Minnesota's organization are few and not many of them are important. There is a new dean of the graduate school, Dr. Theodore Blegen, and the General College is now operating under a committee headed by Dr. T. R. McConnell, with Dr. Horace T. Morse as assistant director.

The extensive PWA building program of a year ago, in which the government provided 45 per cent of the cost of several new structures, has been completed. An agronomy building will be put up this year with state funds, but no other structure is in prospect at present.

Opening of the university found the students using the new Coffman Memorial Union to an extent that justified the most extreme hopes of the administration and there is every reason to believe that it will immediately take an important place in university life.

REGISTRATION FOR DRAFT SET ON OCTOBER 16

Young Men, Ages 21 to 36, Are Required to Register Wednesday

REGISTRARS LOCATED AT POLLING PLACES

More Than 1900 Expected to Register in Pennington County

Young men of ages between 21 and 36 from Pennington county and throout the nation will register for selective military service at their usual voting places next Wednesday, October 16, between the hours of 7 o'clock in the morning and 9 in the evening.

At Washington headquarters it was estimated that approximately fifteen per cent of the total population will register. On this basis the names of 900 Thief River Falls young men will be enrolled, with the total for the county slightly more than 1900. Only a fraction of the number registered, it has been indicated, will be called into active service in the immediate future.

The registration of each man should require about twenty minutes, according to information supplied to local officials. The original registration cards are filed with the county auditor, and later will be placed in the custody of the local draft board, which will have the responsibility of classifying the men who are registered.

On the registration card men will be required to list: full name, address, telephone number, age, date and place of birth, citizenship record; give name of person who will always know address of the registrant, and relationship of that person; employer's name and business address. Description of the registrant is entered by the registrar. A small registration certificate is filled out and given to each registrant.

'RADIO REVELS' TO BE PRESENTED AT FALLS OCT. 16-17

Legion Auxiliary to Sponsor Stage Show in Local Theatre

Not for a long time has so much interest been shown in a local stage presentation as is already manifest in the forthcoming "Radio Revels" studio show and revue, scheduled for next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, October 16 and 17, at the Falls Theatre, under the auspices of the American Legion auxiliary.

Including all the highlights of the many radio shows on the air, from comedians, singers, quiz program, commentators and in addition, dancers and other specialty numbers, the revue will be built to please and entertain all theatre and radio fans.

Just who will take the parts of various radio and screen stars, such as Jack Benny, Fred Allen, Vera Vague, Bonnie Baker, Burns and Allen, Kenny Baker, Kate Smith and any one of the many other headliners, is, of course, a secret which makes the show still more fun for the audiences. Auditions are now being held for these and any other imitations by local persons by the director, Paul Fine, who directed and staged the highly successful "Hollywood Premiere" at the Falls Theatre two years ago.

A showing of the newest 1941 radios is being arranged for the lobby by leading local radio dealers, saluting the new radio and movie season, in co-operation with the American Legion Auxiliary, who are also selling tickets for the big show in advance, at no addition to the regular theatre admission price.

Among those who are working on the various committees for the sponsoring organization are: Mrs. Caldis, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Swedenberg, Mrs. Levorson, Mrs. Ward Long and Mrs. C. A. Wiltrout.

On the screen, a showing of "We Who Are Young", starring Lana Turner, and the latest "March of Time", titled, "Gateways To Panama" is scheduled for 7 o'clock and again at 9:45 both evenings. The "Radio Revels" stage show will start at 8:45 o'clock, between the screen shows.

Council Slashes City Tax Levy

Making a successful attempt to sharply lower the city budget for the coming year to offset an expected large increase in the county levy, the city council at an adjourned session Wednesday evening voted a levy of $22,200 for 1940 compared to $39,789.39 for 1939.

The council's ability to make such a drastic reduction is due to several factors, chief of which was that no levy was made for the poor fund for the coming year, owing to the fact that the city will receive a substantial sum from the county in reimbursement for expenditures of past years. In 1939 $8,004.18 was levied for this purpose.

It was indicated that the total tax rate in Thief River Falls for 1940 will be slightly less than the 1939 figure of 114.21, in spite of the fact that assessed valuations in the city are down from $1,653,756 in 1939 to $1,587,505 for 1940.

Comparative figures on items in the levy for this year and last follow:

Poor fund	$ 8,004.18
Auditorium	2,001.05	$ 2,500
Library	4,498.22	4,500
Permanent Impr.	4,994.35	1,000
Parks	6,300.82	5,000
Cemetery	1,504.92	500
Band fund	793.80	700
Interest fund	2,001.05	2,000
Sinking fund	2,695.62	4,000
Paving Impr	6,995.38	2,000
	$39,789.39	$22,200

In addition to the above items, the county auditor will levy approximately $1,800 to apply on a state loan to the city, the amount levied in 1939 for this purpose having been $1,752.99.

MEETING SERIES TO DISCUSS FEED FOR LIVESTOCK

First Session for Farmers Scheduled for October 22nd

Livestock farmers will be interested in a series of meetings dealing with livestock feeding scheduled this fall by the county extension office. H. B. Searles, livestock specialist with the agricultural extension division, has been secured to conduct the school. He is widely known among dairy men, and will place emphasis on dairy feeding problems.

The meetings will be held at the Civic and Commerce room of the City Auditorium, on the 22nd of October and the 15th of November.

A large number of farmers have special problems arising because of the kind, quality, and quantity of feed they use and the feeding methods they use, says County Agent Lester Lerud. Emphasis will be placed on how the average farmer can more effectively use the feed he raises and how his returns from his home grown crops can be increased.

In the coming series of meetings emphasis will be placed on some of the fundamentals relative to feeding, the feeding value of various crops, the proper combinations of feeds and roughages, problems relative to the growing of feed crops, and the pasture problems.

E. G. FORKS WOMAN HACKED TO DEATH SUNDAY MORNING

Former Inmate of St. Cloud Reformatory Confesses to Crime

Donald (Swede) Hanson, 21, parolee from St. Cloud reformatory who confessed the slaying of Mrs. Donald Licktelg, 21, at East Grand Forks Sunday, was in the county jail at Crookston yesterday, after a coroner's jury returned a verdict that "Vivian Licktelg came to her death thru violence" at his hands.

County Attorney F. H. Stadsvold said he would file a first degree murder charge against the youth and that a preliminary hearing would be held in municipal court in East Grand Forks.

Hanson was apprehended Monday night at the home of his widowed mother, several hours after Mrs. Licktelg's body was found in a clump of brush a half mile from her blood spattered three-room shack.

After four hours of questioning by Gregg and Max Raines of the state bureau of criminal apprehension, they announced he had signed a confession, saying the fatal argument started early Sunday at her home "about her running around with some Mexicans."

Finding of Mrs. Licktelg's hacked and bloody body climaxed a search which started Sunday with the finding of her blood-spattered home near the Red river. The body, bearing 14 wounds and with innumerable scratches, wrapped in a pink quilt, was found in a clump of bushes by a young school girl.

Mrs. Licktelg's husband is an inmate of St. Cloud reformatory.

A rural youth group was organized last Wednesday evening at Thief River Falls with the assistance of Miss Ruby Christianson, rural youth specialist from University farm and the county extension office. About twenty-five rural young men and women attended the meeting and elected Iris Ayers as temporary chairman, and Ethel Parnow as temporary secretary.

Four delegates from the county, Morris Engelstad, Harry Solberg, Elaine Helgeson, and Elfie Hanson will attend a series of monthly training schools at Red Lake Falls. They in turn will lead the discussions at the regular monthly meetings in Pennington County. This fall and winter a series of meetings on farm engineering will be conducted for the boys, and a series of meetings on the well-dressed young woman will be conducted for the girls.

REGISTRATION DAY DESIGNATTD IN U. S. FOR OCTOBER 16TH

Any person who on Registration Day is prevented by illness from presenting himself before a registration board, but who is not in a hospital, shall have a competent person apply to the chief registrar in his own district for authority to act as registrar in the case. The chief registrar will swear the applicant in as deputy registrar, and authorize him to make out the registration card, and return the completed card for issuance of registration certificate.

Any person who is too sick or who is quarantined on Registration Day, shall, as soon as possible, present himself to a local board and be registered. A physician's certificate or other competent evidence is necessary to prove valid cause for failing to register on the proper day.

Any person who is sick in a hospital on Registration Day will be registered by special registrars appointed by the city or county clerks. The registrars so appointed perform the same duties as regular registration boards.

Men who are away from home in schools and colleges can register at registration places established for that purpose on their campus. Students who are attending school in their own communities should register at the place authorized in their own districts where they would normally vote.

Sande Tells Lions Club of L. O'L. Operations

A guest night program was conducted at a meeting of the Lions club Wednesday evening, the speaker being Clarence Sande of the local Land O'Lakes plant, who gave interesting details of the business handled by the huge co-operative. In its business session the club voted to cooperate with Ferd Elstad, local recreational leader, in arranging a program for the children of the community on Hallowe'en.

Phosphate Test Shows Increased Yield Here

The Pennington county phosphate test demonstration cooperators, and a number of community committeemen met in the Civic and Commerce rooms at Thief River Falls last Thursday, to review the results of the demonstration program in the county this past year, and to formulate their plans for the coming year. This past year the ten cooperators, who were selected as community demonstration operators last winter, received 61,300 pounds of calcium meta-phosphate. Each cooperator, is keeping a set of complete farm records, and attempts are being made to determine the returns that are being made by the use of phosphate. The same cooperators who were selected last spring will continue their demonstrations through this next year.

George A. Nesom, extension soil specialist, and C. L. McNelly, district county agent leader, who supervise the demonstration program in the state, and Ray Burkholder, who has been working on farm record books, attended the meeting.

Despite a rather unfavorable moisture supply during the summer and, the late application of the fertilizer last spring, Mr. Nesom reported that on the sixteen fertilized grain fields in the county on which the yields were checked this past year the increase in yield varied all the way from .4 bushel per acre on a wheat field on Harry Haugen's farm in Wyandotte township to 9.7 bushels per acre increase on a barley field on Alfred Jorstad's farm in Kratka township. The average increase in yield on five wheat fields was 2 bushels, on six oat fields 4.4 bushels, and on five barley fields 7.4 bushels per acre.

The importance of the pasture problem was stressed by C. L. McNelly. He also pointed out that pastures on most farms, have been the most neglected of any farm crop, and discussed briefly a pasture program that is being set up on most of the test demonstration farms. Reseeding old pastures with desirable pasture mixtures, the application of barnyard manure and phosphate, and the use of a rotation grazing system was advocated. A number of pictures were used by McNelly in illustrating his points.

National Red Cross to Conduct 1940 Rollcall Starting November 11

Confronted with growing responsibilities arising from the national defense program and increased demands for its day-to-day services of disaster relief, first aid and life saving, the American Red Cross on November 11 will launch its greatest membership appeal since World War days, it was announced in Washington by Chairman H. Davis. The appeal for membership support to finance operations in the coming year will be carried to the nation by more than 500,000 volunteers, Chairman Davis said. It was pointed out that requests of the military and naval forces for Red Cross nurses, welfare services for enlisted men and the registration of medical technologists and volunteer blood donors were more than doubling the organizations domestic obligations.

This Week Is Being Noted as Fire Prevention Week

This week has been proclaimed Fire Prevention Week by President Roosevelt and throughout the nation campaigns will be waged to cut down the loss from fires which in the first five months of this year destroyed $150,363,000 worth of property. This is the highest loss for the same period in a number of years, and efforts to reduce it are urged as one means of speeding the national defense program. The 1939 fire loss in the nation exceeded 275 million dollars.

Governor Stassen Lauds Willkie in Radio Talk

Wendell Willkie will use the power of his office to help the farmer secure a better income, Governor Harold E. Stassen said in a radio talk this week, declaring that breaking the Third Term tradition would be "putting quicksand under the foundations of America."

Discussing the swing in Minnesota toward the candidacies of Wendell Willkie and Charles L. McNary, the governor stated that: "Willkie made clear in his Omaha speech his program for the farmers, and further stated that he would rely on the advice of that outstanding friend of the farmer, who will be vice-president, Charles L. McNary."

"I feel from my personal discussions with Wendell Willkie that he will prove to be a real friend of the farmer," Stassen said. "He believes that it is just as important that the farmer be able to farm at a profit as it is that business be successful. He will use the power of his office to help the farmer who is now struggling against adverse price conditions and debt burdens to secure a better income and fairer share of an increased national income."

Mud Lake Ducks

One reason for the spotty hunting around Mud lake has been the warm weather: but another reason is that the ducks have found ample feed within the reserve. And here's the reason for all that feed: included within the limits of the reserve are many acres of fine crop land, land that is ideal for the growing of barley. The agency superintendent is permitted to rent this land to farmers with the proviso, that as rental, the farmers will leave unharvested one fourth of the crop. And it is this rental barley that the Mud lake ducks are feeding on now. There are thousands and thousands of ducks in the lake so it shouldn't take more than a week or two, according to all reports, before most of the feed in the refuge is gone, and then the mallards will have to increase their feeding range. As far as the actual duck hunting up there now is concerned it's mostly morning shooting. And it is necessary to spot the feeding grounds the previous evening, usually a barley field adjoining the reserve, and then to reach these grounds early the next morning and get your shooting as the mallards come from the lake. It's much easier said than done.

Story of Carlo the Nimrod

Carlo Columbo and Gay Strong were up Red Lake river Tuesday morning, as far as Neptune, looking for ducks. And here's the story Gay brought back: it was a fog-filled morning as they trudged the river bank, with Carlo a considerable distance in the lead. Gay heard the report of Carlo's gun, called to ask him if he had shot anything. "I think I got one", replied Carlo. And it's a big one, too, he added. Both hunters splashed down to the river bank, and with a long pole, pulled Carlo's duck to shore. Carlo, who's smart on things like this, said, "This isn't any mallard". Gay agreed, but added that he thought it was a butterball. "A butterball, eh", said Carlo, filled with pride; "they make good eating, don't they?" And then came the blow. Gay, who had acted like a 'straight' man during the entire dialog, couldn't keep up the act any longer and he had to tell Carlo that the 'duck' he had shot was a hell-diver.

The Bemidji Game

I'm not trying to scrape up an alibi for the game at Bemidji last Friday night; but I won't admit that the Lumberjacks, on the stuff they showed that night, are 19 points stronger than the Prowlers. One touchdown would have been a fair margin for the game. Bemidji, and they controlled the ball for about three fourths of the game, were able to rack up only eight first downs, while the Prowlers collected four first downs. And too, it must be remembered that the Prowlers played the game under handicaps. First, the rain, wind, and the heavy field was to the advantage of the bulky Lumberjacks, whose two tackles, Nelson and Meland, tipped the scales at 195 pounds each; and second, with Andy on the sidelines, the Prowlers didn't have a power back in their lineup. That made quite a difference, for the Bemidji line could be looser on defense, and smear the Prowler end sweeps.

Spuds Here Tomorrow Night

The Moorhead Spuds, looking for revenge for last season's defeat by the Prowlers, will be here tomorrow night for a game under the lights on Lincoln field. Coach Lindenmeyer has been forced to revamp his backfield, bringing Johnny Parbst from the line to a backfield position. LaRue Andy Anderson, who was ineligible for the Bemidji game, is back at halfback, and with Flasch, Carlisle, and Ferguson, will make a strong first string backfield; but it is in reserve backs that the Prowlers will be weakened. Orlin Gjernes and Denny Althoff are out for the season, and Luther Fjelstad has been a bit sick.

Miscellany

Bones Stadum and Harry Oen are on the Minnesota freshman football squad, Bones being listed with the end candidates, and Harry playing at a guard position. Austin Shanahan ran into some tough luck. He had just about won a place in the backfield on the St. John's College football team when he was stricken with appendicitis and forced to undergo an operation. Reuben Mickelson, of the basket-shooting Mickelsons, who attended Iowa State as a freshman last year, is employed in Columbus, Ohio. His intention is to remain at his job this year and then to enroll at Ohio State next year. His brother Gil, you know, is captain of the Ohio State basketball team. That should be a red-hot bowling series tonight, between the J &B Drugs and the Thief River Pharmacy. It's at 7:15. I'll win myself a 'coke' if the J & B's Kammy Berg doesn't average 193, and I have Ed Carlson's word for it that Kammy won't average that figure.

First Superintendent Delivers Address for N. W. School Opening

T. A. Hoverstad, first superintendent of the Northwest Experiment Station at Crookston was the convocation speaker at the opening assembly of the Northwest School at Crookston, on Wednesday, October 2. Mr. Hoverstad spoke on the early history of the founding of the experiment station and later the school of agriculture.

Mr. Hoverstad paid tribute to the late James J. Hill, former president of the Great Northern Railway, donor of the 450 acres of land; Willet M. Hayes, director of the experiment station at St. Paul, and the late P. M. Ringdahl, state senator from Crookston, for their leadership in the establishment of the Station. Mr. Hoverstad paid high tribute to A. D. Stephens of Crookston, who as senator in the legislature sponsored the legislation which made possible the establishment of the Northwest School of Agriculture in 1906.

Mr. Hoverstad, since leaving the Northwest Experiment Station in 1905, has been director of farmer's institutes in North Dakota and agricultural development agents for the Soo Line and Great Western railways. Mr. Hoverstad has now retired from active service and makes his summer home in St. Paul and spends his winters at Portland, Oregon.

Let us keep before us every hour of every day in the months ahead the thought that all young men engaged in national defense training are giving service in the cause of democracy—not only for themselves but for all of us. Let us pledge with them, and without reservation, our allegiance to the government of the United States for whatever program may be necessary to preserve the principles of our liberty and our individual rights as American Citizens.

4-H 'GRADUATES' ORGANIZE RURAL YOUTH UNIT HERE

Iris Ayers Is Selected as Temporary Chairman of Group

A rural youth group was organized last Wednesday evening at Thief River Falls with the assistance of Miss Ruby Christianson, rural youth specialist from University farm and the county extension office. About twenty-five rural young men and women attended the meeting and elected Iris Ayers as temporary chairman, and Ethel Farnow as temporary secretary.

The rural youth organization is primarily for young people who are reaching the age limit in 4-H club work, and for those who have passed the age limit. The groups receive assistance and aid from the state and county extension office in conducting their educational and recreational program.

Four delegates from the county, Morris Engelstad, Harry Solberg, Elaine Helgeson, and Effie Hanson will attend a series of monthly training schools at Red Lake Falls. They in turn will lead the discussions at the regular monthly meetings in Pennington County. This fall and winter a series of meetings on farm engineering will be conducted for the boys, and a series of meetings on the well-dressed young woman will be conducted for the girls.

The following instructions for registrants were received by the Times from state selective service headquarters in St. Paul:

Any person who on Registration Day is prevented by illness from presenting himself before a registration board, but who is not in a hospital, shall have a competent person apply to the chief registrar in his own district for authority to act as registrar in the case. The chief registrar will swear the applicant in as deputy registrar, and authorize him to make out the registration card, and return the completed card for issuance of registration certificate.

Any person who is too sick or who is quarantined on Registration Day, shall, as soon as possible, present himself to a local board and be registered. A physician's certificate or other competent evidence is necessary to prove valid cause for failing to register on the proper day.

Any person who is sick in a hospital on Registration Day will be registered by special registrars appointed by the city or county clerks. The registrars so appointed perform the same duties as regular registration boards.

Men who are away from home in schools and colleges can register at registration places established for that purpose on their campus. Students who are attending school in their own communities should register at the place authorized in their own districts where they would normally vote.

Sande Tells Lions Club of L. O'L. Operations

A guest night program was conducted at a meeting of the Lions club Wednesday evening, the speaker being Clarence Sande of the local Land O'Lakes plant, who gave interesting details of the business handled by the huge co-operative. In its business session the club voted to cooperate with Ferd Elstad, local recreational leader, in arranging a program for the children of the community on Hallowe'en.

Phosphate Test Shows Increased Yield Here

The Pennington county phosphate test demonstration cooperators, and a number of community committeemen met in the Civic and Commerce rooms at Thief River Falls last Thursday, to review the results of the demonstration program in the county this past year, and to formulate their plans for the coming year. This past year the ten cooperators, who were selected as community demonstration operators last winter, received 61,300 pounds of calcium meta-phosphate. Each cooperator, is keeping a set of complete farm records, and attempts are being made to determine the returns that are being made by the use of phosphate. The same cooperators who were selected last spring will continue their demonstrations through this next year.

George Nesom, extension soil specialist, and C. L. McNelly, district county agent leader, who supervise the demonstration program in the state, and Ray Burkholder, who has been working on farm record books, attended the meeting.

Despite a rather unfavorable moisture supply during the summer and, the late application of the fertilizer last spring, Mr. Nesom reported that on the sixteen fertilized grain fields in the county on which the yields were checked this past year the increase in yield varied all the way from .4 bushel per acre on a wheat field on Harry Haugen's farm in Wyandotte township to 9.7 bushels per acre increase on a barley field on Alfred Jorstad's farm in Kratka township. The average increase in yield on five wheat fields was 2 bushels, on six oat fields 4.4 bushels, and on five barley fields 7.4 bushels per acre.

The importance of the pasture problem was stressed by C. L. McNelly. He also pointed out that pastures on most farms, have been the most neglected of any farm crop, and discussed briefly a pasture program that is being set up on most of the test demonstration farms. Reseeding old pastures with desirable pasture mixtures, the application of barn yard manure and phosphate, and the use of a rotation grazing system was advocated. A number of pictures were used by McNelly in illustrating his points.

National Red Cross to Conduct 1940 Rollcall Starting November 11

Confronted with growing responsibilities arising from the national defense program and increased demands for its day-to-day services of disaster relief, first aid and life saving, the American Red Cross on November 11 will launch its greatest membership appeal since World War days, it was announced in Washington by Chairman H. Davis. The appeal for membership support to finance operations in the coming year will be carried to the nation by more than 600,000 volunteers, Chairman Davis said. It was pointed out that requests of the military and naval forces for Red Cross nurses, welfare services for enlisted men and the registration of medical technologists and volunteer blood donors were more than doubling the organizations domestic obligations.

This Week Is Being Noted as Fire Prevention Week

This week has been proclaimed Fire Prevention Week by President Roosevelt and throughout the nation campaigns will be waged to cut down the loss from fires which in the first five months of this year destroyed $150,363,000 worth of property. This is the highest loss for the same period in a number of years, and efforts to reduce it are urged as one means of speeding the national defense program. The 1939 fire loss in the nation exceeded 275 million dollars.

Governor Stassen Lauds Willkie in Radio Talk

Wendell Willkie will use the power of his office to help the farmer secure a better income, Governor Harold E. Stassen said in a radio talk this week, declaring that breaking the Third Term tradition would be "putting quicksand under the foundations of America."

Discussing the swing in Minnesota toward the candidacies of Wendell Willkie and Charles L. McNary, the governor stated that: "Willkie made clear in his Omaha speech his program for the farmers, and further stated that he would rely on the advice of that outstanding friend of the farmer, who will be vice-president, Charles L. McNary."

"I feel from my personal discussions with Wendell Willkie that he will prove to be a real friend of the farmer," Stassen said. "He believes that it is just as important that the farmer be able to farm at a profit as it is that business be successful. He will use the power of his office to help the farmer who is now struggling against adverse price conditions and debt burdens to secure a better income and fairer share of an increased national income."

Mud Lake Ducks

One reason for the spotty hunting around Mud lake has been the warm weather; but another reason is that the ducks have found ample feed within the reserve. And here's the reason for all that feed: included within the limits of the reserve are many acres of fine crop land, land that is ideal for the growing of barley. The agency superintendent is permitted to rent this land to farmers with the proviso, that as rental, the farmers will leave unharvested one fourth of the crop. And it is this rental barley that the Mud lake ducks are feeding on now. There are thousands and thousands of ducks in the lake so it shouldn't take more than a week or two, according to all reports, before most of the feed in the refuge is gone, and then the mallards will have to increase their feeding range. As far as the actual duck hunting up there now is concerned it's mostly morning shooting. And it is necessary to spot the feeding grounds the previous evening, usually a barley field adjoining the reserve, and then to reach these grounds early the next morning and get your shooting as the mallards come from the lake. It's much easier said than done.

Story of Carlo the Nimrod

Carlo Columbo and Gay Strong were up Red Lake river Tuesday morning, as far as Neptune, looking for ducks. And here's the story Gay brought back: it was a fog-filled morning as they trudged the river bank, with Carlo a considerable distance in the lead. Gay heard the report of Carlo's gun, called to ask him if he had shot anything. "I think I got one", replied Carlo. And it's a big one, too, he added. Both hunters splashed down to the river bank, and with a long pole, pulled Carlo's duck to shore. Carlo, who's smart on things like this, said, "This isn't any mallard". Gay agreed, but added that he thought it was a butterball. "A butterball, eh", said Carlo, filled with pride; "they make good eating, don't they?" And then came the blow. Gay, who had acted like a 'straight' man during the entire dialog, couldn't keep up the act any longer and he had to tell Carlo that the 'duck' he had shot was a hell-diver.

The Bemidji Game

I'm not trying to scrape up an alibi for the game at Bemidji last Friday night; but I won't admit that the Lumberjacks, on the stuff they showed that night, are 19 points stronger than the Prowlers. One touchdown would have been a fair margin for the game. Bemidji, and they controlled the ball for about three fourths of the game, were able to rack up only eight first downs, while the Prowlers collected four first downs. And too, it must be remembered that the Prowlers played the game under handicaps. First, the rain, wind, and the heavy field was to the advantage of the bulky Lumberjacks, whose two tackles, Nelson and Meland, tipped the scales at 195 pounds each; and second, with Andy on the sidelines, the Prowlers didn't have a power back in their lineup. That made quite a difference, for the Bemidji line could be looser on defense, and smear the Prowler end sweeps.

Spuds Here Tomorrow Night

The Moorhead Spuds, looking for revenge for last season's defeat by the Prowlers, will be here tomorrow night for a game under the lights on Lincoln field. Coach Lindenmeyer has been forced to revamp his backfield, bringing Johnny Parbst from the line to a backfield position. LaRue Andy Anderson, who was ineligible for the Bemidji game, is back at halfback, and with Flasch, Carlisle, and Ferguson, will make a strong first string backfield; but it is in reserve backs that the Prowlers will be weakened. Orlin Gjernes and Denny Althoff are out for the season, and Luther Fjelstad has been a bit sick.

Miscellany

Bones Stadum and Harry Oen are on the Minnesota freshman football squad, Bones being listed with the end candidates, and Harry playing at a guard position. Austin Shanahan ran into some tough luck. He had just about won a place in the backfield on the St. John's College football team when he was stricken with appendicitis and forced to undergo an operation. Reuben Mickelson, of the basket-shooting Mickelsons, who attended Iowa State as a freshman last year, is employed in Columbus, Ohio. His intention is to remain at his job this year and then to enroll at Ohio State next year. His brother Gil, you know, is captain of the Ohio State basketball team. That should be a red-hot bowling series tonight, between the J & B Drugs and the Thief River Pharmacy. It's at 7:15. I'll win myself a 'coke' if the J & B's Kammy Berg doesn't average 193, and I have Ed Carlson's word for it that Kammy won't average that figure.

First Superintendent Delivers Address for N. W. School Opening

T. A. Hoverstad, first superintendent of the Northwest Experiment Station at Crookston was the convocation speaker at the opening assembly of the Northwest School at Crookston, on Wednesday, October 2. Mr. Hoverstad spoke on the early history of the founding of the experiment station and later the school of agriculture.

Mr. Hoverstad paid tribute to the late James J. Hill, former president of the Great Northern Railway, donor of the 450 acres of land; Willet M. Hayes, director of the experiment station at St. Paul, and the late P. M. Ringdahl, state senator from Crookston, for their leadership in the establishment of the Station. Mr. Hoverstad paid high tribute to A. D. Stephens of Crookston, who as senator in the legislature sponsored the legislation which made possible the establishment of the Northwest School of Agriculture in 1906.

Mr. Hoverstad, since leaving the Northwest Experiment Station in 1905, has been director of farmer's institutes in North Dakota and agricultural development agents for the Soo Line and Great Western railways. Mr. Hoverstad has now retired from active service and makes his summer home in St. Paul and spends his winters at Portland, Oregon.

SERVICE to this land of DEMOCRACY!

Every man, woman, and child of this community and throughout our nation pays honor and respect to those men who will respond to the call to register on October 16 as provided in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940. Let us keep before us every hour of every day in the months ahead the thought that all young men engaged in national defense training are giving service in the cause of democracy—not only for themselves but for all of us. Let us pledge with them, and without reservation, our allegiance to the government of the United States for whatever program may be necessary to preserve the principles of our liberty and our individual rights as American Citizens.

HOW LONG CAN A NATION WAR?

How long can countries like Germany, Italy and Japan carry on wars? Wars are expensive. These countries are not rich. On the face of things it would seem that they soon would run out of money and credit.

But in a totalitarian state money and credit are not so important and a nation that has essential raw materials can get along without them.

Our country, for instance, could war indefinitely and without going into debt, providing the nation as a whole were organized as a war machine. Feeding ourselves would be no problem, nor would it be difficult, from an engineering standpoint, to convert our industries to war purposes.

The big problem would be the people. It would be necessary for the people to deny themselves many of the things that, in this country, have come to be looked upon as necessities. Instead of working for themselves the people would work for the government, and the energies of the nation, instead of supplying better homes and greater conveniences for individuals, would be directed toward the production of war materials. As long as the people would make this sacrifice the war could be continued.

In this respect the totalitarian states have an advantage over the democracies. The people, slaves of the state, perform as machines and do the bidding of their masters.

THE AIR SEEMS SWEETER

Observers generally look upon Hitler's deal with Japan as an admission of failure in the war on England. The purpose of the new alliance evidently was to scare our country back into neutrality, putting an end to our aid to the British, and force the British to keep more ships in the Pacific, weakening her Atlantic and Mediterranean forces. It didn't work out that way however, because our country didn't scare. On the contrary, Uncle Sam rolled up his sleeves and pulled his belt up another notch and said ok brothers, if you want it now let's get started. Shipment of scrap iron to Japan has been ordered stopped. American citizens have been advised to leave the Orient. Encouraged by the reaction in our country, Britain has ordered the Burma road opened for supplies to China, and the Chinese, thus encouraged, are preparing to "carry on" as never before. And now the Japs are not as arrogant as they were a few days ago. They are wondering what we are mad about. The result is that war in the Pacific appears less likely now than it did a few weeks ago.

All of which causes us to wonder if we wouldn't have been better off if we had taken a firmer stand with the dictators a long time ago. Instead of serving notice on them, as we have done repeatedly, that we would not fight under any circumstances, we probably would have accomplished more in the interests of peace had we held the club of intervention over them if they failed to respect the rights of neutrals. With a little encouragement from us, the small democracies of Europe probably would have put up a united front that the dictators would be forced to respect. It is easy to look back, of course, and say what should have been done. The thing to feel good about now is that we finally have taken a definite stand. They are not going to push us around from now on without a struggle. Somehow the air seems sweeter than it has for a long long time.

SAD BUT TRUE

Henry Wallace says we should not worry about the country's debts because we will not have to pay them. They will be paid, he assures us, by the rich, by that small group of rich men who have more than one million dollars. Henry should read some of the campaign speeches Roosevelt made back in 1932 when he was taking Hoover to task for spending public money recklessly. At that time Roosevelt said:

> "Taxes are paid in the sweat of every man who labors because they are a burden on production and are paid through production. If those taxes are excessive, they are reflected in idle factories, in tax-sold farms, and in hordes of hungry people, tramping the streets and seeking jobs in vain."

What Roosevelt said in 1932 was right, and it still is right. And what candidate Wallace is now saying is wrong, and he either knows it is wrong and is deliberately misinforming the people or, if he believes it to be true, is woefully lacking in common sense. In either case he is not qualified to hold the office he seeks.

The debts will be paid and the rank and file of the people will pay most of them. They may be paid in several ways. They may be paid by cancellation, in which event the creditors will absorb the loss. And who are the creditors? The rank and file of the people. Not directly, but indirectly, because if the government repudiates its debts then no bank will be solvent and no insurance policy will have value. And it is the rank and file of the people who own the bank deposits and the insurance policies and the social security certificates.

The debts may be paid by currency inflation, which is merely another way of digging into the pocketbooks of the common people. By these methods we can pay the debts out of our savings of the past.

The other way to pay them is to take them out of the earnings of the future, by taxation, where they become a burden on production, as Roosevelt, in 1932, pointed out.

The debts may be paid by one or all of these methods, but they will be paid, and they will be paid "in the sweat of every man who labors." It is sad that this should be true, but it is true nevertheless.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Minnesota

To be submitted at 1940 General Election

J. A. A. BURNQUIST
Attorney General

St. Paul, Minnesota,
February 5, 1940

Honorable Mike Holm,

Dear Sir:

In compliance with the provisions of Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927, Section 46, I make this statement of the purpose and effect of the amendment proposed to the constitution of Minnesota to be voted on at the November 5, 1940 general election in accordance with Laws 1939, Chapter 447.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

By the enactment of Laws 1939, Chapter 447, the legislature has proposed an amendment to Section 36 of Article 4 of the constitution. This section now reads as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same, it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof: Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the application of which may be limited to cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same, it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof: Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least once each week for four successive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation in such city or village and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. [illegible] or misdemeanors."

Purpose and Effect

The purpose and effect of the proposed amendment is to require publication of amendments to home rule charters once each week for four (4) successive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation in such city or village instead of publication in three (3) newspapers of general circulation in such city or village for at least thirty (30) days as now required.

There are many cities and villages which do not have three local newspapers. In such cases, under the present provision, publication must be made in newspapers printed elsewhere and circulating locally. If the proposed amendment is adopted, publication will be required in only one qualified newspaper, thereby reducing the difficulty and expense of amending home rule charters.

Very truly yours,
J. A. A. BURNQUIST,
Attorney General.

Let Soap Work

Whenever you wash let soap, rather than friction, do the work and you will spare yourself and the contents of the washtub. Rubbing is the part that is hardest on fabrics. And remember that the longer soiled clothes or household linens go without washing the more rubbing they are likely to need.

PUBLIC OPINION

To the Editor:

The last issue of the times carried an editorial dealing with tax plans as a means of bringing about universal and everlasting prosperity. It speaks of the fallacy of all such plans that would take two dollars from John Jones and give them to Hiram Henry. You do not state the particular plan you refer to but in view of the recent visit of Dr. Townsend to this Northwestern area, I am of the impression your article was induced by his visit and talks and the wide advertisement they were given.

I am very deeply interested in the Townsend Plan, after making a very careful study of it and I will say that all that the Townsend organization requests of any person who is interested in public questions, is a fair hearing or investigation.

Let us look at the plan for a few moments. There are in this Thief River Falls area or district six hundred or more elderly people who will be eligible for pensions under the Townsend plan. The lowest estimates put on the gross income from the operation of the plan, by critics of the plan, would allow payments of fifty to sixty dollars per month to each pensioner, while the Townsend organization and unbiased investigators claim for it, payments up to two hundred dollars per month when the plan is fully established. Let us take one hundred dollars per month as a fair estimate. This would bring to the business of this city sixty thousand dollars. Would this be a good thing or would it be a bad thing for the people of this city in general? Do you think the business men of this city would turn down sixty thousand dollars worth of business rather than pay two per cent to the agency that created and brought to their doors the business, especially when they positively knew that every penny they allowed that agency for this additional business would be used to create more business for them?

You make a charge for advertising space for these very men, with the hope that the money they give you will bring them more business. Sometimes it does and sometimes it don't. In your case of taxing the business man there is always more or less speculation as to results but such can never be the case, under the Townsend plan. Under that plan the buyer will approach the business man with the money in his hand, hopes and promises are no part of the transaction. Much more could be said along this line but this is enough for the present. I want to say to you and everybody I may reach, that while the consideration above of the effect of the Townsend plan upon the business of the country, this branch of the business of the country, may be of some importance, it is small when compared with the larger consequences of the changed conditions that will allow young men to find work that will bring them the means of establishing a home and raising a family in decency and security, the moral effects of the Townsend Plan is a light ahead for those who have made a proper investigation of it.

Respectfully yours T. J. Welsh.

Bemidji Wins on Soggy Field Over Prowlers

Taking full advantage of a strong wind, and with a hard-running attack that was spear-headed by their captain and fullback, Bob Worth, the Bemidji Lumberjacks scored a 19 to 0 victory over the Prowlers in a Homecoming game played on the rain-soaked Teachers College field at Bemidji last Friday night.

Bemidji won the toss, and to get the advantage of strong south-east wind, chose to defend the east goal. Worth kicked off to Don Olson, who made a 10 yard return to the Prowler 42 yard line. Two line plays gained a yard, and then Flasch punted a short kick into the wind, and which was downed on Bemidji's 46 yard line. With Tufton, Worth, and Thorbrogger carrying the ball the Lumberjacks reeled off three first downs, bringing the ball to the Prowler 2 yard line, and on a line plunge Bob Worth went over for the touchdown. Thorbrogger's end run failed to gain the extra point. The score: Bemidji 6, Thief River 0.

Tommy Carlisle carried Bemidji's kickoff back to the Prowler 40 yard line, for a 20 yard return. Jimmy Ferguson broke around left end for 22 yards and a first down on Bemidji's 38 yard line. Flasch picked up 2 yards, and Carlisle, on a spinner, made 13 yards and another first down. Carlisle gained 2 yards on a try at left guard; two pass plays were incomplete; and Flasch's fourth down run made 5 yards, to the 18 yard line, where Bemidji took the ball on downs.

A 'break' gave Bemidji their second period score. The Prowlers had the ball in their possession on their 32 yard line, and on a spinner play Tommy Carlisle drove into the center of the line, and as he went over the scrimmage line the ball popped out of his arms into the hands of Bemidji's Worth, who was backing up the line on defense, and Worth, with a clear field, ran the 32 yards for a touchdown. Tufton went through left guard for the extra point. The score: Bemidji 13, Thief River 0.

Ball handling had been made hazardous by rain that had fallen during the second period and during the half-time intermission. Bemidji kicked to open the second half, to Ferguson, who fumbled the wet ball, but recovered on his 12 yard line. Two running plays picked up a couple of yards, and then Ferguson punted to Vinge, who made a 10 yard return, to the Thief River 20 yard line. Thorbrogger circled right end for 8 yards. Tufton went for first down on the Thief River 2 yard line. Vinge scored on a plunge into the line. A line buck for the extra point was stopped. The score: Bemidji 19, Thief River 0.

Both teams were held to midfield play during the remainder of the game, with fumbles and pass interceptions breaking up the offensive drives. The Prowlers did make a spurt in the final minutes of the fourth period. With the ball on their 22 yard line, a pass, Ferguson to Babe Peterson, was ruled complete on Bemidji's interference, and it was first down on Thief River's 35 yard line. Ferguson attempting to pass, was thrown for a 10 yard loss. Flasch flipped a pass to Peterson for a 10 yard gain. On a fake punt Carlisle swept right end for 5 yards. Flasch punted to Vinge, who was downed on Bemidji's 30 yard line. The game ended a few plays later, with the ball in possession of the Lumberjacks on their 33 yard line. The final score: Bemidji 19, Thief River Falls 0.

Prowlers and Moorhead Eleven to Meet Friday

Striving to get back into the victory column, after their defeat at Bemidji last week, the Bemidji last week, the Prowlers will meet the Moorhead High School Spuds in a football game under the floodlights on Lincoln field Friday night. The Spuds, who have had a spotty season, expect to have their 245 fullback, Norman Erickson, back in action, and his presence will bolster the Spud attack. Erickson has been out of the lineup for several weeks with a bad shoulder injury. The Prowlers, too, will be stronger than they were in the Bemidji game, for Andy Anderson will be running in the backfield.

30 RAMS SWAPPED LAST THURSDAY IN ANNUAL EXCHANGE

More than thirty rams were exchanged at the annual ram exchange day held at the fair grounds last Thursday. A plentiful supply of good quality purebred Shropshire and Hampshire rams was at hand with over sixty local rams, and two truckloads of purebred rams brought in on the ram truck sponsored by the extension service. The trading and exchange proved somewhat slow during the day despite the rather large attendance. W. E. VALLEY DAIRYMEN MEET IN BEMIDJI OCTOBER 22-23D

Demonstration of Laboratory Cow Will be Feature of Program

A "Laboratory Cow" simulating all of the actions and reactions of the live animal will be a part of an interesting display and demonstration [illegible] during the meeting of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association in Bemidji October 22 and 23. Dr. William E. Petersen, of the dairy husbandry division at the University farm, will be in charge and it is due to his efforts that this interesting experiment has been made possible.

The artificial cow consists of an udder taken from a recently slaughtered animal. This is rushed to the demonstration where it is attached to an artificial heart and lungs. Actually the udder can be kept alive for about six hours for experimentation.

Many things have been discovered as a result of the demonstration. They have learned that a cow does not "hold up" milk but rather that this condition results from lack of stimulation of a hormone called oxytocin. This is stimulated by the act of milking, by massaging or other natural means but the secretion has a limited time period, about seven to ten minutes. This means that steady and fast milking means more milk.

The action of the blood is also studied and it has been found that to produce fifty pounds of milk it was necessary to circulate ten tons of blood through the udder. By altering the blood many experiments are being conducted.

This demonstration will be conducted at the afternoon session on Wednesday.

Butter judging contests will be held Wednesday morning, the afternoon session at the high school auditorium Wednesday afternoon and a banquet with dance at the Masonic Temple Wednesday evening.

Warn Against Shooting at Ducks out of Range

The most unpopular duck hunter in Minnesota, according to conservation department game men, is the hunter who blasts at ducks coming in but out of range. All he does is succeed in scaring them away or crippling them.

The average fowling piece—a 12 gauge full-choke gun handling number six chilled shot—can be depended upon to kill at distances up to 40 yards. The veteran hunter holds his fire until the ducks are well within range.

Conservation officials estimate that one fourth of the annual kill of waterfowl is wasted by crippling. Fewer attempts at long range hits will do much to cut down this needless waste.

OUTBREAK OF HOG CHOLERA IS NOTED IN PENNINGTON CO.

County Agent Lerud Advises Owners to Exercise Caution

An outbreak of hog cholera has been reported this week in Pennington County, County Agent Lester Lerud said today. Hog cholera is a highly contagious disease and usually proves fatal. Last fall a herd of approximately seventy-five head near Thief River Falls was practically wiped out.

This is the time of the year when the disease is most likely to spread, and until after snow fall is likely to continue to be a threat. Usually the pigs that are coming down with the disease go off feed, they usually develop a temperature and gradually become weak. In the later stages of the disease red or purplish blotches may appear on the skin of the ears, and on the belly. Very few of the infected hogs ever recover.

Should any abnormal conditions appear in any herd, no time should be lost in calling a licensed veterinarian to diagnose the disease and administer the proper treatment. By exercising care on the part of the hog raiser, much can be done to reduce the sources of danger. Care should be exercised by people and animals going from one farm to another. Proper sanitation will also do much to reduce the hazards of getting the disease.

Protection against hog cholera can be assured by the use of the anti-hog-cholera serum. The serum may be used either to immunize healthy hogs or to treat those that are in the early stages of the disease. No other remedies are likely to prove of any value in preventing hog cholera.

Careless Smokers Held Responsible for Most Fires in United States

Careless smokers are responsible for starting more fires in the United States than are caused from any other source. This fact was indicated as the result of a poll taken recently by The Automobile Insurance Company and The Standard Fire Insurance Company of Hartford, Connecticut, in which chiefs in 225 representative American cities were questioned as to the leading causes of fires in their respective communities.

Out of this group of centers ranging in population from 10,000 to Greater New York's nearly seven millions, about 43 per cent reported that the careless disposal of matches, cigars, and cigarettes, showed up on fire department records as the most frequent cause, either directly or indirectly, of destructive fires.

The second most frequent cause, according to the report, is attributable to poor housekeeping on the part of residence and commercial property owners and tenants. Accumulations of inflammable rubbish and waste materials both inside and outside of buildings was shown to be the second most important cause of fires in the majority of cities queried, and ranked as the leading cause in approximately [illegible] of the total group.

United States Army to Call 4,000 Red Cross Nurses to Active Duty

The United States army will call more than 4,000 Red Cross nurses to active duty by next July, Miss Mary Beard, national director of American Red Cross Nursing Services, announced in Washington.

Nurses will be drawn from the 17,000 nurses enrolled in the first reserve of the Red Cross, she said. Orders have been sent to commanding officers of Army corps areas throughout the country to begin mobilization on a quota basis.

Selection will begin immediately by army officers. Enrollment in the first reserve signifies a nurse's willingness to serve with the army or Navy during national emergencies or with the Red Cross at the scene of disasters.

"Rising demands upon the Red Cross Nursing Reserves due to the expansion of national defense forces," Miss Beard declared, "make it imperative that all qualified nurses in the nation enroll at the first possible moment. From experience gained in the World War we know that in order to provide 4,000 qualified nurses to the Army, a reserve of many more than that number will have to be furnished."

AMERICAN BOY IS COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in the AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys' clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY the sort of reading matter boys like best.

THE AMERICAN BOY sells on most newsstands at 15c a copy. Subscription prices are $1.00 for one year or $1.50 for three years. Foreign and Canadian rates 50c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

RIGHT CITY; BUT IT WAS WRONG STATE

Winona. Directing persons to the Mayo Clinic or the Zumbro hotel is an everyday occurrence in the life of the average Rochester, Minn., policeman. But when the policeman asked for such information is a member of the Rochester, N. Y., force, it becomes news of a pathetic nature in this case. The story deals with a woman who spoke broken English, and a man who seemed too ill to talk at all, who arrived in Rochester, N. Y., the other day and immediately the woman inquired of a hotel doorman how to reach the Zumbro hotel. Having difficulty understanding the woman, he called a nearby traffic cop and both were completely baffled by the question. Several minutes elapsed before Patrolman Heverson saw the light when the woman revealed that the hotel was close to the Mayo Clinic to which the unhappy woman had tried to bring her husband all the way from Florida.

PLUMMER

Plummer Harvest Festival

Despite rather unfavorable weather, the Plummer Harvest Festival proved to be a very successful one. There were 265 different exhibits in all and practically all of these were of excellent quality. The exhibits, for the most part were far ahead of those last year in both quality and quantity. The outstanding exhibits from the standpoint of keen competition were carrots, beets, potatoes, and canned goods. The canned goods exhibits promise to be growing and more attractive each year.

The parade was greatly improved this year by aid of the Red Lake Falls High School directed by Mr. Amdahl and also by the entries of several of the business men.

The success of the Festival was largely due to the cooperation which was given by the Businessmen of Plummer through their cash donations and to the work which was carried on by the Plummer Future Farmer Boys. Both are helping Plummer and vicinity to be recognized as an active community.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER, SHE SAYS

Baudette—Mrs. W. G. Sadek of Williams, owner of a valuable collection of autographs of famous persons, now believes that "everything comes to him who waits." Recently she received an autograph from former world's heavyweight champion, Jess Willard, of Glendale, California, which she requested by mail on December 5, 1931, nearly nine years ago. Which proves, if nothing else, that Mr. Willard isn't as fast about attending to correspondence as he formerly was in the ring.

Original Dry Ice

Dry ice was originally produced from carbon dioxide manufactured for the purpose. Today at least 85 per cent of our production is made of by-product carbon dioxide from fermentation and other industrial processes.

Growing With Your Child

Baby's Play Pen

"My baby, who is just learning to walk, is no longer contented to stay in his play pen. He throws toys out, and then stands there shaking the bars, whining, and finally screaming his lungs out if I don't take him out. He's an awful nuisance outside, as he can get into so many things now that he can toddle around. How can I get him to stay happily in his pen?"

There are several things to think of in connection with a situation like this. First of all, perhaps, we might mention that this baby is now old enough to want companionship, to appreciate thoroughly having other people around to watch. He wants some one to talk to him occasionally. He has come to feel that being in his pen isolates him from what is going on in the rest of the house. And yet it will be quite a long time before he can be allowed to play outside alone safely, or even before he can have the run of the house. It would tie his mother down too much to have to watch him every minute, and it wouldn't be good for him to feel that he must have her constant companionship.

Here are some questions I'd like to ask his mother. Has she got into the habit of expecting him to stay in his pen too long at a time, so that he has become bored? Has he exhausted the possibilities of the playthings he has? Does he need some new, more advanced things to do, to stimulate his interest? Maybe he is utterly tired of the ball, the rattle, the blocks that sufficed him perfectly well a few weeks back. How about giving him some interesting new thing each day for a while as he's put into the pen? One day a few pans with lids that he can try to put on and take off; another, some rubber jar rings and clothespins that he can drop into a quart jar, and empty out again. A train of flat wooden cars, hooked together that he can push about the floor of the pen will be welcomed, as will bright-colored wooden discs of graduated sizes, that he can fit over a wooden upright piece. Look around the house for ideas as to things he can be allowed to play with safely. Such things often are of more interest than boughten toys.

But of course no youngster of his age, who can move about under his own steam, is going to want to stay a long time in so confined a space as the average play-pen. He must have things that will keep him busy outside it, too, so that he won't be underfoot too much, or getting into mischief. Has he a kiddie-car? Are there steps that he can climb safely? Does he have a little chair that he can carry about, as well as sit on?

He is more likely to be contented if the play-pen is in the same room with his mother, which means that while she is moving about the house a good deal, up and down stairs, he will sometimes want to follow after. When she's sitting quietly in one spot, sewing, or preparing vegetables, he'll not mind being in the pen, if he can watch her.

Of course it won't hurt him a bit to be left howling now and then. He's got to learn to rely on himself for amusement. But it's not fair to expect him to be happy if his playthings are extremely limited, and no longer offer any new ideas for play. His mother should remember not to take him out of the pen while he's crying, but to wait for a lull. If she does respond to his demand while he's crying, she can expect him to profit by finding that that behavior works, and to try it again and again.

Shoemakers' Patron Saints

The patron saints of shoemakers are St. Crispin and his brother Crispian, who supported themselves by making shoes while they preached to the people of Gaul and Britain. In compliment to these saints the trade of shoemaking is called the gentle craft.

KILLS RATTLER WITH SPADE AT LANESBORO

Lanesboro — Investigating a great commotion on her front porch recently, caused by the barking of three dogs, Mrs. Olaus Johnson came upon a chilling scene when she discovered her two granddaughters, Marie, 3, and Darlene, 1, playing in close proximity to a vicious looking 5-foot rattlesnake. Seizing a spade, Mrs. Johnson killed the snake single handed, probably saving one, or both, of the children's lives. This was the first poisonous snake to be killed on the Johnson farm for 15 years and the Johnson's hope it will be the last.

SEN. McNARY HITS RECIPROCAL TRADE TREATIES AT ULEN

Candidate for Vice Presidency Addresses Large Gathering

Senator Charles McNary asserted Saturday in an address at Ulen that the reciprocal trade treaties had failed to promote peace and benefit agriculture and "have lowered our resistance to an after-war flood of cheap imports."

The Republican nominee for vice president said that a post war Europe in desperate need of markets would undoubtedly seek to invade the American market with goods produced at "coolie and peasant wages."

"I do not believe that the New Deal, on its record, will be capable of defending the farmer, or any other American producer, against the world trade struggle that lies ahead," the senator said in his prepared speech, which was broadcast by a special NBC farm network.

"The New Deal already has our economic borders defenseless. Because of the reciprocal trade treaties our trade frontiers are unprotected."

Senator McNary hailed tariff revision as "time honored, realistic, constitutional method" by which the nation could arm itself against the predicted trade war.

Upward revision of tariff schedules in 1921, Senator McNary said, "checked the declining spirals of that brief industrial depression."

"The reciprocal trade treaties, viewed as a lever for increasing exports, are fallacious, however they were intended," the candidate said.

A delegation of Pennington county citizens was included in the large audience that heard Senator McNary.

Uniform Election Hours Thruout State Nov. 5th

Hours of voting at the general election on November 5 throughout the state will be from seven a. m., to eight p. m., Attorney General J. A. A. Burnquist said in an opinion last week. William B. Henderson, state reviser of statutes asked Burnquist whether section 1135, Minnesota laws of 1927, has been repealed. Burnquist said it was his opinion the law was repealed and that hours of voting are now uniform in all state elections, under a law enacted by the 1939 legislature.

90 STILLWATER CONVICTS LIVE ON FARM

Last week 90 convicts started work like regular farmers on Stillwater prison's 1,000 acre farm, beginning what Warden Leo Utecht hopes is a better way of preparing them for life again in society instead of sending them directly back from a prison cell. Above is a view of the farm.

GRYGLA

BENVILLE COUPLE OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Following the morning services at the Valle Lutheran church was the scene of the Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Brosseth, who were married at a Lutheran church at Hawley, more than fifty one years ago. The program, which has been arranged by several members of the congregation, was opened with a few appropriate remarks by Reverend Anderson followed by a program of nuptial organ music played by Mrs. Anderson. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the bridal couple seated under an archway of blue and gold streamers; the altar was decorated in gold with two beautiful gold candles and a lovely bouquet of yellow artificial roses. An array of autumn flowers enhanced the setting. After the program a bountiful wedding dinner was served to all, the honored couple, together with the Pastor and Mrs. Anderson and a few of the congregation members, being seated at a decorated table of which a lovely wedding cake in gold and blue, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was the centerpiece. Other table decorations were a pair of gold candles and bouquets of flowers. The honored couple, who are long-time residents of this community, were presented with a purse of money by their friends and neighbors, who were all present.

Young Couple Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nygaard were honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower last Wednesday evening at the Henry Nygaard farm home. About fifty friends and relatives were gathered and after opening and admiring the many beautiful and lovely gifts, the remainder of the evening was spent socially. A lovely lunch, brought by the self-invited guests, was served at a late hour by the hostesses, Mrs. Roy Paulson and Sally Dalos. Those from Grygla who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lunde, Mr. and Mrs. Tron Fonnest, Mrs. Clarence Peterson, Mrs. Harry McLean, and Misses Charlotte Lloyd, Myrtle Askeland and Margaret and Clara Lillevold.

Birthday Parties

Mrs. Thomas Knutson was pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening when a group of friends came to her home to remind her of her birthday which had occurred the previous Wednesday. DRAFT BOARD APPOINTED FOR PENNINGTON CO.

LaBree, Alfred Hallstrom and Owen Olson, Goodridge Named

PAUL LUNDGREN TO BE LOCAL APPEAL AGENT

Stassen Selects Dr. Mellby to Serve as Examining Physician

697 REGISTERED FOR DRAFT IN T. R. FALLS

A total of 697 Thief River Falls young men between the ages of 21 and 36 registered for selective service Wednesday as a part of the national defense program, the number falling substantially below advance estimates of approximately 900, based on 15 per cent of the population of the city. The registration proceeded smoothly and without congestion, there being six registrars on duty for each of the four wards. Registration by wards was as follows: First, 215; second, 155; third, 120; and fourth, 207. Figures for the remainder of Pennington county were not available this morning.

Governor Harold E. Stassen last Thursday forwarded to President Roosevelt the lists of local draft boards and appeal agents and medical examiners for the selective service law. The local boards were all selected from names recommended to the governor by the county auditor, judge of probate and clerk of court of the respective counties, as being men of good reputation, good judgment and unquestioned loyalty to the country.

The government appeal agents were selected from recommendations made by the state bar association. The medical examiners were selected from names recommended by the state medical association. All of these men have accepted their appointments as volunteers, serving without compensation except that their expenses will be paid by the federal government.

Named on the Pennington county draft board are W. J. LaBree, Thief River Falls; Alfred Hallstrom, Black River; and Owen A. Olson, Goodridge. Paul A. Lundgren was appointed government appeal agent, and Dr. O. F. Mellby, examining physician.

In Marshall county the board will include Emil Anderson, Rosewood; Harold A. Bush, Grygla; and Victor Edman, Alvarado. Government appeal agent will be W. O. Braggans, Warren, and examining physician, Dr. H. M. Blegen, Warren.

The Red Lake county board consists of Ole O. Melby, Oklee; E. A. Troumbly, Red Lake Falls; and S. J. Rice, Plummer. Charles E. Boughton, jr., of Red Lake Falls will be government appeal agent; and Dr. J. A. Roy, Red Lake Falls, examining physician.

Col. Joseph E. Nelson has been appointed, by the governor as the Minnesota director of selective service, and was commended by the governor for his efficient handling of these preparations for this important duty required by the Federal government. Minnesota appears to be the first state in the Union to have completed this organization. These boards will begin to function today.

Colonel Nelson, predicted that probably not more than 1,750 Minnesotans will be called into military service in the state's first draft quota, and they likely will be called between November 15 and December 1.

The draft boards will assign a serial number to each registrant in each district.

Colonel Nelson calculates that about 125,000 will be placed in class 1-A from which group the first draftees will be picked. In the nation, about 5,500,000 registrants will be placed in the class 1-A group, it is anticipated.

As men from their districts are called in the national draft lottery, the boards will consider claims for deferment or exemption of service and will induct for training men who do not have valid claims.

Examining physicians will determine physical fitness of draftees. Local appeal agents will consider claims for deferment which are denied by draft boards.

TO TALK FEEDING OF LIVESTOCK AT MEETING TUESDAY

H. R. Searles, Specialist from "U" Farm, to be Speaker

The purpose of the livestock feeding school that will be held next Tuesday, October 22, at the Civic and Commerce Room at 2:00 p. m. will be to bring to light some of the more important problems Pennington County farmers encounter in feeding their livestock. H. R. Searles, livestock specialist from University Farm, has emphasized that in his discussions with farmers at other meetings, and attempts will be made to work out a more satisfactory feeding program.

Most livestock farmers find that they have to use the feed and forage that they grow on the farm, says County Agent Lester Lerud. By proper combination of these home grown feeds very desirable results may be obtained. Many times a small cash outlay for protein and mineral supplements will pay large returns, provided the farmer knows which particular supplement will be of value.

This first meeting at which the local feeding problems will be brought to light will be followed by two other meetings at which H. R. Searles will discuss and help solve the particular problems of this area.

WARREN IS COMING FRIDAY NIGHT FOR HOMECOMING TILT

Outcome of Contest Will Decide Conference Championship

The Thief River Falls high school Homecoming will reach its climax tomorrow night when the Warren Ponies meet the Prowlers in a football game on Lincoln field. In addition to being an homecoming game, interest in the fray will be further heightened by the fact that the championship of the Northwest conference will hinge on its outcome.

Warren and Thief River, with Fosston and Red Lake Falls, are deadlocked for the conference lead, having won two games and lost one. But Fosston and Red Lake Falls have completed their schedules, and Warren has a game with East Grand Forks remaining after its tussle with the Prowlers, so the Prowlers by winning tomorrow night will clinch the conference title.

Both teams are in fine condition for the game, having won their last week's game, the Prowlers taking the measure of Moorhead, 32 to 14, while the Ponies were downing the Crookston Pirates, 12 to 0.

A feature of the homecoming program will be the crowning at a pepfest Friday afternoon of a homecoming queen, elected from the senior class, who will reign with attendants from the junior and sophomore classes. A snake dance will be conducted thru the downtown streets preceding the game.

With a self winding reel on which to wind his line, a fisherman can dry a wet casting line quickly with little effort. A clamp with swivel mounting secures the winder to any vertical or horizontal surface. Hook the line on any of the wire spokes and press the button, and the reel automatically winds the wet line from your reel to itself, says Popular Mechanics. In a few minutes the line is dry and can be rewound on the casting reel, and this automatically resets the dryer for the next rewinding. The unit will hold 150 yards of [illegible] casting line.

500 Extra Miles of Roads Improved with This Year's Savings

Savings effected chiefly through low contract prices, obtained by highly competitive bidding on work and materials, have enabled the state highway department to improve by maintenance operations over 500 more miles of state trunk highways this season than were programmed at the beginning of the year.

The additional improvements, which now are either completed or under way scheduled for completion by late October or early November, have been carried out without any increase in budgeted maintenance expenditures. Another factor which contributed to make this possible was the lessened severity of the spring break-up which in many instances lessened the extent and the cost of necessary repairs and replacements.

When the department of highways laid out its program of most essential maintenance operations last spring, it estimated, on the basis of past costs, that it could perform this season, with the funds available, 3,692 miles of needed roadway and surface improvements and replacements, in addition to routine maintenance operations. This maintenance improvement program included: new bituminous surfacing, seal coating, bituminous retreatment, gravelling, regravelling, and reshaping of grades and roadways.

The department actually has been able to perform 4,207 miles of this type of work, and in addition is completing 25 miles of base stabilization, 163 miles of shoulder improvements through widening, surfacing, etc., and 250 miles of unscheduled calcium chloride or oil dust palliative treatment.

FFA Plans Journey to North Shore in Spring

The local chapter of the Future Farmers of America at a meeting Monday evening decided to make a trip next spring along the North Shore Drive up to Fort William and Port Arthur in Canada. Kenneth Melin gave an interesting account of the local chapter's history for the benefit of the new members. After a brief program, which included singing by the group and several harmonica numbers by Rodney Syverson, lunch was served.

Time alone will determine whether Governor Stassen's appointment of Joseph H. Ball to fill the state's Senate vacancy was a wise selection. To most citizens, certainly, the appointment came as a complete surprise. Ball, a newspaper reporter and political writer, has never been active personally in politics, and the announcement of his elevation from comparative obscurity to the highest office the state can confer on any citizen, comes somewhat as an explosion. Joe Ball is well thought of by those who know him however. He is a competent writer and as an observer of state and national politics he is considered a capable analyst. In some respects he probably is better qualified to represent the state than many of the older heads in politics who, along with a partisan following, are blinded by partisan considerations and prejudices. It might be in the best interests of the country to have a few more of these younger statesmen who, although limited in experience, at least are capable of approaching the problems of government with an open mind. And so to Senator Joe Ball we extend our congratulations on the greater opportunities that now lie before him and our best wishes for a long and successful career in public service.

One proposed amendment to the constitution is being submitted to the voters in the coming election. The purpose of this amendment is "to reduce the difficulty and expense of amending home rule charters." Although this involves a problem in which the average individual is but little concerned, the proposed change does have merit. Vote yes.

Yes, we agree wholeheartedly that it would be a wonderful thing if the aged people of the country could be given a hundred dollars a month. The thing we can't understand is how so much money can be paid to a special group without taking at least an equal amount of money away from other groups, and if that cannot be done then the buying power of the country will not be increased, but merely shifted from one group to another. According to the figures we have available, there are approximately 7 million people in the country more than 65 years old. If each of these were to receive $1,200 a year, the total cost, not including administrative expense, would be considerably more than 8 billion dollars. A 2% tax on every dollar of income in the country in a good year would raise less than 2 billion dollars so in a good year it would take about a 10% tax on every dollar of income to raise the more than 8 billion dollars that would be required to pay each person more than 65 years old a hundred dollars a month. To give so much to our aged would not be impossible. We could even step the amount up to $200 a month. But even a hundred a month would mean a terrific sacrifice for those who are still working.

What is Russia going to do? That seems to be the big question at the present time. Our guess is that Russia will not voluntarily become involved in the war until Europe is completely demoralized and ready to be "taken over." Circumstances may force her to take sides before that time. Russia certainly has more to fear from a victorious Hitler than from a restoration of the old governments in Europe, and it would be strange indeed if Stalin would sit back and permit the Axis powers to become all-powerful. Whatever Russia does will be in the interests of Russia and the world revolution, and world chaos best serves the purpose of that revolution.

The new lighting system on Atlantic Avenue seems to be meeting with general approval. Eventually the system probably will be extended to the rest of the business section.

Thomas Jefferson, patron saint of the Democratic party, not only refused to run for a third term but expressed the hope that any candidate who ever might run for a third term would be defeated. Here is what he said:

> "Washington set the example of voluntary retirement after eight years. I shall follow it. Should a President consent to be a candidate for a third election, I trust he would be rejected. There will never be a time when real difficulties will not exist and furnish a plausible pretext for dispensation."

The last sentence indicates that Jefferson expected the country to some day have a leader who loved himself so well that he would consider himself indispensible.

There are already signs of trouble brewing in the conquered countries of Europe. The fire is smouldering and will no doubt break out at the first instance when Hitler's vigilance slackens. You cannot take food stuffs and liberty away from people, even if virtually prisoners, and make them like it. Extracts from letters from the conquered countries all show worry of the threat of famine, not that these countries did not have plenty of stored food products for their own use, but these have been taken and virtually confiscated by Hitler to feed his armies. Sooner or later, these people will rise in their wrath and will find a way to overthrow Hitler.—Montevideo Times.

Attend the corn husking contest tomorrow afternoon. The contest itself will be interesting but, best of all, it will do you no harm to see a good corn field.

BRICKBATS, REAL AND VERBAL
(St. Paul Pioneer Press)

President Roosevelt has taken notice of the hoodlumism with which some of the more fanatical of his followers have assaulted the Willkie party on the present swing, and he has ordered the dismissal of a Federal employe, a young lady, who found expression for her sentiments in throwing a waste basket and severely injuring a bystander.

A certain amount of infantile rowdyism is to be expected in any lively political campaign, but there seldom is so much of it that a President feels obliged to dissociate himself from that sort of campaigning by showing, what no one for a moment doubted, that he is against it.

But it might have been more to the point if he had long ago got rid of some others who may be more guilty than this rattlebrained Federal employe. After having kept around him for nearly eight years such experts at abuse and appeals to hatred as Secretary Ickes and others like him, is it so surprising that when the election campaign rolls around there should be some real brickbats thrown at the opposition in place of the verbal kind that went before?

President Roosevelt might reflect whether the program of setting class against class in this country is conducive to the kind of national unity for defense for which he is now appealing. He might even go so far as to make a speech pointing out that after all, despite all differences, Americans are in fundamental agreement, that there are no issues or interests which divide them that are one-tenth as powerful as the common welfare that binds them all together. In short, he might do something to correct the impression he has given some suggestible fanatics that when he is a candidate, an election becomes a sort of class war.

A VERY BAD EXCHANGE
(Fergus Falls Journal)

Since the beginning of the Japanese war on China, the United States government has bought $610,000,000 in gold and $15,000,000 in silver from the Japanese, all at prices away above what could be obtained anywhere else in the world. The gold and silver, looted from China, is of no use to the United States, which simply buries it, but it is exchanged for iron to make guns and for oil to drive ships and airplanes. These war munitions have heretofore been used against the Chinese, but may soon be used against the United States. Why were the shipments not stopped long ago?

LEAVES A BAD SMELL—
(Long Prairie Leader)

Quite a scandal has arisen over the circumstance that Elliott Roosevelt, the president's second son, was made a captain in the procurement division of the air corps reserve just before the draft law went into effect. He was eligible for the draft and the appointment takes him out of it. The procurement division is that part of the service that buys supplies, so the appointment puts the young man safely outside the field of the kind of war training and service that the less favored young men of the country will have to take. The captaincy will enable young Roosevelt to draw a salary of $360 a month. The pay of drafted men is $30 a month. There is no particular objection to the young man going into the army store business if he desires to do so, but to rush into it on the eve of the draft leaves a bad smell—in any event it does not set a good example, coming from the White House family.

TODAY WELL LIVED
(Montevideo News)

When he was 80 years old Daniel P. O'Neil took over active management of the Farmers Home Mutual Insurance company of Madelia.

It was part of his work to travel over the state and hold pep sessions with the company's agents. His work brought him to Montevideo several times, the last meeting here being 2 years ago. He was 85 years old then. There was no chance for his meeting to go to sleep on him. The man had drive and fire.

One of his relatives told me that Dan O'Neill had his most successful business years after he became 80 years old. And he had not loafed the first 79 years.

He died last week, nearing his 87th birthday. A friend said his philosophy of life was:

WE ARE SURPRISED AT HENRY
(Long Prairie Leader)

When Henry Wallace was in the state the other day, he sought to allay the fears of those who are apprehensive about the mounting national debt and where the money is going to come from to pay all the bounties that are coming out of the federal treasury, by telling his audience that the money is going to come from "the fellows with the second million."

We doubt if in his non-candidate moments Mr. Wallace believes that.

The facts are that every dollar of this terrific bill is going to be paid out of the productive energy of the people. Not one person will escape. Even the man on relief will pay a share of the bill. He will pay it in the increased cost of what he buys with his relief check. Every farmer, laborer, school teacher, professional and small business man will pay the bill in sweat and sacrifice. Those who buy will pay for it in higher costs of what they eat, wear and use. Labor will pay in lower wages and in fewer opportunities for jobs. The farmer will pay in the busted markets to which he takes his products.

It is the sheerest demagogery to try and make an audience believe that the bill is going to be paid by the rich, by those "with the second million". It has been shown time and again that if the government were to take the entire income of every person and corporation whose income is in excess of $5,000 a year that the total would be only a drop in the bucket toward paying the bill.

The people may well be uneasy and apprehensive over the way things are going and particularly so when the vice presidential candidate and acknowledged mouthpiece for the administration that is committed to the spending, has such notions about how the bill is to be paid.

The most interesting public speaker who has come to these parts in many a day is C. J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian storting, who has been giving talks on "What Happened in Norway" to capacity audiences at Glenwood, Montevideo, Benson and other cities of this vicinity. From Mr. Hambro's recital one gathers that the report of the conquest of Norway being an "inside job" was not true, but that rather the sudden surprise of the attack by Germany, the seizure of communication facilities, and deceitful tactics crippled the defense from the start. The almost total absence of an air force also rendered resistance practically impossible, but even at that if other invaded nations had resisted as Norway did and inflicted the enormous losses which Norway did, Hitler would ere this have been thrown back on Germany. Norway is the only conquered country which today maintains a legal government on foreign soil recognized by every country in the world except Germany, a government that has a balanced budget maintained by revenues from the Norwegian merchant fleet, with its navy still playing a vital service in the war and today possessing an air force three times as large as when Norway was invaded. It is impossible to detect any propaganda in Mr. Hambro's talk having for its purpose the involving of this country in war, but he does carry a vital message from one democracy at war to another democracy at peace.—Morris Tribune.

Funeral Services This Afternoon for M. Myrold

Funeral services will be conducted at this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Mission Church for Mathias A. Myrold of Grygla. Rev. Ostby of Grygla will conduct the services and interment will be made in the Carmel Lutheran Cemetery.

He was born on March 29, 1876 in Norway, and Married Tina Jensen there in 1900. The couple came from Norway to Beltrami County in 1904, and in 1931 moved to Minneapolis. They then moved to Grygla in 1934 where they have lived since.

Two sons preceded him in death, and he leaves his wife, Mrs. Tina Myrold of Minneapolis; 5 daughters, Mrs. Hjordis Vinnes of St. Paul, Mrs. Lillie Swanson of Minneapolis, Myrtle, Thilma, and Mercret all of Minneapolis; 2 sons, Alfred and Roy of Minneapolis; one grandchild; and one brother, Andrew of Detroit, Mich.

Origin of 'Allergy'

In 1907 Von Parquet, an Austrian, devised the word "allergy." The term was designed to explain peculiar and unexpected phenomena in animals which had been injected and reinjected with foreign proteins—such as egg albumen or milk. Allergy is of Greek derivation and means "altered reactivity." It is now used synonymously with "hypersensitiveness" and "idiosyncrasy." These terms are applied to humans to denote an altered capacity in certain individuals to react to environmental agents.

ST PETRI LUTHER LEAGUE HAS FINAL MEETING

The members of the St. Petri Luther League assembled at the St. Petri church on Sunday evening for the final meeting of the season; after a short period of devotion, led by Mrs. S. T. Anderson, the meeting was turned over to the president, Mary Sathre. It was decided that the Luther League should finance the beginning of a Church library, which will be started in the near future with the purchase of a group of books, which will be available to all League and Ladies' Aid members as well as members of the congregation. After the business meeting, a program, which had been arranged by Mrs. Henry Sandland, Mrs. Christ Rude and Alpha Morken, was presented and consisted of two songs by the choir and a reading each by Mrs. Alfred Swanberg, Agnes Sandland, Mrs. John Stewart; a recitation by Janice Stewart, and two songs by the audience. At the close of the meeting, a lovely lunch was served by the St. Petri Ladies aid.

Local P. T. A. Adopts By-Laws

The Grygla P. T. A. met at the local school last Wednesday evening for the regular monthly meeting, which opened with the reading of an article by the President, Mrs. C. H. Doran, "Why Every School Needs a Parent-Teacher Association", after which the group repeated the objectives. The minutes of the previous meeting were then read and accepted after which the membership committee reported that they had purmembers and the executive committee rportd that they had purchased a new kerosene range for the school kitchen. A new set of by-laws, which had been drawn up by the executive committee were read by the secretary and were accepted by the association. This being the conclusion of business, the meeting was turned over to the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. George Armstrong, who led a community sing consisting of three songs: "America", "Old Black Joe", and 'Row Row your Boat", the piano accompaniment being played by Clara Lillevold, after which an article "The Boy Scout Movement in America" was read by Mrs. Armstrong. The final feature of the program was a quiz, Truth and Consequences, which was conducted by C. H. Doran. The program had been arranged by Mrs. George Armstrong, C. H. Doran, and Mrs. Mike Teigland. Following the program, lunch was served by Mmes. Gus Magnuson, Harold Bush and Alfred Swanberg.

Notice! The Bethel Ladies aid will meet at the Herman Zinter home Thursday, Oct. 24.

Valle Home Management Project Meets

The Valle Home Management Project group met at the school house last Friday evening with eighteen members in attendance. After a short business meeting, during which it was decided that the open meeting with Miss Todnem displaying her Christmas Kit will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 29 at the school house and all non-members, who are interested in seeing these suggestions for Christmas gifts, are invited to attend. The leaders, Mrs. George Holbrook and Mrs. Alfred Swanberg then presented the lesson, "Planning Expenditures and Budgeting"; in the course of the lesson a short, impromptu play was presented.

Mrs. C. H. Doran and daughter left Saturday for the Twin Cities where the former is representing Grygla at the State Convention of the Parent-Teacher Association in Minneapolis. It is the first time that the local group has sent a delegate and we feel that the organization is to be complimented on their achievement. During her stay in the cities, Mrs. Doran and Patty will be the guests of two of the former's sisters, who reside in St. Paul.

Son of Local People Weds

Word was recently received by Mr. and Mrs. Hans Wick of the marriage of their son, Harold, to Miss Vera Rapson of Everson, Wash. The marriage occurred on Saturday, Oct. 5, at the home of a friend of the bride, Mrs. Hatch, at Everson, and the latter was also hostess to about thirty friends and relatives at a reception in honor of the young couple. It is of interest to people here that Gordon Rud, a cousin of the groom and formerly of Grygla, was the best man at the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Wick will arrive here this week for a visit with relatives of the groom after which they will return to Washington to make their home, where the latter is employed with a railroad company.

Olaf Steenen Weds Beltrami Girl

The Rev. C. I. Ostby home east of Grygla was the scene of the simple wedding ceremony at which Olaf Steenen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Steenen, was united in matrimony to Emma Billings of Beltrami on Saturday, October 12 at four o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Ostby officiated at the rites and the attendants were Miss Ruth Steenen, sister of the groom, and Reuben Olsen. The bride chose for her wedding a beautiful floor length gown of tea rose colored taffeta with white accessories while the bridesmaid was attired in a street length dress of spun rayon in a soft shade of gray with black accessories. The young couple plan to make their home at Crookston where the groom is employed.

October, a Month of Moving

That October is the month of moving, is evidenced by the number of people changing their residence in this community. The Elmer Hylland family, who have occupied the Arthur Sheldrew residence during the past year, moved this week, back to their farm home north of town, while Arthur Hylland and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hylland are moving to the old Hylland farm. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Paulson will occupy the smaller house on the Elmer Hylland farm. Joe Rustvold is vacating his farm home near Moose River for the occupation by the George Hansons and is moving into his residence in the village, lately occupied by the Harry McLean family, who are moving into the John Leverson house, which they recently bought. Mrs. Leverson will make her home with the George Johnson family at Halstad. The John Johnson family of Gully recently moved into an apartment in the Hiawatha while the apartment above Gonnering's Meat Market is being vacated by the Arthur Lundmarks and will be occupied by Mrs. Ruth Hayes Bakke. The Peter Windaness family recently moved back to the M. L. Windaness farm after living for the past few months on a farm further east.

Sunday visitors at the Christ Clausen home were Mrs. Ralph Fjelstad and Iola Engelstad of Antler, N. D., and Chester Engelstad of Rosewood. Other visitors there were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swanberg and Virginia and Mrs. Clara Bryan of Warren.

Hunters Reminded to Report on Game Shot

The conservation department asks all hunters to report the kinds and numbers of game birds and mammals taken under their hunting licenses this year. Convenient cards for this purpose are attached to hunting licenses and must be returned not later than January 31. If no game is obtained the report should be made as well. The information thus obtained is used in the interests of good hunting. Hunters are also asked to report banded birds giving all data possible including date, place and manner of recovering band. With the pheasant season opening Saturday, pheasant hunters are reminded to request permission from farmers before entering fields.

On Oct. 20th the trapping season on skunks opens. If the weather continues mild it will be to your advantage to bring them in unskinned. The difference of selling skinned and unskinned is only 10 cents. Why we like to have them that way is because our employees are experienced in skinning, stretching and scraping. Our stretch boards are uniform. We can preserve them regardless of weather conditions. Bring them in now!

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father Ruben C. Stenvik, who passed away one year ago October 19th:

In the graveyard softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies dear Daddy we loved so dearly,
In his lonely, silent grave.
He shall never be forgotten,
Never shall his memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger
Around the grave where he is laid.
Oh, may we meet you dearest
daddy,
Where we never more shall weep,
For those who die in Jesus,
Their death is only sleep.

PLAN FOR COMING SEASON'S HOCKEY PLAY ON MONDAY

Bill LaFave Heads Group to Make Plans for the Season

Hockey plans for the coming season were given an impetus at an Athletic Association meeting held at the Rex Cafe Monday night. President Bill LaFave was authorized to appoint a three man committee, including himself, that would draw up definite plans for a team.

Several of last season's team members, notably George Beverly, Jimmy Bronson, Joe Popiel, Joe Novak, Clayton Taylor, and Paul Kornek, have expressed themselves as being desirous of playing with the local club again this year. In the case of Beverly it was decided that a definite agreement should be made. Beverly, in a letter to Art Senstad, stated that he had received an offer to play hockey with a team on the Iron Range, but that he would rather play here if Thief River Falls puts a team on the ice this year. The association authorized Mr. Senstad to inform Beverly that the local hockey plans called for his appearance at a defense position with the Thief River Falls team.

Phil Larson, president of the States-Dominion hockey league, announced that a call for a league meeting would soon be issued, at which time plans for the season would be formulated.

Prowlers Rally and Whip Moorhead 32-14

Ripping through a befuddled and badly outplayed Moorhead Spuds football team for three fourth-period touchdowns the Prowlers, sparked by the slashing runs of fullback Andy Anderson and the accurate forward passing of halfback Eddie Flasch, won the season's most exciting game when they trounced the Moorhead eleven, 32 to 14, in game played here last Friday night.

Making full use of their weight advantage, and mixing their aerial game with power plays, the bulky Spuds scored two touchdowns in the second period, to leave the field at half-time holding a 14 to 6 lead. The Spuds tallied their first score on a pass, Carney to Brenden; and big Norm Erickson went over tackle for the extra point. The Prowlers cut into this seven point lead when Brenden, back on his 8 yard line for a punt, had his kick blocked by Luther Fjelstad and Johnny Parbst recovered the ball in the end-zone for a touchdown. The try for extra point failed, and the Spuds led, 7 to 6.

Moorhead received Thief River's kickoff, and on the second play, from their 40 yard line, the Spuds completed a pass, Erickson to Brenden, which Brenden caught on the Prowler 45 yard line and ran to the Thief River 5 before being downed. Erickson plowed over right tackle for the touchdown; and converted the extra point when he passed to Hanson. The score at the half: Spuds 14, Prowlers 6.

The Prowlers second-half kickoff was a deep one, with Lund being downed on the Spud 5 yard line. A line play lost 2 yards; and then the punt out was taken by Flasch on the Moorhead 35 yard line. On the first play Andy Anderson knifed through right tackle and was away for a twisting 35 yard run for a touchdown. Flasch's sweep of left end failed to convert the extra point. The score: Spuds 14, Prowler 12.

And here's the Prowlers' sensational fourth quarter: It was the Spuds ball, 2nd and 10 from their 18 yard line. Brenden punted to Carlisle, who made a 10 yard return, to the Spud 36 yard line. Flasch slid over right tackle for 5 yards. Two passes were incomplete. On the next play, the Prowlers' fourth down, Thief River was offside, but instead of taking the down and the ball, the Spud captain chose the penalty, 5 yards, giving the Prowlers another down, and on fourth down Flasch tossed a pass that Anderson completed on the Spud 12 yard line with a remarkable catch. Eddie flipped another pass to Anderson, and Andy made the grab on the 2 yard line and went over for a touchdown. The extra point was converted when another Flasch to Anderson pass was complete, bringing the Prowler score to 19.

A pass interception by Tommy Carlisle, who was playing a fine game for the Prowlers, stopped a Spud aerial attack that had carried from the Moorhead 25 yard line to the Thief River 38 yard line, where Tommy made the interception, and brought the ball to the Spuds 44 yard line. Tommy made a yard on a try at left end; and then Anderson sliced off right tackle for a 22 yard run, to the Spud 21 yard line. Andy then tossed a pass to Eddie Flasch, which Ed caught on the 5 yard line and scampered over the goal line for the tally. On a pass, Ferguson to Flasch, the extra point was converted.

The Spuds went to the air again after receiving the Prowler kickoff, completing three passes, and with a 12 yard run by Erickson, brought the ball to the Thief River Falls 35 yard line, where Roman Paulson made a pass interception to give the Prowlers the ball. Carlisle made 6 yards on a spin through left tackle. A pass, Flasch to Babe Peterson, went to the Spud 17 yard line, with Babe nearly being away for a touchdown. Flasch made 2 yards over right tackle; a pass was incomplete; a 5 yard penalty against the Spuds, offside; Flasch over left guard for the final touchdown. The game ended two plays later with the ball in possession of the Spuds on their 25 yard line. Final score: Thief River Falls 32, Moorhead 14.

District Townsend Unit Endorses R. T. Buckler

A joint meeting of the Mahnomen Townsend club and the district council of the Townsend state organization, met in the court house in Mahnomen on Sunday the thirteenth. The election being so near at hand the question of which of the congressional candidates the Townsend group should support, came up for discussion. The talks brought out the fact that Mr. Buckler has supported the Townsend Plan from the beginning of the effort to bring it before the Congress and voted for the bill. The meeting of the Council endorsed Mr. Buckler for re-election.

Some Fine Bowling Scores

The season is only a few weeks old, but already several bowlers have collected 600 totals. Stan Cockrell, who's found a curve ball some place, has a 623 for the season's high total; and John Langseth, with a 621 is a close second, and John had a 603, too. Cal Colvin, with the Times, had a 604 total last week. Even though the season is only a couple of weeks old it is beginning to look as if it will be John Langseth year on the Mint alleys. He has a fine 193 pin average in the City League, to hold a 5 pin lead over his teammate Kammy Berg; and in the Business League Snort has a remarkable 203 pin average. Must be pretty nice for the J & B's and the Bridgeman's to have an anchor man like that.

And I won that 'coke' I had wagered with Kammy Berg, but not by very much did I win it. He missed hitting the 580 pin total by 10 pins, getting a 570.

It'll Be For the Title

That's the setup for tomorrow night's game between the Warren Ponies and the Prowlers. At least the team that loses will be out of the chase, and if the Prowlers win, and they should, they'll be the champions, for the game will be the season's final for Thief River and it would give the locals and conference record of three wins and one loss. But of course they haven't won the game yet, and Hershal Lysaker had his Warren team over here last Friday night watching the Prowlers cutting capers against the Moorhead Spuds. Lysaker was taking notes on the game, and plenty of notes, so you can bet that he's spent this week in trying to cook up some magic for the game. You know, Warren would consider their season a success if they could knock off the Prowlers.

But some of the stuff that Lysaker saw the Prowlers pull off last Friday night must have given him a headache. How's he going to stop Andy? How's he going to keep Eddie Flasch from tossing those yard-gaining passes? And how does he know that Tommy Carlisle won't pick the Warren game to break loose for a couple of long touchdown runs? And how's he going to keep Orrin Pederson from playing in his backfield?

It's pretty hard to dope out the game tomorrow night, but the Prowlers with their versatile attack should crack through the Warren defense for a couple of touchdowns. The weather, too, will have some bearing on the game, for a cold, blustery night would handicap the Prowlers' 'open' game, making it troublesome to complete their forwards and laterals.

We'll Have Hockey This Year

That was decided at an Athletic Association meeting held last Monday night. And it will be a fine grade of hockey, too, for the meeting made certain that Beverly would return for another year of local hockey. Bev had a chance to play hockey at Hibbing this year, but he'll pass up that opportunity to play with the local team, that's what he told Art Senstad.

And I had a letter last week from Joe Popiel, the right winger on the 'nose' line and Joe asked [illegible] we would have a team. Joe Novak, Paul Kornek, and he would like to come down here for another year of hockey, and I'm quite sure the fans around here would like to have those boys down here for the season. Well, with Beverly, Novak, Kornek, and Popiel, we would have the nucleus for a fine hockey team.

Joe stated that he has been working in a drug store, jerking sodas, he calls it; and that Paul Kornek is working in the Fort Garry hotel.

One thing that is sure about this hockey matter though, is that the teams in the States-Dominion league won't be as high-salaried as they were last season. Some of the clubs last year had monthly payrolls that reached 900 to 950 dollars a month. That's too much payroll. This year it is planned to restrict the clubs to a 600 or a 625 dollar a month payroll.

Junior Chamber Will Decorate Sports Arena for Corn Huskers Dance

Several matters were disposed of at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last Thursday evening in the Palm Garden cafe. The group voted to have a squad of men on hand this evening to decorate the arena in preparation for the corn huskers' dance scheduled for Friday evening under the auspices of the athletic association. It was also decided to confer with the state highway department in an effort to secure the placing of reflector signs bearing the name of this city at Marcoux and Win-E-Mac junctions. Morris Howick was elected captain of the Junior Chamber bowling team.

Illinois Man Fined $100 for Bagging 56 Pheasants

The department of conservation this week announced the apprehension of a game law violator with 56 pheasants this week. Frank J. Koch, Springfield, Ill., was arrested near Owatonna with the record-breaking loot. He paid $100 and costs before Justice of the Peace R. G. Hasfield of Medford; Koch's chauffeur, Dale Renolds, also of Springfield, was fined $10 and costs.

Pairings also were decided at the meeting, the winner in District 30 south here meeting the winner in District 32 to the north in the first round, and Districts 29 and 31 will compete.

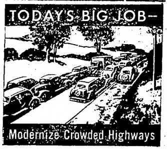
TODAY'S BIG JOB—



Modernize Crowded Highways

Citizens of this state have good reason to be enthusiastic motorists. They have an unusually fine highway system. Hundreds of thousands of vehicles keep the roads humming with traffic.

Some of these roads are required to carry more traffic than they can safely accommodate. These urgently need modernizing.

Steady driving at prevailing speeds—with safety built into the roads—is what motorists need. State-wide planning surveys now under way will provide facts on which a rational plan of future highway development can be based.

Widening, straightening, separation of grade crossings and other improvements based on these surveys will provide useful employment for thousands, greater safety for millions, better business and better living for all.

Heaviest traffic roads are often the narrowest, because they were paved long ago. Widening with concrete is imperative to keep traffic moving safely.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Minnesota

To be submitted at 1940 General Election

J. A. A. BURNQUIST
Attorney General

St. Paul, Minnesota,
February 5, 1940

Honorable Mike Holm,

Dear Sir:

In compliance with the provisions of Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927, Section 46, I make this statement of the purpose and effect of the amendment proposed to the constitution of Minnesota to be voted on at the November 5, 1940 general election in accordance with Laws 1939, Chapter 447.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

By the enactment of Laws 1939, Chapter 447, the legislature has proposed an amendment to Section 36 of Article 4 of the constitution. This section now reads as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: [illegible]

Purpose and Effect

The purpose and effect of the proposed amendment is to require publication of amendments to home rule charters once each week for four (4) successive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation in such city or village instead of publication in three (3) newspapers of general circulation in such city or village for at least thirty (30) days as now required.

There are many cities and villages which do not have three local newspapers. In such cases, under the present provision, publication must be made in newspapers printed elsewhere and circulating locally. If the proposed amendment is adopted publication will be required in only one qualified newspaper, thereby reducing the difficulty and expense of amending home rule charters.

Very truly yours,
J. A. A. BURNQUIST,
Attorney General.

ABOUT RECIPROCITY TREATIES

If elected Congressman I shall certainly protest, to the best of my ability, against the so-called, "reciprocity" treaties entered into by the President and Secretary of State, by which the home markets of the American farmers and especially of those farmers living in this section of the country, has been traded off for foreign markets for manufacturers in our eastern states.

I hope also to protest that part of the farm policy which is building up the dairy industry and the cattle industry in other sections of the United States, on lands formerly used for growing cotton, tobacco and other crops, in competition with the dairy and cattle industry here in Minnesota. I do not think we should be on the losing end of the bargain in all these matters.

Citizens of this state have good reason to be enthusiastic motorists. They have an unusually fine highway system. Hundreds of thousands of vehicles keep the roads humming with traffic.

Some of these roads are required to carry more traffic than they can safely accommodate. These urgently need modernizing.

Steady driving at prevailing speeds—with safety built into the roads—is what motorists need. State-wide planning surveys now under way will provide facts on which a rational plan of future highway development can be based.

Widening, straightening, separation of grade crossings and other improvements based on these surveys will provide useful employment for thousands, greater safety for millions, better business and better living for all.

Heaviest traffic roads are often the narrowest, because they were paved long ago. Widening with concrete is imperative to keep traffic moving safely.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Minnesota

To be submitted at 1940 General Election

J. A. A. BURNQUIST
Attorney General

St. Paul, Minnesota,
February 5, 1940

Honorable Mike Holm,
Secretary of State,

Dear Sir:

In compliance with the provisions of Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927, Section [illegible], I make this statement of the purpose and effect of the amendment proposed to the constitution of Minnesota to be voted on at the November 5, 1940 general election in accordance with Laws 1939, Chapter 447.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

By the enactment of Laws 1939, Chapter 447, the legislature has proposed an amendment to Section 36 of Article 4 of the constitution. This section now reads as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: [illegible]

Purpose and Effect

The purpose and effect of the proposed amendment is to require publication of amendments to home rule charters once each week for four (4) successive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation in such city or village instead of publication in three (3) newspapers of general circulation in such city or village for at least thirty (30) days as now required.

There are many cities and villages which do not have three local newspapers. In such cases, under the present provision, publication must be made in newspapers printed elsewhere and circulating locally. If the proposed amendment is adopted, publication will be required in only one qualified newspaper, thereby reducing the difficulty and expense of amending home rule charters.

Very truly yours,
J. A. A. BURNQUIST,
Attorney General.

ABOUT RECIPROCITY TREATIES.

If elected Congressman I shall certainly protest, to the best of my ability, against the so-called "reciprocity" treaties entered into by the President and Secretary of State, by which the home markets of the American farmers and especially of those farmers living in this section of the country, has been traded off for foreign markets for manufacturers in our eastern states.

I hope also to protest that part of the farm policy which is building up the dairy industry and the cattle industry in other sections of the United States, on lands formerly used for growing cotton, tobacco and other crops, in competition with the dairy and cattle industry here in Minnesota. I do not think we should be on the losing end of the bargain in all these matters.

PROGRESS SHOWN IN LIQUIDATION OF RURAL CREDIT

Jones Reports to Governor on First Nine Months of This Year

George C. Jones, conservator of the Minnesota department of rural credit, last week submitted to Governor Stassen a report dealing with progress in liquidating the affairs of the department. The report reads in part as follows:

Since my last report to you dated July 19, 1940, we have sold an additional 317 farms, which means that since January 1, 1939, 2,077 farms have been sold for a total sales price of $5,889,897.07. Of these farms sold, 526 have been to former owners or their children, 717 to local tenants, 596 to local farmers and 238 to purchasers from outside of the immediate community. 463 of these farms were sold for all cash and 1,614 on time with an average down payment of 26.3%. These farms have been sold in 85 Counties of the State and have returned a levy of approximately $182,000.00 annually to the tax rolls of these counties.

I am also pleased to report that the condition of our interest bearing paper continues to improve. On January 1, 1940, the Department held 5,989 loans and contracts of which 458 or 7.6% were delinquent two or more semi-annual installments, while on October 1, 1940, only 220 or 3.5% of the Department's 6,496 loans and contracts were delinquent two or more semi-annual installments. As a further evidence of this improvement, only 177 farms have been acquired during the first nine months of 1940 as compared to 427 acquisitions during the same period in 1939.

The two factors—increased sales and fewer foreclosures—have resulted in a decrease in the inventory of State-owned farms from 3,886 on January 1, 1939, to 2,627 on September 30, 1940. With three of the best selling months ahead, I feel that before January 1, 1941 the real estate inventory will have been reduced to something under 2,300 farms, or a reduction of 40.8% as a result of the liquidation activity during the two years period. This, I believe, indicates that a definite progress is being made toward final liquidation of the Department.

There has been slightly over $2,000,000.00 paid into the Rural Credit Fund during the first nine months of this year, which represents income from sales of farms and principal payments on mortgages and contracts. This amount is available for the redemption of outstanding Rural Credit bonds. The deficit in the Interest Fund, of course, continues to mount with only $562,465.39 collected on our interest bearing paper during the first nine months of 1940, and $1,894,423.18 paid out on bonds. This has resulted in an increase of $1,331,957.79 in the Interest Fund deficit.

TOO MUCH FOR DUCKS

Pilot Paul Wilson was arrested and fined $10 last week for harrassing ducks in an airplane. A South St. Paul justice decided a big fast airplane is an uneven match for a little frightened duck.

September Sets New Record as 654 Lose Licenses to Drive

Four hundred and eighty-three Minnesota drivers' licenses were suspended and 171 more revoked outright during the month of September, bringing to an all-time record total of 654 the number of motorists who, in any one month since the origin of the drivers' license law, were deprived of their rights to drive as penalty for traffic law violations.

The previous high mark for monthly combined revocations and suspensions occurred last May when 280 drivers' licenses were revoked and 310 suspended.

Of the September suspensions 251 were for repeated offenses of speeding 74 were for intoxication, 69 for reckless driving, and 10 for failure to obey, stop signs and signals.

Twenty eight other drivers had their licenses completely revoked for repeated offenses of speeding, to the peril of the lives of others on th highway, and 118 suffered revocation for driving while intoxicated.

The September report, submitted by the drivers' license bureau to Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann, showed that during the first three quarters of the year 1,771 motorists have been barred from driving a motor vehicle by outright revocation of their drivers' licenses, and 2,536 more have suffered suspension of their driving rights for varying periods of time, depending upon the seriousness of the violation involved and the danger to life, limb and property it creates.

Number of Students at "U" Is Up to Last Year

"Approximately 15,000" remains accurate for reporting attendance at the University of Minnesota this year as it was last, although the formal figures will be a little under that number this year, whereas they were slightly above it a year ago. Statistics released by Rodney M. West, registrar, at the end of the first week of classes gave the enrollment at that time as 14,810, as compared with 15,013 at the comparable time in the fall of 1939. This represents a decline of 1.4 per cent. Last year the figures mounted by another 380 later in October as graduate enrollment was completed, and one or two hundred more will come in this year, at least.

WOULD YOU CUT DOWN THE APPLE TREE?

You'll probably find a few bad apples in a bushel of good ones. That's the way it is with beer retailing in America.

There are hundreds of thousands of wholesome, law-abiding beer retail establishments that sell good beer—the refreshing, appetizing beverage of moderation. At the same time, there is a handful of undesirable, anti-social taverns. Unfortunately, these few outlaw establishments bring discredit to the entire beer industry.

To protect your right to drink good beer, the Brewing Industry wants such anti-social retailers eliminated entirely. It has instituted a "clean-up or close-up" program—now in effect in some states and being extended.

We'd like you to know about this socially important program. May we tell you about it in an interesting free booklet? Write: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N. Y.

SMILEY

Udstrand Reunion

One of the most outstanding social events of the season was that of the gala reunion of over sixty relatives who gathered at the home of Mrs. E. Aakre and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Markus, Sunday, Oct. 6. This important event was in the commemoration of the 20th anniversary of the immigration from Norway to America of Hans and Anna Marie Udstrand and family, Markus, Johan and Haghart Udstrand, Helmine Udstrand Lampland, Anna Udstrand Erickson and daughter Magna, now Mrs. C. J. Carlson, and Amalie Udstrand Aakre. Of these folks, Mrs. E. Aakre, Mrs. H. Lampland, Haghart Udstrand, and Mrs. C. J. Carlson survive as well as 28 grandchildren, 55 great grandchildren, and one great great grand child.

The day was truly filled with important events beginning with a twelve-thirty dinner that contained "smorgasbord" with the typical Norwegian dishes "rommegrot" prepared by Mrs. Tim Bjella, "sandbakkles" and "lefse" made and brought by Mrs. Louise Christenson and Mrs. Jack Aasrude. Every one brought something to contribute to the feast which was, indeed, a monstrous affair with the main table and edible centerpiece being a gorgeous three tiered cake decorated in gold with pink roses. This cake was presented by one of the honorees, Mrs. C. J. Carlson of Withee, Wisconsin. A repetition of this feast occurred again at 4:30 p. m. after an afternoon of a real enjoyable program of music and songs prepared by all the little folks. The program consisted of the following.

"God Bless America" by Leora Vraa; "Pennies for Jesus" by Lois Udstrand; "An Old Dutch Garden" by Joan and Charlotte Ekness; "Playmates" by Eleanore Aakre; "Jesus Loves Me" by Odeline and Angeline Erickson; "South of the Border" by Darlene and Lois Udstrand; "The Singing Hills" by Russell Bjella; all the little folks then sang "The Cathedral of the Pines" and "The Wedding of Jack and Jill". After the program, young and old participated in the singing of old time ballads and hymns accompanied by Mrs. H. J. Aakre at the piano.

The rooms in the house were beautifully decorated with flowers, candles and colors in keeping with the season and occasion. Much credit for the affair is due Mrs. H. Lampland, the oldest member in the group for being instrumental in making the happy "get together" possible.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ekness, Halmar, Dolores, Muriel, Joan and Charlotte Ekness, Robert Huey, Mrs. Helmine Lampland, Mrs. Louise Christenson, Geraldine Hendrixon, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Aasrude, Mr. and Mrs. James McHaffie, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Christenson, all of Grand Forks; Rose Hendrixon of Minneapolis, Mrs. Calvin Dudley of St. Cloud, Mrs. Elsie Udstrand and daughter Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Art Zacharias of Warren; Mr. and Mrs. George Vraa, Leora Vraa, Mr. and Mrs. John Erickson, Junior, Marvin, Eldon, Angeline and Adeline Erickson, Helmer Erickson, Stanley and Marion Erickson all of Goodridge; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Aakre and daughter Eleanor of Duluth, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Bjella, Tim Jr., Lowell and Russell Bjella, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Aakre, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fields and Frank Jr., all of Bemidji; Mr. and Mrs. Art Udstrand, Gloria and Ronald Udstrand, Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Udstrand, Darlene and Lois Udstrand, Mrs. E. Aakre and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Markus all of Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grundhaus and son motored to Norden Sunday where they spent the day with Mrs. Grundhaus' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ranum.

A Sunday visitor at the Carl E. Olson home was Chester Torgerson of Park River, N. D.

Congratulations to the Alvin Konicksons on the happy arrival of the big baby boy Saturday, Oct. 5, at a hospital in Thief River Falls.

The Alfred Offerdahl family of Smiley and the Ole Offerdahl family of Thief River Falls motored to Middle River Wednesday and spent the day with relatives.

Mrs. H. Lampland of Grand Forks is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. E. Aakre and a niece, Mrs. Ted Markus.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Hallberg and Mrs. Hallberg's sister, Frances Keuhn drove to Oklee Sunday where they visited at the Lawrence Stone home.

Tim Bjella of Bemidji motored to Thief River Falls Tuesday where he attended an implement dealers meeting. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bjella who spent the day with her mother, Mrs. E. Aakre and her sister, Mrs. Ted Markus.

Al Kraemer Dies

A complete shock to the community was the "grape vine" news Sunday that Al Kraemer was dead. His illness of the past two months was well known but his death was so sudden. Smiley folks deeply grieve as Al was quite a popular and well-known young man, having lived on the Tunwall place with his bride since this spring. Sincerest condolences are extended to his young wife and his folks. He will be missed.

Donna Offerdahl returned to her home over the week end after having been a patient at a hospital in Thief River Falls for an appendectomy. Her parents are the Alfred Offerdahls.

The Freeman Allen and Arnold Korupp families made a pleasure trip up and around Roseau Sunday. It was Mr. Allen's birthday and they had a big picnic lunch and a birthday cake which they ate in some outdoor cranny along the way.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Aakre and daughter Eleanor Ann of Duluth spent from Friday to Sunday visiting Mr. Aakre's mother, Mrs. E. Aakre and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Markus.

Helperettes

The gang of Helperettes spent a gay and busy afternoon Wednesday when Mrs. Gust Hallberg entertained them at her home. The members made ten inch square white blocks with their names in black for Mrs. Hallberg's friendship quilt. Such a lovely lunch she had with delicious home made ice cream and angel food cake to top off the main lunch. Guests were Mrs. E. Aakre, Mrs. H. Lampland of Grand Forks, Mrs. Gunnar Johnson and daughter and Mrs. Art Hedlund. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Herman Rude, Wednesday, Nov. 13.

Mrs. Rude requests the members to please bring a white strip of cloth two inches by eighteen inches with the names embroidered in black. The members decided at this meeting that in order to do our duty in sewing and knitting for the Red Cross, the members will be divided into groups of four each into three different homes on the same afternoon, Wednesday, Oct. 23rd. Clara Olson, Mrs. Mark Olson, Mrs. Carl Lindholm and Mrs. Jim McCrum will meet at Mrs. O. N. Olson's home and each invite a guest. Mrs. Ted Markus, Mrs. Gust Hallberg, Mrs. Carl E. Olson and Mrs. Al Kraemer will meet at Mrs. Markus' home with each having a guest. Mrs. Ole Lein, Mrs. Herman Rude, Mrs. Arnold Korupp and Mrs. Freeman Allen will meet at the Allen home with guests. Each group will arrange for their own luncheons. It was felt that a whole lot more could be accomplished with smaller groups.

Mrs. H. Lampland of Grand Forks, Mrs. E. Aakre, and Mrs. Ted Markus called on Mrs. C. M. Haverstads Thursday.

Red Cross

It is Red Cross membership time again. Mrs. Freeman Allen is township chairman, succeeding Mrs. Jim McCrum. Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Ted Markus attended the "coffee party" for the rural Red Cross chairmen at Mrs. Paul Lundgren's home in Thief River Falls Saturday. They also attended the Red Cross county committee meeting of which they are members at the Public Library Monday evening. They met with the rural school nurse, Miss George, which the Red Cross sponsors from funds solicited in the annual fall membership drive. Miss George gave the committee a report on work she had done so far and explained the new Federal law now pending to expand health work in rural schools.

When the Red Cross solicitors comes to your home, meet her with a smile and either a membership or a generous donation could you try to give her, because either will be accepted this time. Do your bit! You will feel all the better for having done it.

Small Home Laundry

Space must be provided for laundering and household tasks in the new small home. If there is a basement, laundering and most of the chores can be done there. Wherever possible, it is better for laundering to be done on the first floor. Laundry work is difficult at best, but when carried on in unpleasant dank surroundings it becomes needlessly burdensome. Sometimes chores and laundering can be done in the kitchen, utility room, and to some extent in the garage.

Fosston to Establish Municipal Light Plant

By a vote of 487 to 148, at the special election in Fosston last week, the residents of the village voted to authorize the establishment of a municipal light plant for the village.

For the past twenty years, the village had been supplied with electricity by the Interstate Power company on the basis of a franchise granted by the city council. That franchise expires in November.

At the time the Interstate Power company began serving Fosston, it leased the lines and distributing equipment then in the village, and according to the agreement, that part of the system will be turned back to the village, in the same condition.

Dr. Billings Revises His Popular Bulletin Dealing with Turkeys

"Reading time, one well-spent hour." That is W. A. Billings' introduction to the latest revision of his popular Extension Bulletin 124, "Talking Turkey." Into this reading hour the extension veterinarian and turkey specialist has crammed the details of a simple, but complete plan for raising turkeys profitably, and, as "Doc" says, "you may be as poor as the proverbial church mouse to carry out the scheme."

Billings points out that in 20 years turkey raising has grown from a gamble to a well-established industry in Minnesota. Much of this success is due to the adoption of a simple plan for removing turkeys from their old haunts around the farm buildings to clean pastures and yards.

This practice has become the first commandment of Billings' plan for profitable turkey growing. Other features include artificial incubation and brooding of poults and the rotation of turkey yards every few weeks. Billings also points out that the entire growing field must be put on a year to year rotation.

"There is no drug cure for blackhead or any other common disease of turkeys," Billings avers, dismissing most of the cure-alls on the market today. He points out, however, that vaccination for fowl pox is effective as a preventive but not as a cure. Other vaccines are worthless, in his estimation.

The author takes pains to explain that the bulletin is not a turkey encyclopedia, but its 22 pages hold a simple and sensible plan for successful turkey growing. It may be had by writing the nearest county agent or Bulletin Office, University Farm, St. Paul, and asking for Extension Bulletin 124, "Talking Turkey."

Most Measles Deaths Occur at Pre-School Ages, Say Physicians

People used to say, "Oh, he might as well have them and get it over with," when the youngsters of the family were exposed to measles.

The babies were allowed to mingle with the afflicted member of the family and if the baby had a harder time of it than his older brothers or sisters, why so much the worse; but what could one do about it?

Members of the Minnesota State Medical association's committee on public health education outline two things that parents and guardians can do about it in a bulletin issued on the subject of measles today.

"First they can put the measles patient to bed in a room by himself," the doctors say. "They can keep the younger members of the family away from him and away from anything he touches.

"Second they can make every effort to put off exposure to measles or any of the so-called children's diseases as long as possible because the greatest danger from these diseases is reserved for the babies and young children. Older children stand them better and come out of them more often without serious after effects."

DOG OWNER SHOWS TRUE FRIENDSHIP

Plainview—Many stories are related of a dog's friendship for man, but here is one of man's friendship for a dog surviving the most acid test. George Douglass, with his dog and family went to the hunting club camp recently and Mickie, the dog, was turned loose in the woods. He pursued his favorite sport—killing cats—immediately. This time his victim was the black kind with a white stripe up its back. A sousing and a ducking in the river followed for Mickie but the evidence still clung to him. It was twenty miles home and the family too tender hearted to make the dog run all the way, opened the windows wide, and Doug opened the trottle for a record dash. There were some upset stomachs in the crowd and Mickie is still wandering around sadly wondering why his friendly advances are shunned.

ALL-ON-ONE-PLATTER MEAL IN AUTUMN COLORS

Macaroni and Cheese Surrounded by Browned Pork Sausage Patties and Fried Tomatoes — Garnished with Parsley
Crisp Cabbage and Apple Salad
Bread and Butter
Plum Sauce
Butterscotch Cookies with Brown Sugar Icing
Coffee

Here is a colorful autumn one-dish meal that does not require the services of the oven. It's a quick top-of-the-stove dinner that is perfect for days when you are going to be at a club meeting or on a shopping tour all afternoon because you really can prepare it in thirty minutes.

INEXPENSIVE AND THOROUGHLY SATISFYING

It's inexpensive and most satisfying, too, with the creamy strands of macaroni bathed in a rich sauce and topped with sharp grated cheese making the backbone of the whole meal.

Surrounding this mound of macaroni and cheese are generous-sized succulent crispy brown pork sausages and juicy red tomato slices that have been dipped in flour and fried in the sausage drippings. Sprigs of frilly green parsley set off this colorful brown and red and yellow array of tempting, savory food.

MACARONI WITH SAUSAGES AND FRIED TOMATOES

- ½ lb. macaroni (2 cups uncooked)
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 1 tbsp. salt
- 6 large pork sausage patties (about 1¼ lbs.)
- 4 large tomatoes, unpeeled
- 1½ cups medium white sauce
- ½ to 1 cup grated yellow, well-aged cheese
- Paprika
- Celery Salt
- Parsley

Break the macaroni into 1-inch pieces and cook until tender—about 15 minutes—in the boiling water to which the 1 tbsp. salt has been added.

In the meantime, brown the sausage patties on both sides in a hot skillet. Then allow them to cook slowly over low heat until well done, while preparing the other ingredients. Cut the tomatoes into thick slices. Dip each slice into flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Quickly sauté the tomato slices in part of the sausage fat in another heavy pan. Remove the sausage from the fat and keep hot until ready to serve.

FOR THE WHITE SAUCE

Pour off most of the fat, leaving about 3 tbsp. in the pan. Blend in 3 tbsp. flour, seasoned with salt and pepper. Remove from heat. Stir in 1½ cups milk. Return to heat and cook until thickened, stirring constantly to prevent lumping.

When ready to serve, drain the macaroni, and arrange in the center of a hot platter. Pour the hot sauce over it—and sprinkle the top with grated cheese—and then lightly with paprika and celery salt. Arrange the browned sausage patties and fried tomatoes around the macaroni—and garnish with parsley. Serve at once.

VENTURESOME LITTLE FELLOW

Fort — About a mile from the inlet of Isle Bay, on Mille Lacs lake, H. A. Brevig, of Isle, noticed a gray squirrel swimming toward the great open spaces of this large lake. No telling where he might have gone if Mr. Brevig hadn't brought him ashore with the aid of a landing net. The little fellow probably didn't realize there are no trees in the middle of Mille Lacs lake.

CHICAGO LADY THOUGHT MOOSE WAS A BOAT

Baudette.—"I didn't think there was another boat so close," exclaimed Mrs. Eddy O'Donnell of Chicago, one day last week as she and Mr. O'Donnell fished in Rainy Lake. Her husband looked, then he took another look, and the third one assured him it was not a boat he was looking at 15 feet away, but a cow moose swimming across the river. The moose reached shore, sauntered leisurely along the bank, crossed a field and disappeared into the woods. It was quite a sight for several tourists fishing on the lake.

LONE WHEEL DAMAGES CAR

Blooming Prairie.—Imagine the utter surprise of a motorist coming into town last week when the rear wheel of an approaching car separated from it and headed straight for him. This is what happened as Frank Burek drove merrily on his way to Austin. He didn't know anything had happened to his own car until he stopped to examine the damage to the other car. After hitting the car, the tire had rolled on its way, hopping a fence and into a nearby field.

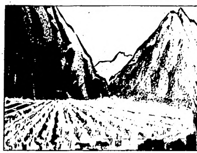
PITIFUL BRIDE of the VOLCANO

YET DEATH CAME TO ALL!

"You, the most beautiful among us, must be sacrificed unto the God of the Volcano. Your death alone can appease his wrath and save your people from destruction. Prepare to die!" So spoke, centuries ago, the high priest to a beautiful princess.

Although Indians frantically urged their princess into the seething crater of the volcano, it was of no avail. The volcano spoke—white hot lava rushed from the core of the earth, destroying all; volcanic ash darkened the sun.



Centuries later, these valleys slumber in peace and beauty. The volcanic ash deposited by the volcanoes has blended with the good earth, creating a soil that grows the richest, most luxuriantly flavored coffee in the world.

It is this vital, pungent coffee grown at the "Flavor Line" of volcanic valleys that gives Nash's Toasted Coffee its unique and fascinating flavor. Order Nash's Toasted Coffee from any grocer and discover the thrill of drinking coffee with tropical sunshine in every sip.

"Tropical Sunshine in Every Sip"

says: OLGA V. HANSCOMB

"In my many cooking schools, I've naturally used and demonstrated many brands of coffee. I can honestly say, however, that Nash's Toasted Coffee seems to me to be the ideal—rich, full-bodied and fragrant."

AREAS FOR DEER HUNTING LISTED BY DEPARTMENT

Shooting to be Permitted in All of Pennington Co. Nov. 15 to 25

As provided by the legislature for even numbered years, an 11 day deer season from November 15 to 25 was announced by the department of conservation late last week.

Deer may also be hunted in the regular season from November 15 to 25 under the law. The season was established after census surveys by game wardens and other department observers indicated a plentiful deer supply.

Territory open to hunting was extended southward somewhat compared with two years ago. Surveys showed the whitetails have spread downward from the former hunting ranges considerable distances and are present in good numbers in many new localities.

Deer may be shot north of a line following certain highways roughly from the northwestern corner of the state southeastward to just north of the Pine county line.

The open season area is open north and east of the following highways: Beginning at Noyes in Kittson county on the Canadian-Minnesota boundary, south on U. S. 75 to Crookston in Polk county, east on U. S. No. 2 to Erskine in Polk county, south on U. S. 59 to Detroit Lakes in Becker county, southeast on U. S. 10 to Frazee in Becker county, east on State 87 to Menagha in Wadena county, south on U. S. 71 to Wadena in Wadena county, southeast on U. S. 10 to Motley in Morrison county, east on U. S. 210 to Brainerd in Crow Wing county, east on State 18 to Garrison in Crow Wing county, south on U. 102 Minnesota Towns Still Breaking State Law on Angle Parking

Although the state Highway Traffic Regulation act strictly requires parallel parking on all state highways and streets comprising trunk highway routes, 102 Minnesota municipalities still condone angle parking in violation of state law.

The results of a survey were disclosed this week by W. F. Rosenwald, traffic safety engineer of the State Department of Highways, in a statement pointing out that this is unfair to the 80 percent of the municipalities which have complied with the law and require compliance on the part of motorists.

The only exemption from the state law's ban on angle parking is permitted on streets of more than 70 feet clear width between curbs, and then approval of the commissioner of highways is required.

"The new regulations have proven sound from the traffic and safety standpoint", Mr. Rosenwald said, "and most communities now have come to realize that they are also sound from the commerical standpoint. No type of curb parking will accommodate all vehicles, and it has become evident that only by providing for off-street parking facilities can sufficient space be provided to take care of the requirements of business districts."

Mr. Rosenwald has asked that the Highway patrol and all state highway department district engineers and district maintenance engineers cooperate in negotiating with municipal officials to bring about compliance with the law by those municipalities which thus far have failed to do so. He also has furnished each of these officials with a list of the 102 towns and villages which still permit angle parking in violation of the law.

LOST CANADIAN ASSISTED BY CUSTOMS OFFICER

Ely.—A. E. Burt, a new pilot for the Canadian forest service, one day last week became a bit confused and landed his plane at the seaplane base on Shagawa lake in Northern Minnesota. It took a special ruling indicating the landing was a forced one by customs inspector Harry Anderson, at Ely to clear Burt and assist him back to his own country.

To Mark Road Hazards with New Beaded Paint

Recognizing the growing necessity for more clearly visible traffic markings to reduce night driving hazards on congested highways, the state highway department has contracted for the application of luminous, beaded paint on approximately 100 miles of traffic hazards, driving channels and four-lane traffic separation stripes. The contract will result in visibly marking for the convenience and safety of night traffic, 613 hazards, 23 miles of center-line stripes and 3½ miles of traffic channel markings at intersections. It will require 1,500 gallons of the new beaded paint. The low-bid price obtained is $4.81 a gallon applied to the road surfaces.

Teachers in the Thief River Falls public schools will have a unique experience this fall in attending a teacher participation program when they go to the MEA convention in St. Paul, October 24-26. President Clifford P. Archer, director of the bureau of recommendations, College of Education, University of Minnesota, has planned a convention around the theme "Adapting the Curriculum to Contemporary and Developing Life," and there will be forty-five discussion groups in which teachers of the state will consider what should be included in the course of studies.

G. H. Mayer-Oakes, science teacher, will take part in the discussion, "Education for Earning a Living"; Muriel Wise, commercial teacher, in the same discussion, and Ruth E. Nelson, in "Mental Health and the Curriculum." G. E. Ahre will join in the music discussion.

Other panels will have to do with education for democratic action, mental health, individual differences, safety education, conservation, consumer education, participation in family life, preparation for earning a living, health, education for the common defense, international relations, and radio.

Appearing at the general sessions will be Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, former ambassador to Denmark, and Dr. Harry D. Gideonse, president of the College of Brooklyn, who will discuss the question "How Secure is Democracy in the World and in Our Country?" STATE CANDIDATES FAIL TO APPEAR AT F-L RALLY IN CITY

Several Hundred Persons Hear Short Talks by Day and Melby

Several hundred persons who assembled in the Auditorium for a Farmer-Labor rally Sunday afternoon were disappointed by the failure of party candidates for state offices to appear as announced last week. A conflict of dates with a meeting at Roseau was given as the reason.

At the meeting, over which H. O. Berve presided, brief talks were given in support of candidates for state and district offices by Representatives J. O. Melby of Oklee, and W. E. Day of Bagley, in addition to Halvor Langslet of Detroit Lakes, Ninth district secretary of the Farmer-Labor association; and Mr. Berve.

The speakers gave their version of Farmer-Labor achievements as compared to those of the Republican office-holders, and put in a good word for the administration of President Roosevelt.

Elmer A. Benson, seeking the U. S. senatorship, arrived in this city from Roseau late Sunday night in company with Howard Y. Williams, candidate for lieutenant governor, and C. A. Halvorson, candidate for state treasurer.

Demonstrating again his possession of no small amount of speed and endurance, Chalmer Irvin of Sanders township for the second successive year won the third annual Northwestern Minnesota corn husking contest conducted Friday afternoon on the Gus Hillyer farm under the sponsorship of the Civic and Commerce association.

Irvin found this year's corn crop to be a bit harder picking than last year, husking a gross of 683 pounds and a net of 607½ pounds Friday, compared to a net of 684.8 pounds in the 1939 event.

Winning second honors was Walter Stamm of Oklee, with a net of 577½ pounds; while third place went to Martin Haupt of Red Lake Falls, who ranked second in 1939, his net total Friday being 551½ pounds. Fourth place winner was Archie Reichelt of Red Lake Falls, with 548 pounds of net corn.

Other contestants included George Hesse, Red Lake Falls; Henry Tvedt, Oklee; H. L. Butler, East Grand Forks; and O. J. Wallace, Warren. A condensed tabular report, as prepared by Scorers L. W. Rulien and George Werstlein, appears elsewhere in this issue of the Times.

Contest officials estimated that nearly 1,000 persons were present at one time or another during the afternoon to witness the event, the lunch stand operated by members of the Steiner Community club enjoying a brisk business. Preceding the contest, mechanical corn pickers were demonstrated by C. Gustafson & Son and the Thief River Falls Seed House.

The meeting closed with a brief questions and answers program, the award of attendance prizes and the serving of lunch to those present.

NUMBERS ARE ASSIGNED FOR REGISTRANTS

First Drawing for Draft to be Made in Washington Next Tuesday

W. J. LaBREE NAMED HEAD OF DRAFT BOARD

Berve Is Named on Advisory Board in 14th Judicial District

With the assignment of serial numbers and the making of typewritten lists of 1576 young men included in the registration for selective service in Pennington county, the county draft board Wednesday completed the first of its assigned tasks. The serial numbers bear no relation to the order in which draftees will be called, this being decided by a series of lottery drawings in Washington, the first of which is scheduled for next Tuesday. The list of serial numbers is posted at headquarters of the board in the court house.

The Pennington county draft board organized with the selection of W. J. LaBree as chairman, he having also served as a member of the board that functioned during the World War in 1917-18. Alfred Hallstrom of Black River was named secretary, while Owen A. Olson of Goodridge is the third member, with T. P. Anderson, a member of the board in 1917-18, serving in a volunteer capacity. Miss Louise LaBree was appointed clerk of the board, and Miss Helen A. Granum typist.

A total of 1548 men were registered October 16, while the number has increased since that date to 1576. Additional registrations will be received without penalty for the time being, Chairman LaBree stated.

Named by Governor Stassen to serve as an advisory board for registrants in the Fourteenth judicial district are three attorneys including Martin O'Brien of Crookston, H. O. Berve of Thief River Falls and Oscar R. Knutson of Warren. The board will appoint associate members in every community so that an advisor will be available for assistance to any man who requires help in completing the questionnaires to be filled out after numbers are drawn.

At noon on Tuesday, October 29, Secretary of War Stimson will draw the first number in a nation-wide lottery in which nearly 17,000,000 young men hold tickets—800,000 of them good for a year's service in the army.

Plans for the lottery were completed Monday at a conference of Dr. Clarence Dykstra, director of selective service, and President Roosevelt. At first Dykstra said that the president would draw the first number, but later it was announced that Mr. Roosevelt desired this honor to go to Stimson.

The president will attend the historic ceremony, to be held in the interdepartmental auditorium, and will make an address, to last about ten minutes.

Within three weeks after Stimson lifts the first blue number capsule from a big goldfish bowl, the initial contingent of 30,000 draftees will be on their way to training camps.

Men will be called to training—800,000 by next June 15— in the order in which their numbers are drawn from the bowl, unless they volunteer without waiting to be called or unless they are deferred from service.

Steps Taken in City to Organize a Local Girl Scout Council

Girl Scouting offers an absorbing interest to every girl and to every woman, in the opinion of Miss Olive Crocker, of Minneapolis, who was in Thief River Falls, Oct. 15-18. Miss Crocker, a member of the Girl Scout national staff, was here to organize a Girl Scout Council.

"There are ten definite fields of interests for the girls themselves," Miss Crockers explained, " and as many for the women who are needed to make the Girl Scout program available for the increasing number of girls who want to become members of the organization. Community minded women, who realize the importance of recreational leadership and citizenship training for young people at this time, can find no better outlet for their time and energy than that offered in Girl Scouting", she continued.

"There are more than 85,000 volunteer adults, including business women, school teachers and nurses, members of the Junior League, and housewives, who are enjoying stimulating experiences and making a definite contribution to their communities and to the nation, in their enthusiastic support of the Girl Scout movement. Those who prefer to work with the girls, serve as leaders. Others who prefer administrative posts, serve as members of troop committies, local councils, regional committees and national board.

"Due to their enthusiastic support and cooperation, more than half a million American girls are developing the interests, habits and attitudes which make for happy social adjustments to a changing world, and for their future participation in citizenship responsibilities."

The local group has sent in an application for a chapter.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Helene Kruse, who wore a street length dress of moss green, draped affect, with a black fur bolero and her accessories were also of black velvet. Both bride and bridesmaid carried arm bouquets of bridal roses and ferns. The bridegroom's attendant was Wm. Ranum of Rochester, Minn., fiance of the bridesmaid.

Following the ceremony the wedding party motored to Crookston where the wedding breakfast was served at the Grill cafe for the immediate family. Covers were laid for twelve. A large wedding cake served as the center piece and large vases of bridal roses completed the color scheme.

Pennington county will send a delegation of seven 4-H boys and girls to the Junior Livestock Show which opens Monday, October 28, at South St. Paul. County Agent Lester A. Lerud will accompany the group to the show which will continue through Thursday.

The local 4-H members earned the trip by raising animals of championship quality in their livestock projects this year. At the Junior Show they will place their animals in competition with 900 other prize entries from all parts of the state. All entries will be sold at auction on the last day of the show.

The Pennington county delegation will include: Harold Bothman, Rocksbury club, sheep; Robert Hayes, Northfield club, Bronze turkeys; Carroll Parnow, Star club, sheep; Ervin Roese, Silverton-Smiley club, poultry; Marion Meyer, Steiner club, baby beef; LaVonne D. The state 4-H club staff is making careful preparations for the event, both as to the supervision of the 4-H members and the arrangement of an entertaining and educational program.

WENDELL WILLKIE ADDRESSES 12,000 IN MINNEAPOLIS

Presidential Candidate Is Introduced by Senator Shipstead

Inspired to new confidence and vigor by the words of Wendell L. Willkie, Republican candidate for president, at Minneapolis Saturday, thousands of determined Minnesota Republican workers this week turned the national campaign in this state into what they say is a crusade to preserve democratic government in the United States.

Spurring them onward in their fight was the announcement that Governor Harold E. Stassen, a leader in the Willkie movement, this week will begin a swing around the state in behalf of his own candidacy for reelection and those of Wendell Willkie and Charles L. McNary, Republican candidates for president and vice president.

It was a [illegible], fighting presidential candidate who was introduced at the Minneapolis Auditorium by United States Senator Henrik Shipstead.

Because Willkie "is waging a great campaign in behalf of American traditions which sometimes are even stronger than the written law he is going to get my vote in November," Sen. Shipstead said, declaring that violation of the Third Term tradition endangers the continuance of free government.

Twelve thousand men and women from all parts of the state rose to their feet to cheer Shipstead's words and to shout themselves hoarse as Minnesota's veteran liberal Senator introduced Wendell Willkie.

At the outset of his talk Willkie, obviously swayed by the thunderous reception, departed from his prepared talk to condemn the prolonging of the depression by the New Deal and to deliver a ringing denunciation of the Third Term tradition violation.

Tax Group Urges "Yes" Vote on Amendment No. 1

A vote in favor of the constitutional amendment to be submitted to voters at the election November 5th will permit cities to frame their own charters without publication difficulties that heretofore have been insurmountable. Under the present law it is difficult to comply because the publication requirements are too involved and too expensive. The passage of the amendment would overcome these difficulties, according to the Minnesota Taxpayers association, which urges all citizens to vote "yes" on the amendment.

Every day last year more than [illegible] in death claim payments were made by American life insurance companies.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Marie Sund; five sons, James, Evan, Martin, Floyd, and Orvin all at home; four daughters, Mrs. Nels Olson of Goodridge, Mable, Sophie, and Mathilda all at home, and two sisters, Miss Mathilda Sund and Mrs. James Peterson both of Minneapolis.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

By Fred B. Elstad

The recreation program is sponsored by the city council in cooperation with Works Projects Administration recreation leaders.

Arena Recreation Center

The center has been closed for a few days because of the Corn Festival dance and work on the arena floor, but is open again and the games are being used. Everyone is urged to sign up for the indoor tournaments being held at the center. The center will be open all afternoon today and tomorrow because of school vacation.

Arena Craft Shop

Rubber arrow guns have been "the thing" at the shop during the past week. Boomerangs will be attempted this coming week. Organization of the Junior Craftsmen's Club is just about complete. Others are invited to become members of this group. Soon the club will have a social gathering at which time activities and regulations of the club will be explained.

Arena Gymnasium

Increased participation was noticed at the gym last week. With the installation of new equipment, more and more are taking advantage of the gym. As soon as the weather becomes a little cooler, it is expected that participation will take another sharp increase. Boxers and wrestlers have been working out daily in preparation for the winter shows. All others interested are invited to come to the gym.

Arena Puppet Theatre

Last weeks show, "The Frog Prince" drew a very large crowd. This weeks show, as yet not announced, is open for the general public as are all others. Shows start at approximately 4:15, Thursday afternoons in the upstairs of the arena.

Arena Game Room

Plans are being made for a game room to take care of the younger boys and girls. This will be located in the upstairs of the arena and open several times during the week. As yet no schedule has been made.

NORTHLAND STORE NORTH OF E. GRAND FORKS BURNS

The Northland Store, ancient landmark about 10 miles north of East Grand Forks, burned to the ground in a fire which started about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. It was believed the fire started from a kerosene stove in a back room which was used as a cream station. Very little of the contents of the building was saved.

ANOTHER GREAT SPEECH

President Roosevelt made another great speech last night, great, that is, as an appeal for votes. In many respects it was a classic of misinformation.

A person, listening to his talk and not knowing the facts, would get the impression that our country is now enjoying an unprecedented wave of prosperity, all due to his planning. Most of his comparisons were made with 1932 figures, presented in such a way that the 1932 figures would seem to be a fair Republican average. Being that he is proud of the seven year New Deal record, let's consider that record in comparison with the seven preceding years.

This is a farming community and the figures on national agricultural income are interesting. If we may believe the 1939 report issued by the government itself, these are the figures on total farm income for the seven year periods before and after 1932. The totals from 1933 on include the billions of dollars paid to farmers by the government in various benefits:

Gross Farm Income
1926	$12,378,000,000
1927	12,137,000,000
1928	12,816,000,000
1929	12,791,000,000
1930	10,337,000,000
1931	7,397,000,000
1932	5,562,000,000
Total	$73,718,000,000
1933	$ 6,404,000,000
1934	7,629,000,000
1935	8,688,000,000
1936	9,672,000,000
1937	10,350,000,000
1938	9,220,000,000
1939	9,769,000,000
Total	$61,732,000,000

According to those figures the American farmers must have had a few pretty fair years before Roosevelt saved the country.

In his speech last night the President took credit for the increase in employment of the last few months. There has been a great increase in industrial activity, it is true, but it is an activity that has been caused by the threat of war and if the present administration is to take credit for this increased reemployment, then it must also assume the responsibility for creating the threat of war that has prompted it. The New Deal, by its program, has not increased employment, and there is justification for the charge, on the other hand, that the New Deal program has actually retarded employment in private industry.

President Roosevelt claims credit for making the banks safe, and in this field the record is more favorable to him. But it should be remembered that, following the bank holiday of 1933, when he took over, only strong banks were permitted to resume business. What possible excuse could there be for any banks to fail since that time. In the bank holiday housecleaning, all weak banks were forced into liquidation and so high were the requirements that in many instances even solvent banks were not permitted to reopen. We had one of them in this city, which, even in expensive liquidation, paid the depositors 100 cents on the dollar.

And, digging down a little deeper into the record, there is justification for the charge that Roosevelt himself was in part responsible for the bank crash of 1933. From November, 1932, when he was elected, to March, 1933, when he took office, conditions in the country became steadily worse. Under the circumstances President Hoover, defeated in the election and with a Congress that had crossed him at every turn since the 1930 election, was powerless to act. He called upon Roosevelt and invited him to assume the leadership that would be his the following spring. But Roosevelt ignored him and gave the impression that he would be well satisfied if everything went to pot completely so that he could start from the lowest possible level.

In his speech last night the President charged that many untruthful things are being said about him in the campaign. There probably are a few untruthful things being said about him and his administration. That is true of all political campaigns. But Roosevelt is not in a position to complain about anybody's falsehoods. When it comes to distortion and misrepresentation of facts and appeals to prejudice, the President stands in a class by himself.

COMMUNITY CHEST TIME

In many large cities thruout the country money is now being collected for Community Chests. Experience has proven this to be the best method of handling various local charities. Advantages of the system are that it makes possible better control of solicitations, confining them to worthy and properly managed organizations, and also reduces greatly the cost of collecting money for such purposes, eliminating unnecessary duplication of effort.

But it isn't only in large cities that the Community Chest has proven itself. In Northfield, a southern Minnesota city not as large as Thief River Falls, the plan has worked out well for a dozen years, and the following comment by the Northfield News indicates that even in smaller cities the Community Chest provides a sensible solution to a universal problem.

> The Northfield Community Chest will conduct its thirteenth annual united appeal for funds October 31 and November 1. That sentence, taken from the story in last week's News about the plans for the annual Community Chest effort is full of meaning in the community life of Northfield.
> It tells of an annual community-wide effort, an appeal for support for worthwhile activities and enterprises, and it carries with it in the word "thirteenth" the information that Northfield has been able to carry on a successful civic effort over a long period of years.
> The Community Chest is an admirable way of doing a necessary job well. Moreover, it brings together in a united program more people of this community than are banded together in a common effort for any other purpose.

After all, you really can't hate a guy for not wanting to quit a job that pays more than $200 a day and expenses, including a navy that works in fine for fishing trips. It is easy to understand the attitude of the rest of the family too. They have all done pretty well since Pa moved into the White House. Under the circumstances we too probably would be tempted to make the sacrifice for another four years.

One of the Democratic party campaign posters that is being paid for by the taxpayers is a beautiful wall piece, distributed by the department of agriculture, suggesting that because of the administration's far sighted "ever normal granary" program there is plenty of food for everybody. We hadn't been aware of an acute food shortage at any time during the last couple of decades and somehow had the impression that the problem was to cut down the surpluses that were hanging over the market. Maybe this particular poster was intended for circulation only in the large cities.

The Democratic platform of 1896: "We declare it to be the unwritten law of this Republic, established by custom and usage of one hundred years, and sanctioned by the greatest and wisest of those who founded and maintained our government, that no man should be eligible for a third term of the Presidential office."

"I am supporting Wendell Willkie for President because I am a life-long Democrat, and he is the only Democrat running for President this year. There are at least twelve other reasons why I am for him—one is Madame Perkins and Harold Ickes is the other 11."—Irvin Cobb.

Topics of the Times

We hate to remind you property owners of it, but haven't you an appointment with the county treasurer?

Reckless drivers are not wreckless long.

With the war blockade and everything, a lot of folks are wondering if there will be any lutefisk suppers this fall.

Those of us who think we have trouble conducting our business might consider the plight of the folks living in London.

It is an assured fact that the army draft will be conducted more on the level than was the Third Term draft.

And now Emil Hurja, noted Washington prognosticator, forecasts the election of Wendell Willkie. Hurja and Gallup had better compare notes.

No wonder ducks are hard to get these days. The Erskine Echo's "35 Years Ago" column tells about a Thief River Falls hunter who was caught with 130 ducks in his possession, the limit being only fifty.

While not predicting the outcome, the Minnesota Mascot truly says that if the election were to be held tomorrow, everybody would be surprised.

President Approves Local Draft Boards

President Roosevelt has approved Minnesota's 137 local draft boards, examining physicians and government appeal agents as recommended by Governor Stassen, according to a telegram received at the capitol Thursday.

Members of medical advisory boards and advisory boards to registrants also were named by Governor Stassen, but their selection does not require presidential affirmation.

WITH FILM-X MOTOR OIL

You actually buy greater mileage, power and speed when you put Film-X in your car. This is because Film-X, made by a patented refining process, reduces motor friction and gives you more miles per gallon of gas, greater speed, more power, quicker acceleration and a cooler motor that wears longer.
Film-X is made of even-sized, ball-bearing-like, Controlled Hydrocarbons; little oily hydrocarbons that are exactly the same size in each SAE weight. Unlike other oils, each of these hydrocarbons is of the same size so that Film-X is an oil of extreme film strength and smoothness. You have better separation of the metal surfaces, a smoother surface for the metal to slide upon and faster carrying off of the motor heat. We have the proper SAE weights for your driving requirements. Fill your crankcase with Film-X Motor Oil and enjoy the pleasures of driving with the aid of Controlled Hydrocarbons.

Looking Backward

1930—TEN YEARS AGO

The first snow arrived October 17.—The Texaco Oil company started construction of bulk oil station on Atlantic av. Ed Grund haus bought the S. B. Kirby farm southeast of the city. Mrs. Will Korstad was elected president of the 16th District Parent-Teacher association at Crookston. John Oftedahl, local hotel man and a resident of this community 27 years, died October 20. The city tax rate was fixed at 108.7 mills.—Dr. O. F. Mellby left on a trip to Minneapolis and the Iron Range.—August Langseth of St. Cloud is visiting at his parental home here.

1920—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Peter C. Wold of Highlanding is a sticker candidate for judge of probate running against Lars Backe, incumbent.—Arthur Nustvold, 18, living north of this, lost his life in an automobile accident near the Eighth st. bridge east of the city. —A class of 50 candidates was initiated into the Elks lodge at rites in the Auditorium.—George Loken of this city was married to Miss Mildred Owen of Alexandria. —Bert Wangensteen returned from Peoria, Illinois, where he completed a course in watch repairing and engraving.

Farmers Union to Hold Conference at Moorhead on Friday and Saturday

The Farmers Union Organization and Business Activities will hold a state-wide conference at Moorhead in the American Legion hall, Friday and Saturday, October 25 and 26. John Vesecky, president of the National Farmers Union, will preside. The program for Friday afternoon involves two main discussions: First: "Cooperative Grain Marketing," an address by Thos. C. Croll, of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association, St. Paul. This will be heard on the air from 2:30 to 3:15 p. m., over KVOX, Moorhead. The second discussion will be given, immediately following the broadcast, by Dan L. O'Connor, President of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association. His subject will be: "Legislative Program of the Farmers Union."

Power of the Press

When county commissioners put a pay telephone in the sheriff's office at Hugo, Okla., they started something. A news story about the situation—"Pay Telephone in Sheriff's Office. Costs Him Nickel to Call Wife"—caused so much criticism of the economy move that the regular telephone was reinstalled.

Canadian Competition

Complaining that the Dionne quintuplets had drawn honeymoon visitors from Niagara Falls to the babies' home at Callander, a Niagara Falls member of the Ontario legislature declared: "We've got some plans for counter-attractions up our sleeve—not sextuplets, but something quite different."

PUBLIC OPINION

Dear Sir:

In your editorial in the issue of Oct. 17th, you again take up the question of a pension plan that would give to the aged people of the country, one hundred dollars per month or more and you say: "The thing we cannot understand is how so much money can be paid to a special group without taking at least an equal amount from other groups." It appears to be the misunderstanding is brought about by your failure to recognize the fact that our social economy is built upon what is called the profit system.

Let us take as an illustration of the operation of the Townsend Plan a case I have in mind. I am very well acquainted with a merchant whose business averaged right around one hundred dollars per day. His yearly statements showed a gross profit of about eighteen per cent and a net profit of ten to eleven per cent, over a period of several years. Had the Townsend Plan been put into operation, at least sixty thousand dollars per month would have flowed into the business of the city and his business would have been increased at least twenty five per cent. The average would then be $125.00 per day instead of $100.00. On this volume of business he would pay an added tax of $2.50, while the added profit at eighteen per cent on $25.00 of new business would be $4.50. His merchandise costs him the same price, his rent is the same, he will not need more fuel or more light or wider advertising and until his business increases up to thirty per cent, I doubt he would need extra clerical help and at that figure he would be able to pay all of the tax and have $72.80 left for clerk hire per month.

This is figured on the basis of the merchant being perfectly fair with the public and not passing any portion of the tax on to them. If he desired to pass it on he could still pay the tax and the extra clerk hire up to the figure above and enlarge his profits by nearly $70.00 per month. Let us not forget that from 97 to 98 per cent of the money he turns over to the Government comes right back to him through this buying agency which becomes his selling agency and that all of this business is cash business which can be applied on old accounts up to ten per cent of the amount he receives each month.

Remember too, that under the Townsend National Recovery Plan, we ask nothing from the government and pay every cent of expense the government incurs by acting as collector and distributor of the fund. A large part of the tax presenting itself to the business of the country in the form of charitable donations would be done away with as well as all charges on the state and local organizations under pension and social security laws of the present time.

Every business organization in the country is constantly trying to increase the volume of its business in order to increase its profits and the voices of Amos and Andy and a hundred other radio stars as well as all of the costly advertising in high priced magazines and in the news papers throughout the country prove that this advertising must be done in order that volume of business may be maintained and increased and nobody claims that the money spent, no not spent, but invested in this manner, is taken from one group and given to another for that would not be true, it is our way of doing business. Under the profit system volume of business is what we want and the Townsend Plan furnishes the largest additional volume of business, the greatest agency that has ever been offered this country.

Respectfully yours,
T. J. Welsh.

LIKES SAME BARBER AFTER 48 YEARS

Red Wing—The first shave administered by Frank Stroupe, oldest active Red Wing barber, when he embarked on the trade 48 years ago, was recalled the other day when his first customer, William Peterson, called at the shop for facial attention. Although Peterson, now 82 years old and a Red Wing resident for 76 years, asserts that the shave he received at the hands of Mr. Stroupe 48 years ago when the barber was a lad 19 years old, felt, in his own words, "like Dobey was pulling the whiskers out one by one," he has been a steady patron of the Stroupe shop during the past 48 years.

Prowlers Win Title; Defeat Warren 25-0

The Prowlers clinched the football championship of the Northwest high school conference by defeating Warren, 25 to 0, in a bitterly fought homecoming game played here last Friday night.

The Prowlers, who scored in every period, marked up their first touchdown midway in opening quarter. Eddie Flasch took a Warren punt on his 30 yard line and ran to the Pony 28 before being downed. Luther Fjelstad spun through right guard for 11 yards; Flasch circled right end for 6 yards; Tommy Carlisle swept left end for 17 yards, to the Warren 4 yard line; Parbst picked up a yard on a rush at center; Flasch added a yard on a try at right tackle; Fjelstad, on a spinner, went through right guard for the touchdown. Flasch's pass for the extra point was knocked down. The score: Thief River 6, Warren 0.

Doug Snelling's recovery of a Warren fumble on the Pony 45 yard line, set up the second Prowler touchdown. On first down Flasch passed to Anderson, for a 17 yard gain, to the Warren 28; another pass was incomplete; Flasch tossed an aerial to Anderson, and Andy on a sensational catch completed the pass on the Warren 15 yard line. Flasch scored the touchdown on a wide sweeping run that circled right end for 15 yards. Fjelstad placekicked the extra point. The score: Prowlers 13, Ponies 0.

The Prowlers received the kickoff to open the second half, and in seven plays had scored their third touchdown. Carlisle took the kickoff on his 20 yard line and lugged the ball back to his 43 yard line. Andy made a yard on a spinner; Carlisle, on a cut-back, made 9 yards over left tackle; Flasch sprinted around right end to the Warren 38 yard line; Andy picked up 2 yards on a spinner over right guard; a pass was incomplete; Carlisle broke around left end for 17 yards, bringing the ball to the Warren 10 yard line; Anderson drove off his right tackle, shook off a tackler, and went 10 yards for the touchdown. Andy's kick for the extra point was blocked. The score: Prowlers 19, Ponies 0.

Eddie Flasch made a fine interception of a Warren pass on his 29 yard line to give the Prowlers the opportunity to smash over final score. On the first play from scrimmage after the interception Anderson broke loose for the game's longest run, twisting away to the Warren 38 yard line before being stopped. Thief River took a 15 yard penalty on the next play, illegal use of the hands on offense. A pass, Anderson to Babe Peterson took Flasch's pass to the Warren 19 yard line; Andy picked up a yard on a spinner, as the third period ended. A pass, Flasch to Peterson, carried the ball to the Warren 6 yard line; Ferguson smashed at right guard for 3 yards; Carlisle made a yard a right tackle; Ferguson plowed over right guard for the touchdown. Anderson's placekick for the extra point was wide. The score: Thief River Falls 25, Warren 0.

Eddie Flasch, LaRue Anderson, and Tommy Carlisle, all backfield men, and Babe Peterson, end, and Orrin Pederson, tackle, played fine games for Coach Lindenmeyer's team. Flasch and Carlisle were running harder than they have all season, and Anderson was always dangerous on his off-tackle slants and as the receiver on the Prowlers passing plays. The Thief River ends must be given credit for stopping Warren's fleet-footed halfbacks, Gilbertson and Zneroldi, for this was the first game that they have been held in check.

Willard Hustad, center, and Chuck Cheney, fullback, were most effective players in the Warren lineup. Hustad's defensive play at center being especially impressive, and Cheney's powerful lunges into the line picking up many a yard for the Warren offense.

Statistics on the Warren Game

Here are the yardage figures on the football game last Friday night, and you'll see that the Ponies weren't beaten as badly as that 25 to 0 score would indicate. First downs—Warren 14, Thief River 10; yards gained from scrimmage—Warren 146, Prowlers 162; passes completed—Warren 3, Thief River 6; yards gained by passes—Warren 47, Thief River 80; passes incomplete —Warren 3, Prowlers 4; Warren returned three kickoffs for 68 yards, Thief River returned two kickoffs for 31 yards; the Ponies picked up 33 yards in running back four punts, while the Prowlers had two punt returns for 31 yards. On penalties Warren lost 35 yards, while Thief River lost 55 yards.

Individually, Warrens fullback, Chuck Cheney, was the game's leading ground gainer, making 66 yards; but he was closely followed by Thief River's Andy Anderson, who gained 64 yards. Jack Gilbertson of Warren gained 59 yards, Tommy Carlisle of the Prowlers picked up 44 yards, and Eddie Flasch gained 36 yards.

The ruling on that play in the second period, when Babe Peterson recovered a Warren lateral and he and Andy collaborated on a long 75 yard for a touchdown that was not allowed, is this: Babe, who recovered the lateral, could not run with the ball because it had touched the ground before he caught it. It was 'dead', for the team on defense, at the point of recovery. But Andy and Babe made a couple of fine runs just the same, and the exercise didn't hurt them any.

And the Prowler win was the clincher for the conference championship, and it is quite an honor for Coach Lindenmeyer and his boys to win the first title to be awarded by the newly formed Northwest high school league. While the Prowlers, as a team and as individuals, are deserving of a great deal of credit for winning the championship, I think that Lindenmeyer is deserving of quite a portion of credit, too. His material wasn't very abundant, nor was it so very talented; and he had some unruly players to handle, and other troubles; but yet he put a fine high school football team on the field. And another thing that cannot be denied, Lindenmeyer had the Prowlers playing an interesting and exciting style of football.

And Now It's Basketball

It's pretty early to be scratching up any dope on the district basketball prospects; but Warren, after losing the game last Friday, was handing out threats of what the Ponies were going to do to us, and the rest of the district, this winter. And they may do it, for they have the material. Of the ten players that were on the Warren varsity squad last year, and Warren you know went to the finals in the district tourney, only Strandquist and Sandbergs are missing. That means that Coach Lysaker will have veterans at the guards and the forwards, and his only problem will be to find a replacement for Strandquist at center.

And what the Prowlers will have except letterman Eddie Flasch, Tommy Carlisle, and Babe Peterson, is a question.

The Duck Situation

I've been getting plenty of heat because of my statement that there are thousands of ducks in Mud lake. Well, last week I took my most severe critic, Wally DuChamp, and we went into the lake, being guided by Bob Forder assistant superintendent at the refuge, and it was agreed that there are between 150 and 200 thousand ducks in the refuge.

And some of these ducks are beginning to extend their feeding range beyond the limits of the refuge, because on Tuesday, late in the afternoon, a couple of us ran into a big flight of mallards that were milling over a barley field. And by 'big' I mean about four or five thousand ducks. And Wednesday morning, four of us, Jesse and Wally DuChamp, Carlo Columbo, and myself, went out after these mallards; but there were some other hunters with the same idea and our hunting expedition wasn't such a howling success. Jesse got three mallards, Wally two, Columbo one, and I, in my usual no-can-hit-em style, got nothing. I wonder if there is anything more irritating than to have some hunter, about a hundred yards away from you, take a poke at a flock of ducks that are just about to glide in over your blind? That was happening to us last Wednesday morning.

And speaking of ducks reminds me of the song hit of the week. The local song hit, that is. Its called "When the green heads come back to River Valley", and you haven't heard anything if you haven't heard Ray "Streamline" Olson go to town on it. It's that good.

DELINQUENT TAX INSTALMENT PLAN ENDS OCTOBER 31

Minnesota Taxpayers Association Reminds Real Estate Owners

Real estate owners whose property is delinquent for 1936 and prior years will have to hurry if they hope to get under the deadline to take advantage of the installment tax payment plan, according to word received from the Minnesota Taxpayers Association.

The law, which expires this month, permits delinquent taxpayers to pay their past-due taxes in ten annual installments without having to pay the regular penalties and interest. Since the deadline is October 31, there is little time left in which to take advantage of this law.

Under Chapter 91, Laws of 1939, taxes for 1936 and prior years may be paid with a straight ten per cent penalty and composed into one item, and the owner may pay the amount in full if he desires, or he may pay one-tenth down, and the balance in nine annual installments with 5 per cent interest on the deferred balance.

This method of cleaning up old tax accounts offers an advantage to the delinquent taxpayer, the Minnesota Taxpayers Association states, since it saves the taxpayer a large amount of interest and penalties which have accrued since the property first became delinquent. At the same time, it starts the real estate owner off with a definite plan that eventually will wipe out the old account, while making future payments orderly and certain.

Those who wish to avail themselves of this installment tax-payment law are urged to contact their county auditor at once before expiration of the law October 31. After that date, the installment privilege expires, officials of the Minnesota Taxpayers Association point out.

MINNKOTA STARTS CONSTRUCTION OF BIG POWER PLANT

Ground Is Broken at Formal Exercises Friday in Grand Forks

North Dakota's Governor John Moses turned a spadeful of earth in Grand Forks Friday afternoon that started excavation for the new million-dollar generating plant of the Minnkota Power Cooperative generating plant at the north edge of Grand Forks.

Governor Moses, with Assistant Attorney-General Edward J. Devitt of St. Paul, headlined the speaking program at the groundbreaking exercises. Devitt represented Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota.

Among those participating in the exercises was S. E. Hunt of Thief River Falls, vice president of the Minnkota cooperative.

Land O'Lakes Creameries Will Redeem $54,000 in Commodity Certificates

Emil G. Johnson, treasurer of Land O'Lakes Creameries, announced that the company has called for redemption of one-half of the 1936 series of commodity certificates of interest. The first half of the 1936 certificates were redeemed in 1939. The 1940 redemption will entail the payment of $54,000.00.

Following a resolution of the board of directors, which was made because of satisfactory operations to date redemption will be made as of December 15, 1940. All holders of commodity certificates of interest are being requested to forward them to the Land O' Lakes offices for payment.

"Thousands of farmers in the Northwest area will receive payments," according to Mr. Johnson. He explained "the sales of Land O' Lakes products have increased to such an extent that today the Land O'Lakes brand is the largest selling sweet cream butter in the world."

More Wall-Eyed Pike Taken Commercially in Lake of the Woods

An increase in the amount of walleye pike taken commercially from Lake of the Woods this season was reported by investigators for the department of conservation this week.

Concluding the second year of a detailed study of the international boundary lake, the technicians reported the improved fishing apparently sustained a theory that catches from Lake of the Woods run in cycles.

Kenneth Carlander, Department technician, reported the walleyes averaged larger than those taken a year ago. During 1939 the commercial fishing take was low—apparently at the down end of the cycle. Great northern pike were also taken in greater numbers.

Propose State Memorial Park in Northwest Angle

Establishment of a state memorial park in the Northwest Angle, northernmost nook of the United States, gained impetus this week when Director Harold Lathrop of the Division of state parks inspected a proposed site. Lathrop's survey came as the Minnesota Historical Society recommended that a park be created at the location of old Fort St. Charles in the Angle. The fort was established by the French in 1732.

BILLFOLD LOST IN LAKE FOUND TWO YEARS LATER

Aitkin.—When G. D. Vickerman of Aitkin received a package last week from his friend, Ed. Kokesh of Hopkins, the last thing he expected to see was the billfold which he lost in the fall of 1938 in Lake St. Genevieve, near Jordan. Such, however, was the case, Mr. Kokesh having ascertained ownership of the wallet which he found in shallow water near a duck blind, by the American Legion membership card dated 1938 and bearing Mr. Vickerman's name. Although the paper money was almost in a solid lump, the leather billfold is still in excellent condition.

U. S. CONSUMERS TO DIG UP ALMOST TEN BILLION IN TAXES

Tax Contribution Amounts to 19.3 Cents for Each Dollar Spent

American consumers will pay nine and three-quarter billion dollars in taxes, or not quite two-thirds of the nation's total 15-billion-dollar tax bill, in the prices of the things they buy during 1940; the consumer's tax contribution this year figures 19.3 cents per dollar spent, compared to 19 cents in 1938, according to a new study of taxes contained in retail prices, made by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

The study estimates federal, state and local tax collections for the calendar year of 1940 at a total of $15,150,000,000. Of this sum, items totaling $5,382,000,000 are directly paid and should have little effect on retail prices, the study states, specifying under this group income taxes, estate and inheritance taxes, employees' social security contributions, taxes on owner-occupied residences, etc.

The remaining $9,768,000,000, the study finds, consists of taxes which are part of the cost of doing business, and so would necessarily be included in selling prices, like any other costs, and therefore must ultimately be paid by the consumer.

Total sales of goods and services, in which taxes and all other business costs must be contained, will reach an estimated $50,500,000,000 for 1940; thus the $9,768,000,000 tax load amounts to 19.3 cents per dollar paid out by the consumer, the study states.

Not included in the above "invisible" tax load are general sales taxes which will total an estimated 560 million dollars in 1940. While these taxes also come from the consumers pocketbook, the study points out, he pays them directly and consciously.

Also not included because visible and direct, is the item of $1,040,000,000 estimated total of real estate taxes which will be paid on owner-occupied homes in 1940.

These two substantial items add another billion and a half to the consumer's share of the national tax load, running up a grand total of 11¼ billion dollars combined visible and invisible taxes, or well over two-thirds of the 1940 national tax collections, the study states.

N. W. Recreation Area Lauded in Chicago Paper

Minnesota's outdoors looms large and increasingly news worthy in the country's press as the nation's outstanding recreational area. One of the outstanding of these press boosts was the series of seven articles recently published by the Chicago Daily News and written by its outdoor editor, Edwin McK. Johnson. In these the Chicago scribe vividly relates his experiences and impressions on a four-days duck hunting trip into Minnesota early in October. Victor A. Johnston, director of the state tourist bureau piloted the party of which Editor Johnson was a member on this occasion, the tour including stops at Lake of the Woods, the Northwest Angle and Thief Lake.

WPA Writers' Project Asks Contributions of Minnesota Photographs

The answer to these questions will be found in "Looking at Minnesota," a picture book now in preparation on the Minnesota WPA Writers' Project. It is to be a compilation of photographs representative of the State, to be published in book form as one of a national series.

As a matter of patriotic pride, it is hoped to make "Looking at Minnesota" an outstanding number of the series. Camera-minded Minnesotans are asked to help by submitting their best pictures, typical of the State, to Roscoe Macy, State Supervisor, Minnesota WPA Writers' Project, 28 Second St. N. E., Minneapolis.

Pictures submitted should be glossy prints, with a separate slip containing the sender's name and address and a brief descriptive caption. There should be no writing on the backs of the pictures. No payment can be made, but proper personal credit will be given for each picture used in the book.

THIS DOE POSSESSED A MIND OF HER OWN

Sebeka. There have been stories about deer and still more stories, but Dell Kraemer of Sebeka believes he has a true one to tell that tops the list. Last week on the highway approaching Sebeka, Mr. and Mrs. Kraemer were forced to stop their car when two deer, a buck and a doe, stopped directly in front of the car. After Dell blew his horn, the buck obligingly strolled off the road, but the doe, true to her sex, refused to budge without being coaxed. Noticing another vehicle approaching, Dell got out of his car and tried to scare her away, but she merely stood and looked at him. In desperation, Kraemer finally used main strength to push the animal to the side of the road where she stood and looked at him reproachfully as he got his car and drove off.

JUDGE BRATTLAND ENDORSED BY ATTORNEYS AT THIEF RIVER FALLS

As neighbors and associates of Judge Brattland, we have the opportunity of almost daily contact with him, and we desire to make known to the voters of the district our cordial endorsement of him, for election for a second term, as one of our district judges.

Judge Brattland has little time to devote to his campaign, as he is now at work, as usual, attending to the required duties of his office as district judge.

RIVETS TO BUILD DEFENSE vs BULLETS FOR INTERVENTION

PEACE OR WAR?
AT HOME ABROAD

THINK, AMERICA! YOU CAN DECIDE IF YOU ACT NOW!

WE BELIEVE:

1. The United States must build an impregnable defense for America.
2. No foreign power nor group of powers can successfully attack a prepared America.
3. Our government's sending more of its own ships, planes, and materials of war to a belligerent overseas, dangerously weakens national defense at home and threatens to involve America in war abroad.
4. American democracy can be preserved only by keeping out of war in Europe and Asia.

PEACE . . . or War? Defense at home . . . or war abroad?

That is the most important question that America has ever had to answer. And you have to answer it. Every loyal American must answer it before it is too late.

At this very moment we find ourselves threatened with self-made "emergencies" that may involve us in a war with Japan (and instantly hereafter in the European conflict). Nobody even pretends that such a war would be in our own defense. We would have everything to lose. Nothing to gain.

This Committee believes that the overwhelming majority of the American people demand Defense. But they do not want to engage in a war thousands of miles from home . . . do not want American youth sent abroad to Europe or Asia to be killed or crippled.

Some people would have us believe that war is inevitable. That is not true. It is not inevitable. The decision is still yours.

The idea is also being deliberately spread around that if we do not soon enter the war abroad, we will be invaded from overseas.

That is sheer hysteria. No competent military authority believes it. And no other idea could do more to undermine our true defense. No idea would better serve those who would welcome the picture of an America, vulnerable and ineffective.

The America First Committee believes that our first duty is national defense. We need guns. We need men. We need tanks. We need ships enough for a two-ocean navy independent of any other power. Let nobody take them away from us. Let nobody give them away.

Hysteria can sweep us into war. It can blind us to the real problem, that of defense. But it can be stopped if we keep our heads and make our democracy work for us while there is time.

Remember, that Communism, Fascism, Nazism—all types of dictatorship—are the products of war, not of peace! Our entry into war would not destroy them; on the contrary, it would make American ground more fertile for their spread.

Today, while Congress remains in session, you have a voice and can make it heard. Your Congressman and your Senator are in Washington as your elected representatives. But they cannot act on your wishes if they do not know what they are.

Read the message below. Act on it before it is too late. It tells you how you can help DEFEND AMERICA . . . FIRST.

We need planes, ships, tanks, guns—need them for our own defense. We need lots of them. We are spending billions for them now. Let's be sure we are spending for arms to defend our soil, but not to intervene with wars on foreign soil.

And above all, let's keep our weapons while we're getting more. Let's defend America by aiding America!

Write your Congressman and your Senators today. Let them know your sentiments. You have a right to tell them, and they have a right to know. Don't wait! Tell them today—a post card, a letter, a telegram . . . just so you speak up! GET THE NAME OF YOUR CONGRESSMAN AND YOUR SENATOR FROM YOUR LOCAL POST OFFICE! WRITE THEM NOW—YOUR REPRESENTATIVES IN WASHINGTON—TODAY! TELL THEM (1) TO KEEP THIS COUNTRY OUT OF WAR, (2) TO KEEP OUR WEAPONS FOR OUR OWN DEFENSE, (3) TO STAY IN SESSION UNTIL A SANE, SENSIBLE FOREIGN POLICY IS FIRMLY ESTABLISHED.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Good news for Americans is the fact that the railroads WERE READY—geared to meet any defense emergency, as well as to perform their less spectacular but necessary job of transporting the products of farms, mines, forests and industries to distant markets.

What Happened to What You Paid

Take the farmer. The cost of shipping his products to the established markets is deducted from the prices prevailing at those markets.

So perhaps you would like to see how much money the Great Northern Railway Company made—or lost—in recent years, how much the stockholders got, and how this compares with what was paid out for taxes.

The accompanying figures will give you a rough idea as to whether you are being treated fairly; whether the 29,633 persons, companies, banks and other institutions who own the Company are getting fair "wages" from their investments; and whether the Great Northern's taxes bear a reasonable relation to "ability to pay".

The owners, you will observe, received nothing from their investment during six of the last eight years; only $1 for each $100 share of stock in 1932 (from dividend declared previous year), and $2 in 1937.

The year 1933, incidentally, was the first year in the history of the Great Northern Railway that those who have invested their savings with it have failed to receive a dividend in some amount.

TAX COLLECTORS, DURING LAST 8 YEARS, GOT $53,023,220 MORE THAN THE OWNERS

	"Profits"[1]	Dividends Paid Stockholders	Taxes
1932	Loss—$13,405,439	$2,488,684[2]	$9,687,424
1933	Loss— 3,187,760	None	6,660,944
1934	Loss— 1,074,480	None	6,131,111
1935	7,139,860	None	6,216,821
1936	9,903,966	None	7,842,526
1937	10,049,520	4,997,788	8,425,163
1938	2,712,560	None	8,364,234
1939	8,686,425	None	10,121,469
	$20,863,072	$7,486,472	$60,509,692

[1] This is what was left after paying all expenses, including taxes and interest on mortgaged indebtedness. It is the surplus available for improvements, reduction of debt, offsetting losses in depression years, and for dividends to stockholders.

Taxes during five of the last eight years were MORE than the profit which remained for needed improvements, reduction of mortgaged indebtedness, offsetting losses in bad years, and for dividends to stockholders.

CANDIDATES HAVE ELEVEN DAYS LEFT TO SOLICIT VOTES

U. S. Presidential Campaign Stirs up Interest of Electorate

Candidates and political workers are now entering the homestretch of what has been called the most momentous campaign of modern times in the United States.

There are eleven days of campaigning left before the voters take the issues into their own hands November 5 to decide the immediate future of national, state and county governments.

The campaign for the presidency with President Roosevelt seeking to be the first president to serve three terms, and Wendell Willkie opposing him, holds the spotlight.

For vice president Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, is the Republican nominee, opposing Henry Wallace, former secretary of agriculture.

The third term is the biggest issue in the campaign. On many agricultural, foreign and defense questions, the two presidential candidates are much in accord. Republican opposition has been aroused by the reciprocal trade agreements, which Republicans claim have permitted many agricultural products to be imported into the country to the detriment of the farmer.

Republicans also attack the extravagance and inefficiency of the Democratic administration, and maintain that the present policy will lead the country into the World war. Democrats campaign on the federal aid that has been given agriculture and the social advances that have been sponsored by the New Deal.

In Minnesota interest centers chiefly on the governorship contest between Harold E. Stassen, seeking reelection on the Republican ticket, and Hjalmar Petersen, Farmer-Labor nominee; while Ed Murphy is the Democratic aspirant for the office.

Candidates for office in Pennington county are conducting energetic campaigns, the positions to be filled including those of judge of probate, clerk of district court and county commissioner from the first, third and fifth districts.

Other offices to be voted on November 5 are both district judge posts, two representatives in the state legislature from the 65th district, and Ninth district congressman.

Nation's Wealthiest Town

Now considered the nation's wealthiest town, Brookline, Mass., asked to be excused in 1714 from sending a representative to the legislature because of insufficient funds. Records found by the WPA historical survey show that the town made the request "upon the account of their building a Meeting House and the great charges thereof for such a Poor Little Town."

GAME WARDENS CRACK DOWN ON ILLEGAL SHIPMENTS

Hunters are not going to get away with illegal shipments of birds, state game and fish officials promise, since express agencies will be watched. Art Hammer, Harry Seavy and Carl Justad, Railway Express employes, are shown looking over 16 shipments of six birds each, double the number permitted to be shipped on each coupon. The shipment was confiscated in Minneapolis.

PARENTS' DAY TO BE NOTED NOV. 2D AT N. W. SCHOOL

Students Will Present Program Following Dinner for Parents

More than seven hundred parents will be the guests of the students at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston on Parents' Day, Saturday, November 2. Superintendent T. M. McCall has sent invitations to the parents of the 350 students enrolled to spend the day at the school. Visiting hours for all classes will be from 9:00 to 11:00 o'clock.

Following the dinner for parents in the school dining hall, a student program will be given showing the accomplishments on home project work during the summer. The style revue, in which girls model dresses made in home project work, will be a feature of the girls' part on the program.

Some fifteen of the many projects carried on by boys will be demonstrated as features of the boys' work. The school band, orchestra, boys' and girls' glee club will furnish music numbers on the program. The class in modern drama will present a one-act play.

Inspection of the exhibits in the home project show and the showing of the color film depicting activities on the Northwest School campus will conclude the program for the day.

Nevada has the least population of any state in the Union.

7-YEAR-OLD-WITNESS

Editors' Traffic Safety Campaign Attains Goal; 10 Lives Saved in Month

The first month of the Minnesota Editors' Traffic Safety Campaign achieved its goal of reducing traffic fatalities to 10 less than the deaths recorded for the same month last year.

Fifty-five persons were killed in September but this represents 10 lives saved over the toll of 65 in September of 1939. Despite the decrease in traffic fatalities, however, there was a marked increase in pedestrian deaths, 21 pedestrians having been killed in the course of a month.

Motor vehicle collision fatalities were decreased by 5 and the number of persons killed in non-collision accidents decreased 6 below September of last year. Twenty-two persons were killed last year in non-collision accidents, that is by running off the road, and only 16 during September of this year. The quota for October, fixed by the Editors' Committee, is 58.

The committee of the Minnesota Editorial Association which has established a quota of 534 in its campaign to "save 100 lives", has redoubled its efforts to reduce the accident toll during the winter months.

Use Space Under Window

The lucky owner of many books is sometimes worried by the thought that he has not sufficient space to hold them in an orderly fashion. Built-in book cases may be tucked away in various corners. But if the window sills are sufficiently wide, a few shelves built under the window will be convenient and a solution of the problem.

BIGGEST POWWOW OF MINNESOTA 'U' ALUMNI SATURDAY

Iowa-Minnesota Football Game Will be Feature Attraction

University of Minnesota alumni will have one of the biggest powwows in their history this week-end in connection with Homecoming and the dedication of the Coffman Memorial Union. Four special events are scheduled on the campus in addition to the annual election of a president and the Minnesota-Iowa football game Saturday afternoon, October 26.

Dedication of the new Union, to which alumni and friends of the university contributed generously, and which was built with no tax moneys from the state, will take place at 4:30 in the Union ballroom. Principal speaker will be Dr. Walter A. Jessup, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and one of the closest friends of the late President Lotus Delta Coffman, to whom the building is a memorial. A representative of PWA, which contributed about $200,000, to the building, will present it to the "U" and the Hon. Fred B. Snyder, veteran presiding officer of the board, will accept it.

University of Iowa alumni and officials have been invited to join with Minnesota alumni at the yearly Homecoming alumni banquet which will be served in Coffman Union immediately after the dedication. E. B. Pierce, alumni secretary, is broadcasting through the press a general invitation for Minnesota and Iowa graduates to attend the banquet.

PLAYFUL LIGHTNING STRIKES AT DAWSON

Dawson — Although doing no considerable damage to anyone or any place, a mischievous bolt of freak lightning, no doubt in search of a little fun, visited Dawson one night recently, striking a wooden flagpole and following the aerial to the radio when it turned inside out. A portion of the bolt followed a second aerial across the street where it burned out the radio and telephone, removed insulation from the wire, and created a small blaze on the wall cabinet of a barber shop. Skipping gaily about town, it burned out phones in two grocery stores, set flames to curtains and a window shade in a hotel room, scorched the woodwork and burned off a light wire on a bed lamp a block from where the bolt first struck. Completing its rounds, the lightning put the phone out of commission and burned out a utility switch at the back of the stage in the Dawson theater.

Glass Ventilators

Glass ventilators have an important place in every room in the house, bringing comfort and tending to preserve the health of the occupants. These inconspicuous protectors are readily attached and reasonably priced. They permit the passage of sufficient air without drafts, save wear and tear on curtains as well as reducing laundry expense.

THRONGS FILL AUDITORIUM TO HEAR STASSEN

CITES ACHIEVEMENTS OF PAST TWO YEARS

Urges Support for Wendell Willkie's Presidential Candidacy

Addressing a capacity audience in the municipal Auditorium Saturday evening, Governor Harold E. Stassen reviewed the record of the state administration during the past two years, and asked his hearers to support his candidacy for reelection, as well as to vote for Wendell Willkie, Republican nominee for president of the United States.

Declaring that he had remained independent of domination by any group, the governor asserted that accomplishments of his first term included the taking of corruption out of the capitol and the collection of a quarter million dollars taken on improper and illegal contracts; stopping of deficits and debt increases, including an $8,000,000 reduction in the state debt during the past two years; and elimination of politics in the relief and welfare programs.

Mr. Stassen answered the charge made by his opponents that he had vetoed a bank tax bill as a favor to the large banks by saying he had vetoed it because it would have cut bank tax collections in half. Following his veto, he said, an agreement was worked out whereby the state collected $400,000 more than the original law would have brought in.

He called attention to the successful operation of the state labor relations act, stating that only one-fifth as much time had been lost on account of strikes since its enactment as in any year of recent previous administrations.

Pointing out that eleven counties in the state had been unable to pay their share of the mounting cost of old-age assistance, he defended the lien law as providing a means of encouraging children to aid in caring for their aged parents. He also spoke in support of the small loan law, which, he declared, meets opposition mainly from the former loan sharks who had collected interest charges and fees at the rate of 300 to 400 per cent a year.

In closing, the governor discussed briefly the national presidential campaign, stating that while there were good as well as bad features of the New Deal, true Democrats had turned away from President Roosevelt in his third term aspirations. Wendell Willkie, he said, is tolerant and fair and a real American, and will best serve the interests of the nation during the coming four years.

Paul A. Lundgren, Pennington county Republican chairman, opened the meeting with a brief talk in which he paid tribute to the county Republican women for their activities in the current campaign. H. M. Hitterdal sang "God Bless America", accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Warren J. Hanson, following which Mr. Lundgren turned the meeting over to Newell Johnson of Bemidji, Ninth district chairman, who introduced Governor Stassen after a brief address by Colvin G. Butler of Fergus Falls, Republican candidates for Ninth district congressman.

Also participating in the evening's activities were the Lincoln high school band and the Red Lake Falls high school band which had accompanied Governor Stassen's party to this city. The governor was honor guest at a dinner meeting in the Evelyn hotel preceding the Auditorium program. Present were Republican county officers from throut the district, 75 in all. Newell Johnson presided as toastmaster.

A group of forty county commissioners and members of welfare boards from Northwestern Minnesota counties were guests Friday at an open house program at the Middle River CCC camp, Captain Arne Stenslie and C. S. Rondestvedt, state supervisor of CCC selection, acting as hosts.

In the course of the day the party was escorted on a fifty-mile tour of the Mud Lake game reserve, where CCC youths are engaged in constructing roads, building a ranger's cottage and other projects. Also inspected were the homes of C. B. Vogen, in charge of the reserve, and his assistant, Bob Forder.

Returning to the camp, the group enjoyed a turkey dinner, following which an inspection tour was made of the camp buildings, including the mess hall and kitchen, supply department, hospital, recreation center, education building, movie theatre and dormitories.

At the close of the afternoon a series of brief talks explanatory of various features of camp life were given by Captain Stenslie; Roy Jorgenson, in charge of the CCC field area; Captain W. W. Nichols, in charge of the mess and canteen; and Dr. E. G. Trytten, camp physician. A. KALINOWSKI FIRST DRAWN IN PENNINGTON

Questionnaires to be Sent Out to Registrants Shortly

To Aloyus Kalinowski, whose home address is at St. Hilaire, goes the distinction of being the first Pennington county young man to have his number drawn Tuesday noon in the national selective service draft lottery in Washington. His number, 158, was the first to be drawn by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson.

The first half-dozen numbers drawn affecting this county included those held by Klemens Gigstad, St. Hilaire, serial number 192; Floyd Canfield, city, 105; Carl A. Johnson, city, 188; Lawrence G. Helgeland, city, 120; and Eldred D. Johnston, city, 846. Other names drawn appear elsewhere in this issue of the Times, the list to be completed in subsequent issues of the Times.

As soon as the master list of lottery numbers is received from Washington headquarters, the county draft board will send out questionnaires to the registrants at the rate of fifty a day. These, when filled out by the registrant, will give detailed information as to his status and his claims, if any, for deferred classification.

It was announced that questionnaires must be filled out completely before being turned in to the draft board, and that, if any assistance is needed, it may be obtained from members of the advisory board now being organized by H. O. Berve, who was appointed last week to serve on the district board.

Within 18 days, on November 18, the first 30,000 men are scheduled to be in camp for a year of training, which will be the beginning, of 15 years in the United States reserve forces for [illegible] of them.

Before next March, the army intends to have called a total of 400,000 and by June 15, 800,000. Under the law, 900,000 additional can be called each year until the conscription act expires May 15, 1945.

Not every one called up, of course, will be ordered to actual service. National headquarters expects that 12,000,000 will be deferred because of their jobs, families or lack of fitness, leaving approximately 5,000,000 available for army duty.

Drawing of master numbers in Washington Tuesday determines the order in which each draft board will call its men. Naturally, not all boards have the same number of registrants, so each board

Group Leaders Enjoy Luncheon Session; Discuss Plans for 1941

Group leaders and township chairmen of Pennington County home project groups enjoyed a noon luncheon together at the Civic and Commerce rooms at the City Auditorium last Friday. Representatives from the 28 organized home project groups in the county met for a brief business meeting preceding the luncheon at which Mrs. S. E. Hunt, North township, was elected chairman for the coming year; and Mrs. Freeman Allen, Smiley township, was elected secretary.

Considerable interest was also expressed on the part of everyone present in investigating the possibilities of securing a home demonstration agent in Pennington County. The group also went on record as favoring the continuation of the nutrition project in the county this next year with emphasis to be placed on consumer buying. It was also strongly urged that an attempt should be made to secure a specialist's assistance to conduct a series of meetings on landscaping plans and home beautification this next spring.

The afternoon program was presided over by Mrs. A. V. Dahlstrom of St. Hilaire, retiring county home and community chairman. Mrs. V. C. Noper directed the singing of a number of original songs contributed by a few home project workers. Brief summaries of last year's project were presented by representatives of the four training centers in the county: Mrs. Frank Bible of Thief River Falls I, Mrs. A. C. Matheson of Thief River Falls II; Mrs. Earl Jensen of St. Hilaire, and Miss Ethel Parnow of Goodridge. Miss Parnow also presented two solos.

Lester Lerud, county agent, presented a brief summary of the county, and Howard E. Grow, former county agent reviewed the home project work and discussed a number of gardening problems. Miss Inez Hobart, nutrition specialist from the agricultural extension service, presented observations as to the value of the nutrition work that has been conducted, and outlined the plans for next year's home project work.

Auxiliary Notes

Twenty years ago at the National Convention in Kansas City, the Auxiliary pledged itself in the preamble adopted at the convention, to participate in and contribute to the accomplishments of the aims and purposes of the American Legion. This body of women associated with the Legion would find a field for the effort and usefulness which they craved. Today, the year 1940 finds the Auxiliary a necessary part of the American Legion. A steady stream of eligible members have enrolled. They have at all times and under all conditions, been of inestimable value to the Legion and created a single unifying organization to perpetuate their deep interest and give it a means of expression.

The Auxiliary is nearing the one-half million mark—a noble band of women who have been an inspiration to all who learn of their accomplishments. The foundation of all the activities, and the one on which they depend is membership.

We enter another year revitalized and reunited. We have won the respect and support of many more of the citizens by our unselfish work for our country. More women than ever have been convinced that their membership in the American Legion Auxiliary is not only an honor but a great benefit to them.

Remember, our aim is to be over top by November 1. So if one of our membership committee has not called on you yet, you may call Mrs. Ward Long and she will see that some one does within the next few days. Or, you may bring your dues down to the next meeting.

Auxiliary meeting will be this evening (Thursday) at 8 o'clock. All Auxiliary members are welcome.

REGISTRANTS ARE ADVISED BY STATE DRAFT DIRECTOR

Nelson Says They Must Keep in Touch with Local Draft Board

Minnesota selective service registrants Tuesday were warned by Colonel Joseph E. Nelson, state director of selective service, to be on watch for their official notice of their order numbers and questionnaires and to keep in constant touch with their local draft boards.

With the drawing of order numbers in Washington, the second phase of the plan to induct 800,000 men between 21 and 36 into military service was completed, so far as the preparations went.

From now on, the major activity will take place in the states, local draft boards and among the registrants.

The first step will be the mailing out to all registrants the order in which their numbers were drawn in the lottery.

The second, and this will in many instances accompany the first, will be the sending of questionnaires to registrants. Those whose numbers were drawn early in the lottery will likely receive questionnaires along with their order numbers.

Registrants, however, are not relieved of responsibility in the proceedings at any point, Colonel Nelson said. Failure to receive a notice or questionnaire does not exempt the registrant from liability. That is why it is necessary to keep in touch with the draft boards.

Now You Tell One

A deer story with all the earmarks of a fish story is told by Russell Morse of Sacramento, Calif. He let his three companions go ahead when he was seized with a stomach ache and sat down to rest. He fell asleep and was awakened when a lizard slithered across his face. Startled, Moore sat up and saw a four-point buck slowly walking toward him. Without even getting up, the hunter raised his rifle for one shot and a perfect hit.

Former Miss Eileen Buoen Meets Tragic Death in Medina

When the drawing is complete, each board will have a full list of master numbers covering every number on the board's list, set down in the order in which they were drawn in Washington. Master numbers that do not apply to a board's list—being higher than the board's highest number—are simply ignored by that board.

This gives each board a list of numbers based on the master drawing which provides the order in which it will call each registrant for classification and possible service.

Quotas for the first call will be assigned to each draft board, and the board will simply keep calling registrants in the order of the master drawing list until it has certified that quota for service.

Naturally many of those whose numbers correspond with those drawn early at Washington likely will be classified in the second, third or fourth class and therefore will not be called for active service. Those in the first class will be the only ones called for training.

ANYBODY WANT A FEMALE BULL?

Preston—Newspapers have added much to the discomfort of various individuals by publishing in their columns unfortunate, embarrassing incidents which happen periodically to people. However, here's one on a newspaper. The Preston Republican ran this ad recently: "FOR SALE: Heifer bull calf, 18 months old. Very good calf —" and proceeded with the name of the owner, etc. First to call the office the morning after publication was Chris Evenrud of Preston who, in a disguised voice, said he was an agent for Barnum and Bailey and desired to know where to get in touch with the farmer who owned the "heifer bull". For the benefit of those who want the matter cleared up, the word "heifer" should have read "Hereford".

Removing Egg White

It's most annoying when you put raw white of egg away for future use and then find it dried and stuck to the dish. Most directions for washing recommend cold water, but you will find that it is ineffective, that the egg white can only be removed by scraping off. However, if you use boiling water, the dried albumen will come off quite easily. It will harden as in hard boiled eggs, and peel right off.

Lorraine Bucholz Weds

The Bethel Lutheran church was the scene of a lovely wedding Sunday afternoon, Oct. 27, when Miss Lorraine Bucholz, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bucholz was united in marriage to Harold Finney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Finney of St. Vincent, with a single ring ceremony. The church, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with peach and white streamers, witnessed the first wedding to be performed within its walls. The attendants were Fay Bucholz, sister of the bride and Willis Finney, a brother of the groom. The bridal party entered the church from the rear to the music of Lohengren's wedding march played by Mrs. Bauman and proceeded to the altar, where the vows were exchanged, Rev. Bauman officiating. Preceding the rites Jean Bucholz sanag "Oh Perfect Love" accompanied by Mrs. Bauman.

The bride chose for her wedding a beautiful afternoon dress of light navy ribbed crepe with matching accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses, white spirea and sweetpeas accented with fern. The bridesmaid wore a street length dress of bright blue alpaca crepe with black accessories and she wore a corsage which matched the bride's bouquet.

Following the wedding about 30 guests including the wedding party, the pastor and his family and relatives were entertained at a wedding dinner at the Fred Bucholz home. The young couple plan to make their home near St. Vincent, where the groom is engaged in farming and we join their many friends to wish them lifelong happiness.

WAR VETERAN STILL UNDER 36; REGISTERS

Elgin William Allen Post of Plainview is unique in that it has a member who is registered in the present draft although he saw active service during the World War. Only 12 years old when the United States entered the World War, he waited until he was 16, being then large enough to pass the military age limit and got by to enlist for service in the war. Still under 25, he was in somewhat of a quandary when he registered, wondering what the military authorities would say when they found he had stretched his age so strenuously his previous enlistment.

The New Leaders America Needs
CHARLES L. McNARY
America cries out desperately for new leadership. Nine millions of men are unemployed, here in the richest nation in the world. Six and a half million farmers are struggling in vain for a fair return for their labors. We have the means, here in this boundless America, to provide the jobs needed for our workers and the markets needed for our farmers, if we will only release the chains that have shackled private enterprise under the New Deal and give America a chance to go ahead.
In this crisis, two outstanding leaders present themselves as candidates of the Republican Party for President and Vice President with faith that the nation can meet this challenge and provide jobs for our unemployed workers and parity for our farmers:
WENDELL L. WILLKIE, who has risen from jobs as a harvest hand in Minnesota, worker in steel mills and a tool dresser in oil fields and who says that America can and must be preserved as a land of opportunity.
CHARLES L. McNARY, life-long friend of the farmer, who is fighting for a cause that at last has a chance for attainment under Wendell Willkie—justice for the farmer.
Here are two men who have faith in America. Here are two men whose feet are firmly rooted in the soil—men who have worked with their hands, men who own farms and know that America can prosper only as the men and women who toil prosper. No desire for personal power stirs them. No ambition to meddle in the affairs of other nations or get involved in Europe's wars will ever be charged to them. No scheme for a third term to set aside the processes of democracy and prepare the way for a dictatorship can be expected from these men. Rather they seek to keep America at peace and preserve the liberties and opportunities which have enabled sons and daughters of every land, with equal chance, to find here a richer and more satisfying existence. America, they say, must be kept a land where every boy and girl has a chance.
SENATOR SHIPSTEAD Says:
"This is the most important election in our nation's history, and we must carry the state for Willkie and McNary.
"The challenge of the third term goes to the very roots of our American system of representative government. I am opposed to a third term for any President."
GOVERNOR STASSEN Says:
"Wendell Willkie is fair and friendly to the workingmen and the farmers. He will rely on the advice of that outstanding friend of the farmers, Senator McNary. I feel from my personal discussions with Wendell Willkie that he will prove to be a real friend of the farmer. He believes that it is just as important for the farmer to make a profit as it is for the business man and will help bring about this desirable end."

THE CAMPAIGN DRAWS TO A CLOSE

Just a few more days now and another great national political campaign will draw to a close. Monday night will bring an end to the oratory. On Tuesday citizens will go to the polls and express their preferences. If the election is close it may be several days before the results will be known. If it is one-sided the results will be known Wednesday morning.

In many respects this election is of more than ordinary importance. It comes at a time when the world is in turmoil, and there will be world-wide interest in the results. To the people of our own country there are important national issues involved, several of them that may be of far-reaching significance.

For the first time in the history of the nation the question of whether or not a President shall serve more than two terms will be placed squarely before the voters. Tradition opposes it and the great leaders of America have advised against it, several of them having refused to have their names presented for a third term. Those who now favor a third term argue that there is an emergency and that it would be unwise to change leadership at this time.

Government efficiency and the rapidly increasing debt are issues. Administration supporters defend the record on humanitarian grounds. Opponents argue that continued borrowing and spending can lead only to greater suffering, that the inevitable day of reckoning will bring more, rather than less, distress, and that we can make permanent progress only by policies and practices that are financially sound.

Involved in the argument are the farm problem, the relief problem and the unemployment problem, all just as much alive as they were four years ago. Except as they are involved in the general problem of sound financial practices, however, they are not direct issues in the campaign. Nor is the war a major issue, both candidates being agreed that we should give all possible aid, short of actual participation in the war, to nations being oppressed by dictators.

This, in general, outlines the argument. And on these issues the nation, unfortunately, is divided to some extent by classes. Business men, big and little, are fairly unanimous in their opposition to Roosevelt. Labor quite generally favors him. Agriculture is the only group that, as a class, may be said to be divided. It is the farm vote, as we see it, that will determine the result.

Reviewing briefly our own views, we favor Willkie because we believe the election of Roosevelt for another four years will needlessly prolong the depression. We can see no hope of recovery under Roosevelt's leadership. Except for the present spurt of industrial activity caused by military preparations, there has been no progress toward recovery as a result of seven years of Roosevelt. Neither the farm nor the unemployment problems have been solved. Stimulants have been administered and are being administered, but we cannot live on stimulants and the more of them we take the more painful will be the sobering up process.

The only hope for recovery in this country, unless we change our form of government completely, must come through private enterprise. We have had a great public works program. In the construction of public buildings we are many years ahead of a normal development. We have built those buildings and enjoyed the advantages of that building program, but we have not yet paid for them. From a utility standpoint they may be reckoned as an asset but from a financial standpoint they are a liability that will retard future development. The only hope for future development and expansion must come through private enterprise.

And in the interests not only of business, but of labor and agriculture as well, private enterprise must be encouraged. Ours is described as a profit system. That is not strictly true. It is more accurate to say it is a hope-of-profit system. It is by the hope of profit that private capital is induced to venture forth into the channels of trade, to explore new fields, and to replace the obsolete with modern equipment. When capital goes to work, labor is employed and pay checks go into circulation. Improved methods reduce costs and expand markets. It is the way and the means by which we have made progress in the past. It is the means by which we can be most sure of progress in the future.

To find a solution for the farm problem, under present world conditions, is less easy, and Willkie offers no more than Roosevelt except as agriculture will benefit indirectly by industrial expansion and a sound government financial policy. But Willkie offers no less than Roosevelt either for the owner of the family size farm. Until a better farm program is found, the present one will be continued, is his assurance.

American business has confidence in Willkie and mistrusts Roosevelt. Willkie has the endorsement of prominent labor leaders and if he is elected labor will have a voice in government. Prominent leaders of agriculture are supporting Willkie, and McNary is a proven friend of the farmer. We believe there is a better chance of securing a united front in America during the next four years under the leadership of Willkie than there would be if Roosevelt were re-elected. That is why we favor Willkie.

As for the argument that the emergency makes it unwise to change leaders, we have the example of England doing that very thing under far more trying circumstances and with good results. Englishmen today are united as they never were united before. All classes have a voice in the government, directed by a man in whom all classes have confidence. That is what we need in America and that is impossible under Roosevelt.

We know that on these questions there is a vast difference of opinion. And those who differ are sincere in their differences. On Tuesday the opinions of the individual citizens will be expressed and the wishes of the majority will determine the result. Let us hope that, whichever way the election goes, time will prove that the majority spoke wisely.

Indications point to a rather one sided result in the state election next Tuesday. It will be surprising indeed if the Stassen administration does not receive a splendid endorsement from the voters. And such an endorsement will be no reflection on Hjalmar Petersen, Stassen's leading opponent, for whom we have much respect. But Stassen has done well as governor and is deserving of a second term.

A mind without memory is impotent. Yet, almost anyone will confess a poor memory; no one will admit he has a poor mind.

Whether an insincere person should be condemned for his insincerity depends upon what kind of person he would be if he were sincere.

Topics of the Times

By N. A. H.

We never expected to live to see the day when John L. Lewis and Wendell Willkie would become political bedfellows.

Mother Nature should be all puffed up over the praise she has received for the brand of fall weather Northern Minnesota has enjoyed.

Last week was observed, among other ways, as National Noise Abatement Week, but candidates for office didn't co-operate noticeably.

President Roosevelt said in 1922 that there is no indispensable man. And we heartily agree with him on that point in 1940.

This country surely is the land of promise, says our Minnesota colleague after listening to a series of political broadcasts.

Patriotic folks who want something to worry about might give their attention to a prospective halt in the supply of Chinese firecrackers for the next Fourth of July.

We are broadminded enough to concede that both major political parties include the rank and file, but it does seem at times that the New Dealers are a bit ranker.

You are mistaken, dear reader. The D in FDR doesn't stand for deficit.

1930—TEN YEARS AGO

Land O'Lakes Creameries will donate the turkey which the Commercial club will present to President Hoover for the White House Thanksgiving dinner, it was announced by John Brandt.—Members of the Elks lodge voted unanimously to present to the city the Elks park property abutting on the river near the Soo depot. The beautiful park was formerly a dump-ground.—Mrs. P. W. Mabey left for Santa Barbara, California, for an extended visit at the home of her mother.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elofson of Minneapolis visited relatives here.—Hans Hoff, street commissioner here for ten years, passed away.

1920— TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dan R. Maue, formerly of Monticello, assumed the post of Times reporter.—Robert McGlinn was elected president of the Pennington County Bankers association at its annual convention attended by 25 representatives of the ten banks in the county.—The local Legion post made arrangements for a special train to carry members to Bemidji for an Armistice Day observance.

1,386,000 ALIENS ARE REGISTERED BY JUSTICE DEPT.

Receipt Cards Being Mailed to Those Complying with Law

The department of justice today announced that the alien registration division had received 1,386,679 completed registration forms through Friday, September 27. This total represents receipts from 27 registration days and an average of 51,300 registrations per day.

Earl G. Harrison, director of registration, expressed satisfaction at the way the completed blanks continue to pour in. The director also took occasion to point out that the postal officials in the field were doing a careful and accurate job in conducting the actual registration.

"Our daily average of completed forms received," said Mr. Harrison, "is now 51,300. This is 15,300 daily forms above 36,000 average per day which we estimated should be maintained in order to complete registration of the estimated total number of aliens in this country at present.

"As the forms come in and are counted, they are immediately checked to make certain that they conform in each instance with the law."

Mr. Harrison also announced that this week the first large match of receipt cards were mailed to registered aliens as evidence of their compliance with the alien registration act.

A "Small Family" Problem

"Where's Peggy?" her grandmother asked, as she came in and found Peggy's mother setting the table for dinner—a task usually performed by the sixteen year old.

"She's up in her room, crying her eyes out," answered her mother. "They settled on the cast for the play today, and she was given a very minor part. You know she'd set her heart on playing the leading part."

"Why, that's an outrage!" exclaimed Grandmother. "Who'd they give it to? There's no one who comes up to Peggy for talent. There must have been some favoritism or skulduggery somewhere! I'm going right up and see if I can't comfort her a little. I think it's a burning shame!"

Now of course grandmother may be right. Peggy may have loads of talent, and may have deserved to have been given a chance to shine in the leading part. On the other hand, there's a possibility that the love with which both women feel for the child has made them see her under such a dazzling halo that they fail to realize she's much like other youngsters of her age. It's fine for them to have a belief in her ability, but it's not so good if they have an over-inflated idea, and "build her up" at home so much that she is disappointed when she doesn't cut such an important figure at school.

Peggy belongs to one of those two-child families that are so common nowadays. Sometimes such children pay a rather severe penalty for something that's not their fault. When parents have six or eight children, of even four or five, their interest is spread out so that they don't expect each one to be a marvel of intelligence, or looks, or athletic ability. But when the family is small, parents and grandparents may concentrate their love and pride too such an extent that the children find it hard to live up to what's expected.

The fact that only children tend to get slightly better marks in school than children with brothers and sisters probably isn't wholly due to the fact that they are less distracted by multitudinous activities going on around them. It perhaps reflects somewhat the pressure of parents who have one ewe lamb to insist that that one child outdo his fellow students. Parental pride tends to make them see to it that this one child does his home work assiduously.

With two parents, and four grandparents (and perhaps a couple of uncles and aunts to boot) all concentrating on one or two children, too high standards of accomplishment may easily be set up, which result in discouragement and disappointment, as in the case of Peggy, over things that youngsters ought to be able to take in their stride.

W. F. SCHILLING OF NORTHFIELD CALLS AAA PROGRAM O. K.

Former Farm Board Member Addresses Meeting in Auditorium

W. F. Schilling of Northfield, former member of President Hoover's federal farm board, addressed a small audience in the Auditorium Wednesday evening in the course of a campaign tour in behalf of the reelection of President Roosevelt for a third term. He was introduced by V. C. Noper.

"The New Deal farm program," Mr. Schilling said, "is not a program of scarcity in any sense of the term, as is pictured by its opponents. It is instead a far-seeing program of abundance, thoughtfully supervised by a prudent government, but under the direct domination of the farmers themselves in states, districts, counties, and, yes, even down to the very townships as well.

"The selection of the men who make this present program function is in the hands of the farmers themselves and in every case selections have been made without even a thought of politics. The farmers have confidence in President Roosevelt and Mr. Wallace and know that under their leadership the farm program will continue to advance."

Where there's a will, there is always a couple of lawyers.

Report Violations of School Bus "Stop" Law

Several reports recently have reached Elden Rowe, chief of the state highway patrol, complaining that motorists have failed to comply with the law which requires them to come to a full stop when meeting or overtaking a school bus which is loading or unloading pupils, and not proceed until the loading or unloading operation is completed. In announcing receipt of the complaints, Chief Rowe warned motorists that the law is on the statute books and must be complied with.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

By Ferd B. Elstad

The recreation program is sponsored by the city council in cooperation with Work Projects Administration recreation leaders.

Arena Gymnasium

Boxing and wrestling aspirants making use of the gym are asked to equip themselves with the proper gym clothes. Shoes, trunks, a towel, soap and other material should be furnished. Boomerangs were made this week in what approached mass production. Reports from the children indicate the article works well. Bow guns and pistols are also being made in large quantities. More boys are asked to sign up for the Junior Craftsmen's Club which is being organized at the present time.

Arena Recreation Center

Basketball has been introduced at the center. Two baskets have been set up on either side of the arena floor. SPORTS Tid-Bits

Activities in Sports Arena

Doc Elstad, city recreation supervisor, has arranged a varied sports program for the arena. Harvey Egenes and Pied Langevin are in charge of the first floor games, which includes volleyball, table tennis, indoor tennis, basketball, and other group games. On the second floor is a gymnasium, with Rex Johnson and Duane Battelson as instructors, and here bag punching, wrestling and boxing, will be available for those that are interested in these sports. Rex has planned on organizing a wrestling team, and he would like to have all the youths that are interested in trying out for the team to report to him. Matches will be held with teams from other towns in this vicinity. In fact, Harold Stroble at Warren has already organized a wrestling squad, and he's around looking for team matches.

Basketball in an informal way is being played on the first floor of the arena, but it is expected that these baskets will be transferred to the Auditorium, and then a four or six team city basketball league will be formed. There are enough competent basketball players in town to form such a league, if interest in such a league can be generated.

Labo Safro, one-time professional bag puncher and now a game warden with headquarters at Warren, in a conversation with Dr. Hulbert stated that he was willing to appear once or twice a week at the arena and give instruction to those that are interested in bag punching. And he should be able to give this instruction, because for many years he was considered the country's ranking bag puncher.

Frank Deagle to the Saints

Frank Deagle, defense man with the local hockey team during the 1935-36 season, and later with the Hibbing Monarchs, is being given a try out with the St. Paul team of the American Association, and according to reports he has a fine chance of making the team.

Bowling

John Langseth broke all league records last week when he bowled games of 221, 234, and 204, for a 659 total. Morry Howick, bowling a practice game, came within one strike of a perfect game, getting eleven strikes. He had eight strikes in a row, had a blow in the ninth frame, and then struck out, for a 261 game. Leo Aanstad bowling against the Jack Sprats in the Business league last Tuesday night had eight strikes in a row, too. Leo had a 41 in the fourth frame and then he slammed home eight strikes, for a 231 game.

Ames Pederson gets Ducks

Last Saturday, Ames, who is known as P. I. to the boys around town, and his brother Ira, and another hunter, came home with their limit of mallards. And I know because I saw the ducks. He was pretty secretive about where they had been shooting; but it was out in some barley field, and they had dug pits and used decoys. The only definite information I got from P. I. was that the wind was blowing from the southeast where they were shooting. But that doesn't tell one very much because it was southeast wind all over last Saturday. It's perhaps around the Mud lake refuge someplace that Ames has his duck shooting grounds.

The hunting at Thief lake last Sunday was fair to poor. Too many hunters, and the strong wind from southeast being two of the causes for the poor hunting.

JOHN L. LEWIS IN SPEECH SUPPORTS WENDELL WILLKIE

Promises to Resign as CIO Chief If Its Members Repudiate Him

The Roosevelt administration struck back Saturday at John L. Lewis' denunciation of the New Deal and support of Wendell Willkie while evidence piled up that a deep political schism had developed in the CIO itself.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said Lewis had "chosen to go down the lonely road." Many CIO leaders, Early declared, had "repudiated" Lewis' stand in messages to President Roosevelt.

Secretary of State Hull said that Lewis was "100 per cent wrong in his effort to prejudice the American people by the baseless charge that President Roosevelt is seeking to get this nation into war."

Lewis, who supported President Roosevelt in the 1936 election, said in his radio address Friday night that if Willkie was defeated he would consider it a "no confidence" manifestation by the CIO membership and would give up his leadership of the organization.

The highway follows old Sixth avenue N., from Seventh street to the city limits. PUBLIC OPINION

Dear Editor:

You and your readers will no doubt appreciate to know something about the progress of the Lake Traverse-Bois de Sioux project. This project is a part of the Red River Water Conservation program. While the advantage of this project will not affect us up north directly, except for those who depend upon the Red River for water-supply, yet, there is the important factor of water conservation, the value of which is becoming more and more important.

Indirectly the benefits of any one such project is beneficial to large areas. Minnesota and our neighboring states are just becoming conscious of the tremendous importance of water conservation. Water and soil are the two greatest of our natural resources. We have too long just taken for granted that our water supply and our soil are inexhaustible. We have permitted ourselves to lavishly drain both of them. Our great creator has given us in this section of the country a veritable garden. Our natural resources are immeasurable. Since the lake Traverse Bois de Sioux project is an important link in an important program, we too are happy because of the progress made.

The said project is roughly a $1,500,000.00 project. It consists of two major dikes with water control dams. These dirt dykes are some three miles in length. The southern one, just below lake Traverse is built across the valley where highway 117 crosses. The other, at the old historic White Rock Dam site which is about four miles south of White Rock village. Included in this project is also a river channel project which will extend northward to within about six miles of Breckenridge.

As all the Red River basin projects effect more or less all of the three states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, our Federal Government works with and through the one legal tri-state Water Commission. The meeting of the Commission at Wheaton last Monday, Oct. 21 was the tenth regular meeting. A large attendance was evident. The Red Lake River Flood Control Association sent five delegates. They were: Sen. E. L. Tungseth, Nels Fore, Eddie Arveson, Carsten Mead and Albert Anderson. The latter four are all directors of our association, and I, as you know, have been serving as its president.

It is to be regretted that so many of our projects will suffer delay because of the attention which our Federal government now must necessarily give to national military preparedness. The Red Lake-Clearwater-Thief River project is still waiting for its first report to be completed in the U. S. District engineer's office at St. Paul. However we may rest assured that our good friend Major Moreland, who has charge of the St. Paul office is doing everything as speedily as possible with the trained force now available there. We are planning to have general meeting for our project some time later this Fall.

Sincerely,
E. L. Tungseth

Editor Times:

In the Thief River Falls Times of October 3, 1940 headed "Public Opinion", was data concerning the supposed "Big Four". The four men listed were: Mussolini, Stalin, Hitler and Roosevelt. By using the dates when these men were born, when they came into power, years of power, and their respective ages, a certain reader figured out the year to be 1940, and captioned the data thusly: Does the End of this year mean the end of the Big Four?

The reader was born in 1905; Started his or her profession in 1930; Has been working at this job for 10 years; and is 35 years of age. Total 3880 divided by 2 and you have the year 1940.

Does this mean the end of you, dear Reader?

The above was an assumption on my part but here is my personal data: Born 1922; Started high school 1937; Have been in high school 3 years; Age 18. Total 3880, divided by 2, 1940.

According to this mystic formula, (which we know is only kindergarten stuff) 1940 would mean the end of me. However, I'm not a bit worried!

I am proud of our nation and our great leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Senior in St. Hilaire High School.

CAPTURE EAGLE WHILE HUNTING FOR PHEASANTS

Luverne—Harley Sherwood and F. O. Tessem, both of Luverne, got an extra thrill when hunting recently when they came upon a huge eagle which was unable to rise from a corn field because of its wings being entangled in the corn. Sherwood threw his jacket over the bird, capturing it alive, but it managed to escape before they got it to the car. Both men shot at it, wounding it so that it was recaptured. Sherwood now has the bird in a cage.

Christmas Trees Now Being Cut in Minnesota

"Christmas Tree Capital of the World" is the title claimed by the Big Falls community in the heart of Koochiching County. Hundreds of men are busily engaged in the Christmas tree industry centering in St. Louis, Itasca, Aitkin, Carlton and Koochiching counties.

Processing of the trees centers in Duluth. Trees are treated, to keep the needles from dropping, sprayed with colored paint and refrigerated for the holiday trade. Many hundreds of women and girls are employed part-time making wreaths and Yuletide ornaments.

HITCHHIKER GETS FREE RIDE TO JAIL

Breckenridge—After failing to stop cars by the usual thumb method, William Bjerke of Breckenridge, en route home to Fargo, N. D., hit upon what he considered a novel idea. Picking up a handful of rocks, he would flag a car and if they refused to stop, he showered the car with rocks. The method worked for Sheriff Fitzgerald of Breckenridge, after receiving a complaint from motorists, arrived on the scene just as Bjerke was about to heave a six pound rock at the sheriff's car. Bjerke was provided with free transportation to the Breckenridge jail.
